CAPTURE OF VILLA NEAR, ASSERTION OF GENERAL

Bandit Leader Said to Be Surrounded by the Constitutionalists, Is Mexico City Report

MURDER OF FIFTY LATEST ACCUSATION

Attitude of Carranza Is Cause of Belief That He Will Ask Troops Quit and Come Home

MEXICO CITY, April 6.—General Gutierrez reported to the war department today that the capture of Francisco Villa within a very short time was certain. He said Constitutionalist forces were again reported to have surrounded Villa.

It also is reported that a combined force of Constitutionalist troops from the State of Jalisco, Aguas Calientes and Zacatecas is closing on General Bracamontez, who, with a large force of Villa cavalry, has been located near Guchipila in Southern Zacatecas.

LAREDO, Texas, April 6.—Fifty persons, including women and children, were murdered by bandits between Torreon and Zacatas March 23, when the marauders wrecked the train on which they were riding, according to word brought here today by passengers.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Secretary Lansing today flatly denied that there was any ground whatever for the reports that the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico is being contemplated.

In some quarters there was a strong inclination to connect the de facto government's apparent delay in permitting the use of the railroad for the shipment of supplies to the United States forces with a desire of General Carranza to have the American soldiers leave Mexican soil.

It is understood that Carranza officials on the border have made informal inquiries as to how much longer the expedition will remain in Mexico and how far south it will penetrate.

Legally the American forces are now pursuing what is termed "a hot trail." No great surprise would be occasioned here if Carranza should suggest soon that the trail had become cold and should question the propriety of American troops proceeding much farther.

At Major-General Funston's request, the War Department today countermanded its orders for a squadron of the Fourth Field Artillery to proceed from Brownsville, Texas, to Panama. Funston desired the artillery to be retained at Brownsville.

ASKS FOR RECRUITS.

General Funston today asked the war department to send the recruits enlisted under the recent authorization of 20,000 additional men to Brownsville, Texas, for distribution among the border patrol regiments. The recruits are being assembled and drilled at recruiting stations at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, Columbus Barracks, Ohio, Fort Logan, Colo., and Fort McDowell, California. They will not be sent across the border, but will fill up regiments of the border guard.

SILENT ON RAILROADS.

Dispatches reporting continuing negotiations with General Carranza for use of the railways were received today from Special Agent John L. Rodgers at Queretaro. They indicate the question was still unsettled, but officials regarded the situation as favorable.

Secretary Lansing declined to say what progress had been made with General Carranza. The last official announcement was of submission by Carranza of several modifications. These apparently still are before the state department.

CARRANZA CONSUL FAVORS WITHDRAWAL

EL PASO, April 6.—Consul Garcia, representative of Carranza in El Paso, favors withdrawal of the United States army from Mexico.

In a statement issued today Garcia declared the army had accomplished its purpose of breaking Francisco Villa's strength and scattering his men.

"There is no necessity, in my opinion," said Garcia, "for the Americans to pursue the campaign any further."

There is no doubt here that Garcia's statement reflects the views of Carranza.

"Withdrawal of United States forces would not mean that Villa would gain prestige," continued Garcia. "His power is completely broken. The Mexicans realize Villa is defeated. But further progress of American forces into the interior might precipitate trouble.

"The expedition has gone far enough to accomplish punishment of the bandits who raided Columbus, therefore I believe it ought to withdraw. Mexicans realize the expedition's purpose and they appreciate that it has succeeded. If Villa had made a stand and defeated even a small force of Americans he might have become a popular hero, but defeated as he is,

NEW YORK, April 6.—An automobile called "The Golden Flier," in which Mrs. Alice S. Burke and Miss Nellie Richardson are to make a tour of the United States under the auspices of the National American Woman Suffrage Association was one of the features of the farewell tended to the travelers by leading suffragists here today.

Prominent members of the association suffrage party gathered at the suffragist headquarters and escorted Mrs. Burke and Miss Richardson in a parade to Columbus Circle, where Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the association, broke a bottle of gasoline over the radiator of "The Golden Flier" and gave it its name.

NIECE OF FORMER OAKLAND OFFICIAL ELOPES WITH YOUTH

Ralph Ward, 18, and Frances Bunnell, 15, Relative of A. H. Elliott, Married.

Youth, ever impatient with unhurried Time, stole a march on that old fellow yesterday, and a boy and a girl became husband and wife when Ralph Ward, 18 years old, and Frances Bunnell, 15, were married in San Francisco. Then, while the two were living the first part of their honeymoon at the home of friends across the bay, the police of Oakland and San Francisco sought them, at the request of the girl's mother, Mrs. S. A. Hunkin, 5315 Keith avenue, in a vain hope that the marriage ceremony might be stopped.

That ancient institution, the parental blessing, awaits the boy and girl upon their return to the Hunkin home.

PARENTS FORGIVE.

"Of course, I do not approve of this," Mrs. Hunkin said today. "But the marriage has taken place and I will not interfere with it. There will be no attempt made to have the ceremony annulled. My daughter and Ward and very, very foolish, but it was ever that way with impatient youth. They had been engaged for several months, but we wanted them to wait a while."

The girl wife is a member of an old and prominent family of Oakland and Berkeley and the niece of Albert H. Elliott, attorney and former Oakland city councilman. She is a student at the University high school. Ward is a clerk in a San Francisco business house, and has resided at the Hunkin home for more than two years.

CHILDHOOD ROMANCE.

It was a real boy and girl romance. The bride was just 13 years old when Ward, then 16, first met her. Another ancient institution, love at first sight—that which is so often read about but seldom seen—linked arms with the fate that ruled the future of the boy and girl.

The girl told her mother several months ago that she was engaged to marry Ward. The mother laughed and then became serious. She then consented, but asked that the wedding ceremony would not be performed before the two had reached their majorities.

NOTE DISCLOSES MARRIAGE.

Frances Bunnell did not go to her classes at the University high school yesterday morning. Ward did not go to work. They met by appointment instead and took an early train to San Francisco, were married, and returned to the Hunkin home together late yesterday afternoon. After remaining a few minutes the two again left, without leaving word with Mrs. Hunkin.

When Ward and the girl did not appear at the dinner table Mrs. Hunkin went to her room and found a note.

"Dear Mother," it read, "we are married, Ralph and I. We could not wait three years."

FOUND IN SAN FRANCISCO.

"I didn't know whether they had been married or not, so I notified the police," Mrs. Hunkin said. "My other daughter, Marian Bunnell, went out to look for them, thinking that they might be at the home of friends here, but did not find them. We have found them today, though. They are in San Francisco with friends. I know nothing of the particulars regarding the marriage."

"Will your daughter continue her studies in high school?" Mrs. Hunkin was asked.

"I don't know," she said. "That depends upon her desire in that matter."

Slaughter's Church Is Facing Split

CHICO, April 6.—Dissention in Rev. Madison Slaughter's church was foreseen here today, following an exciting prayer meeting at which the pastor, who faces a second trial on charge of attacking Gertrude Lamson, 15, was given control of the church's business.

At a prayer meeting Trustee H. O. Douglas introduced a resolution taking control of church business from the board of trustees and giving it to the advisory board, which is dominated by Slaughter. The measure was passed by a scattering vote, none casting ballots against it.

The step was declared illegal under the church by-laws by Deacon Charles McClard, leader of the few "insurgents" who still attend meetings.

"Never mine," said McClard, "there will be an accounting meeting of the whole church after court proceedings are ended, no matter what the final verdict may be. This church is not supporting Slaughter. Only a few members are. When the time comes all will return to oust Slaughter. I ousted his predecessor twenty years ago, and can also put him out."

HAUCOURT TAKEN BY GERMANS

French Claim Gains Offsetting Teuton Victory

Battle of Verdun Surpassing Ferocity of the Past

LONDON, April 6.—In a resumption of their Verdun offensive on a tremendous scale, the Germans have captured Haucourt, nine miles northwest of the citadel, official statements agreed today. This gain indicated that French batteries on hill No. 304, dominating Haucourt, were seriously damaged by the systematic German bombardment.

It was claimed the Germans suffered "frightful losses" in their desperate charges, which continued all night. Attempts to crush in the sides of the French salient by attacking Bethincourt and advancing through Avocourt woods were broken up.

"Sanguinary French losses" were mentioned in the official report of gains at Haucourt. The French attempt to recapture German conquered territory in Caliette forest failed.

BERLIN, April 6.—Haucourt has been captured by the Germans, official announcement said today. The village is ten miles northwest of Verdun. A French point of support east of the town was also taken. The Teutons took 542 prisoners.

PARIS, April 6.—Germans attacking Verdun reached Haucourt during the night in a series of terrific assaults northwest of the citadel, it was officially admitted today. The Teuton gain at Haucourt was declared to have been offset by an important French victory in Cares wood, which was entirely carried by soldiers of the republic. Fifty prisoners were taken.

The text of the communication follows:

"In the Argonne a surprise attack delivered by us this morning on one of the enemy's trenches near the highway of St. Hubert resulted in our inflicting perceivable loss on our adversaries and in bringing back some twenty prisoners.

"During this attack our artillery in the next sector violently bombarded that portion of the Avocourt woods occupied by the Germans.

"In the region of Verdun the enemy after the relative calm of yesterday evening gave evidence of great activity during the evening hours. As the night progressed there took place to the west of the Meuse a bombardment of extreme violence in the region between Avocourt and Bethincourt. This was followed by a series of attacks in which large numbers of men took part against the two principal salients of this front. All the efforts of the enemy against the village of Bethincourt were checked by our fire.

"During this same time the enemy delivered a furious attack on the center against the village of Haucourt. In spite of repeated checks and of bloody sacrifices, they were successful in getting a footing during the night in this village. We now hold the village under the fire of our dominating positions.

"On our side, after a short preparatory artillery fire, we delivered a spirited attack, our men coming out from the redoubt of Avocourt, their purpose being to connect this redoubt with one of our works situated on the boundary line of the wood north of Avocourt. During this operation, which was in all respects successful, we occupied a large portion of the territory known as Le Bois Carres and took fifty prisoners. East of the Meuse two enemy attacks north of the Caillette wood resulted only in serious losses to the Germans."

BRITISH STATEMENT.

LONDON, April 6.——The British official statement on the campaign in the west issued tonight follows:

"Last night we sprang mines successfully near Hulluch and damaged a hostile gallery and wrecked posts and in the old craters. Today we bombarded hostile works near Bois Grenier with good effect.

"About St. Elio the artillery of both sides was very active. North of the Ypres-St. Julien road our heavy artillery carried out a successful bombardment doing much damage to hostile trenches and causing numerous explosions."

ITALIAN STATEMENT.

ROME, April 6.—The following official communication was issued today:

"In the Trentino region and on the upper Adige there has been the customary artillery activity. In the Christillo zone Monday night, after intense artillery preparations, the enemy opened a fresh violent attack on our new positions on the Rauchkofel. The attack was repulsed with heavy losses and the enemy left some prisoners in our hands.

"On the upper and middle Isonzo front there has been an intense artillery duel. Enemy detachments attempted to break our line east of Podsabotino, but were thrown back and dispersed.

"Enemy airmen yesterday tried to reach Verona, but were promptly driven away. Other enemy aviators succeeded in throwing a few bombs on Bassano, killing two children. On the lower Isonzo and on the Laguna Grando similar aerial attempts were made and some bombs were thrown on hamlets. Our air squadrons drove the air attackers off. Two of the machines were seen to fall to the ground behind their lines."

ROCK KILLS MINER.

NEVADA CITY, April 6.—A falling rock in the Golden Central mine today killed William C. Browning, a workman, and seriously injured Mine Foreman William Harvey.

ZEPPS AND DIVERS ARE SUCCESSFUL

England Loss Is 55 Lives and Germans One Submarine

LONDON, April 6.—Raiding the east coast of England last night, a fleet of three German Zeppelins dropped forty bombs, killing one child, injuring five children, one woman and two men, the admiralty announced today.

Anti-aircraft batteries along the coast were warned in advance of the flotilla's approach. They greeted it with a hail of shrapnel. For fifteen minutes the land guns bombarded the raiders, until they were forced to flee seaward. The official announcement said that one of the three Zeppelins was hit. In its first statement the admiralty said only one Zeppelin made the attack. Later this report was withdrawn and it was said three dirigibles composed the raiding squadron.

Berlin reported that all three returned undamaged, although they were heavily shelled. The Berlin report also said:

"The raiders also attacked factories in Leeds and the surrounding region and several railroad stations in the industrial districts. Good effects were observed. The airships were shelled heavily. All returned undamaged."

QUEENSTOWN, April 6.—The British steamer Zent has been torpedoed without warning west of Fastnet. Forty-eight members of her crew are missing and are supposed to have been drowned. Two men were killed. Captain Martin and nine of the crew have been landed here.

PARIS, April 6.—A German submarine was sunk today by a squadron of French and British warships, the ministry of marine announced tonight. The crew of the submarine was captured.

LONDON, April 6.—Four sailors perished when an unidentified Norwegian merchantman was sunk in the English channel by torpedo or mine, it was learned today. Fourteen of the crew were saved.

SITUATION HINGES ON GERMANY'S ATTITUDE

WASHINGTON, April 6.—American embassy attaches who examined bronze fragments found in the wreckage of the channel steamer Sussex after it was damaged by an explosion off the French coast reported today that the splinters were pieces of a German torpedo. The findings were based on a comparison between the fragments and captured German torpedo parts.

The official report of these attaches tended to confirm fears that a severance of diplomatic relations might be unavoidable. The possibility of an international rupture was increased.

A comprehensive statement by President Wilson to Congress reviewing submarine operations from the Lusitania case to the Sussex case and giving America's position to the world.

Events beyond that point would depend on Germany. The administration has never received official intimation that a severance of relations would result in war. There have only been indirect intimations of that from high Germans.

The report of the French admiralty stating that a torpedo damaged the Sussex was not accepted as conclusive, but it is not expected that the attaches' official report, when made public, will differ greatly from it. The state department refused to divulge the text of the attaches' report.

President Wilson discussed with Secretary Lansing last night the situation growing out of the accumulation of evidence indicating that German submarines are responsible for the numerous recent marine disasters in which the lives of American citizens have been lost or endangered.

Dispatches containing the reports of naval attaches at London and Paris regarding the explosion which damaged the British steamer Sussex and other messages regarding the attacks upon the British steamer Berwindale and the bark Bengairn were before the president.

The administration considers that the entire situation now hinges upon Germany's attitude in regard to the Sussex and other vessels about which inquiries have been made. The official view was represented as being that it is for Germany to demonstrate the value of promises given to the United States.

British Announce Success in Felahie

LONDON, 5:20 p. m., April 6.—The town of Felahie, in Mesopotamia, has been captured by the British, it was announced officially today. All the positions gained have been consolidated and counter attacks by the Turks repulsed.

Felahie is in Mesopotamia, below Kut-El-Amara, where a British force under General Townsend is beleaguered. It has been the scene of several engagements between Turkish troops and the invading British forces.

This is the second victory of the British to be reported officially in the last two days.

$23,000,000 COAST DEFENSE BILL, LARGEST ONE IN AMERICAN HISTORY, INTRODUCED IN HOUSE

Big Guns for Bay Points Provided for in Measure

IS FIRST OF FOUR BILLS IN PROGRAM

Total of $34,290,050 Is Authorized if Found Necessary

WAR DEPARTMENT OUTLINE ACCEPTED

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The biggest appropriation for coast defenses and fortifications in American history was proposed today in a bill Representative Swager Shirley of Louisville, Ky., introduced.

His measure provides $31,997,050 for fortifications, submarine mines, field artillery and ammunition. It also authorizes the expenditure of $12,300,000 on munitions contracts.

Purchase of additional land at San Francisco and San Pedro to strengthen fortifications was recommended.

The House committee on fortifications today adopted the program of the War Department board of review, which just investigated fortification problems. It calls for six 16-inch guns, two of which will defend New York and four Cape Henry. The mounting of seven 12-inch guns upon Barbette carriages with equipment for high-angle fire, giving a range of 30,000 yards, is recommended for New York, Boston and either Portland or San Francisco.

Emplacement of fifty-four 3-inch anti-aircraft guns is advised at various fortified points.

IS FIRST OF FOUR BILLS.

This is the third great element of the national preparedness plan. It is the largest fortification bill ever reported and the first of four annual measures under which it is proposed to spend approximately $100,000,000 for increasing and modernizing the coast defenses, already officially declared to be superior to any in the world and to supply an ample store of reserve ammunition for the guns.

Included in the bill are provisions for mounting 16-inch direct-fire rifles to guard New York, Boston and San Francisco and other great cities from long range naval fire. Provision is almost made for mounting 12-inch rifles now in reserve so they will have a range of more than 30,000 yards, or fifteen sea miles. No ship could live within that distance of the guns. The plan will add 16-inch mortar batteries to the present 12-inch implaments because of the announced arms protection of modern battleships. In addition it provides for 16-inch mobile howitzers and 14-inch guns on railroad cars to defend points not protected by established forts.

In approving the bill the committee accepted almost without alteration the proposals of the War Department and the officers who have studied the subject of coast defense for years.

The bill carries appropriations of $23,306,183 and additional authorizations to reach a total of $24,299,060.

CANAL DEFENSE.

It is the first of the bills mapped out by former Secretary Garrison to cover a four-year program of expenditures, totaling $82,064,557 on the continental coast defenses and reserve material. The Panama canal defenses will add $13,995,000 to the project, reaching a grand total of $96,059,557. The committee cut down 1917 estimates $1,378,078. As the bill stands, however, it represents an increased expenditure over last year of $16,936,823.

As to reserve ammunition the report says:

"A review of the subject in the light of the European war caused the board to very greatly increase the amount of such reserve ammunition thought to be requisite and it has submitted this year an estimate of $8,000,000, with a contract authorization of $3,500,000 to be expended toward securing a new reserve. The committee has allowed in its entirety the estimate submitted, making an appropriation in effect of $8,500,000 for this purpose against the previous appropriations of $200,000."

The report shows that four of the new 16-inch guns will be emplaced at Cape Henry, Va.; two at Rockaway Beach, N. Y.; others at San Francisco and San Pedro, Cal., Long range 12-inch guns will go to New York, Boston and either Portland, Me., or San Francisco.

INDIANA WILL ELECT TWO SENATORS; WATSON NAMED

INDIANAPOLIS, April 6.—James E. Watson and Harry S. New were nominated for the United States Senate by acclamation at the Republican state convention today, Watson for the short term and New for the long term.

New will now oppose Senator John W. Kern. The Democratic convention will nominate Watson's opponent. O. C. Toner, Progressive, was nominated as one of the Republicans' "big four" to the national convention, but the state convention endorsing Charles W. Fairbanks is expected to bind him for the "favorite son."

Watson Served As Congressman

James Eli Watson was born in Winchester, Randolph county, Ind., November 2, 1864; was graduated from the Winchester high school in 1881; entered De Pauw university the same year and remained until 1886, when he returned home and took up the study of law. He was admitted to the bar in 1886. In 1892 he was a candidate on the Republican ticket for presidential elector.

He became a resident of Rushville, Ind., in 1893, and continued the practice of law. In 1894 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the office of Secretary of State. He was elected on the Republican ticket to the Fifty-fourth Congress, and was re-elected to the fifty-sixth and the four succeeding Congresses. In 1908 he was defeated for governor of Indiana, after which he resumed the practice of law in Rushville.

New Leader in Party Councils

Harry Stewart New was born in Indianapolis, Ind., December 31, 1858, the son of John C. and Melissa B. New. Shortly after his graduation from Butler University, was married to Kathleen V. Milligan. This was in 1880. His second wife was Catherine McLaen, to whom he was married in 1891.

He was a member of the Indiana senate from 1896 to 1900; captain and assistant adjutant-general of the Third Brigade, Second Division, Seventh Army Corps, United States Army, during the Spanish-American war in 1898. He was for many years publisher of the Indianapolis Journal.

In 1896 he was a delegate from Indiana to the Republican national convention, and in 1907 was chairman of the Republican national committee.

TWO WOMEN ARE MURDERED AND ROBBED OF GOLD

SEATTLE, April 6.—"Who was the man in the apartment house window?" Police investigation of the brutal murder Wednesday night of Mrs. Carolina Wheeler, 71, and Mrs. Kate B. Swift, 53, her sister, in their little home at 508 Westlake avenue, North, revolved today about this question.

Mrs. C. E. Smith, 509 Westlake avenue, North, told city detectives today that the sisters had called on her Tuesday. They told her they had been worried over the actions of a man who had been watching them from a second-story window of an apartment house at Westlake avenue and Harrison street.

"We think he is trying to see where we keep our money," the sisters told Mrs. Smith.

The women were beaten to death last night by a burglar who is believed to have stolen $3000, supposed to have been hidden in the house. The police said the women apparently had been killed by blows of an ax or a hammer. Both of them came to Seattle a year ago from Carthage, Mo.

The bodies were found late last night by H. S. King, a nephew of the two women, who were sisters. King occasionally passed the night at their home at 405 Westlake avenue North, and upon entering the house late last night found it in great disorder. In one room he found the body of Mrs. Wheeler lying on the floor, and in another that of Mrs. Swift in a similar position. Their heads had been crushed by blows from a heavy instrument.

KEPT MONEY IN HOUSE.

King told the police that his aunts kept a sum of money, which he believed amounted to $3000, hidden in the house. No trace of the money could be found by the police, who said they were convinced that robbery was the motive for the crime.

Mrs. Wheeler's body was found in her bedroom, while Mrs. Swift's was lying on the floor in the parlor. Both were fully clothed. Both women had been struck severe blows several times about the head and body. No outcry was heard by the neighbors and indications in the house were that the women had been struck down without having had a chance to save themselves.

SUSPECT TWO MEN.

The police and coroner are convinced that two men committed the murder. The older woman was struck eighteen times, the younger eleven times. Mrs. Swift's finger was chopped when she lifted her hand to ward off a blow. Mrs. Wheeler was cut in the throat with a knife. The knife has not been found.

King will be taken to the house this afternoon and asked to repeat his story.

The women were known by all the neighbors to carry money in their garments, and made no secret of it. They told their acquaintances that on account of the war it was unsafe to keep money in banks. They lived on the interest on money loaned.

HAD LARGE FORTUNE.

CARTHAGE, Mo., April 6.—Mrs. Corinne Wheeler and her sister, Mrs. Kate Swift, who were found murdered in their home at Seattle, Wash., today, formerly resided here. Mrs. Wheeler's husband died two years ago, leaving her a large estate. It is said that both Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Swift owned considerable property near Mount Vernon, Mo. A sister, the nearest surviving relative, lives at Mount Vernon.

T. R. PREPARES TO HEAR CALL TO PRESIDENCY

The campaign to land him in the Republican nomination is about to be formally launched.

This interpretation was almost unanimously given today to his statement to a group of visitors to Oyster Bay yesterday in which he defined the program the G. O. P. convention must adopt if it wants him as standard bearer. It was agreed that the slogan should be "America first."

Politicians speculated on the possibility of Roosevelt now reconsidering his refusal to enter the presidential primaries. It was thought possible that the colonel's supporters might try to land delegations from several states, around which to rally the uninstructed delegates.

Discussion of Roosevelt's statement to Oyster Bay callers was linked with comment on the now famous Root-Roosevelt-Bacon luncheon in New York. Politicians hinted that the latest developments proved former Senator Root and Colonel Roosevelt had smoothed over their differences.

Before the colonel's statement was permitted to leak out, his friends in the far west and middle west told him that those sections would support a candidate taking a decisive stand on foreign policies. This probably led him to declare that he would not "pussyfoot" on any issue he had raised.

"Don't you nominate me," he said to his visitors, "unless you are prepared to take the position that Uncle Sam is to be strong enough to defend his rights and to defend every one of his people, wherever those people are, and he can't be strong enough unless he prepares in advance.

"I am not for war. On the contrary, I abhor an unjust or wanton war, and I would use every honorable expedient to avoid even a just war. But I feel that you don't, in the long run, avoid war by making other people believe that you are afraid to fight for your own rights."

Colonel Roosevelt went on to say that America must never wrong the weak or insult any nation wantonly. He added that every citizen of this country should be prepared "in his own soul" as well as with the army and navy, so that when he said anything "the rest of the world will know that he means it and that he can make it good."

Count de Lesseps "Wings" Big Zeppelin

MONTREAL, April 6.—Count Jacques de Lesseps, a French aeronaut who took part in the Belmont Park-Statue of Liberty flight in New York some years ago, is in the anti-aircraft service in France and was in charge of the gun which recently brought down a raiding Zeppelin, according to information received here today by his friends. Count de Lesseps in 1911 married Miss Grace Mackenzie, daughter of Sir William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway. The count is 32 years old.

Thieves Loot Bank of $15,000; Escape in Auto

CANONSBURG, Pa., April 6.—Two men robbed the First National Bank of Houston, at Houston, Pa., near here soon after noon today of $15,000 and escaped in an automobile.

Sacramento Valley Is Promised Aid

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Flood conditions on the Sacramento river will be cared for in the general bill being drawn to cover conditions on the Mississippi. The new House flood control committee has so decided and will vote on the bill within the next few days. The measure proposes an expenditure of $45,000,000 for the Mississippi and $5,800,000 for the Sacramento.

The latter appropriation will be spent in co-operation with California state and district reclamation appropriations. Both appropriations will cover continuing work over five or six years.

A plan for the flood control of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers has been approved by the war department and the rivers and harbors committee of the House of Representatives. No appropriations have been made up to this time by Congress to carry out the approved plan because of the policy during the past few years which has prevented the consideration of new projects, appropriations being carried only for work under way. It would now appear that the demands of the South for legislation to meet flood conditions on the Mississippi has resulted in a forced consideration of the California project.

CHANCELLORS WORDS HAVE PEACE HINT

BERLIN, April 6.—Two statements in Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's speech in the Reichstag have attracted especial attention of the public, the first being that in which he alluded to the submarine warfare and the relations of Germany with the United States and the second being the intimations regarding Germany's peace terms, when for the first time he referred to the possibility of Germany withdrawing from Belgium, which, however, he said must be a "new Belgium."

His words in this latter connection are interpreted as an affirmation that Germany would not evacuate a country where the blood of persons had been shed, without receiving necessary guarantees regarding its future and that the "new Belgium" must include a special disposition for the Flemish portion of the Kingdom, a hint of the nature of which is regarded as being given by the Chancellor's use of the word "Netherlandish." He spoke of the necessity of assuring to the "long oppressed Flemish inhabitants" an opportunity for development on the basis of "their Netherlandish language and characteristics."

Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic center party and Friedrich Ebert, Socialist leader, delivered speeches in the Reichstag concurring in the views which Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Imperial Chancellor, had expressed, the Overseas News Agency says. Herr Ebert said that Germany's enemies and especially the socialists in enemy countries, declined peace and asked for the annihilation of Germany and that, therefore it was the duty of Germans to stand firmly by their government and their country. With regard to the question of annexations, Herr Ebert pointed out that Germany could not give back the freed Polish, Lithuian and other provinces to the reactionary Russian yoke and that is to be understood in the light of the Chancellor's declaration that Germany does not want to crush other races, but wants a basis for the peaceful development of European civilization.

It Cures Through the Pores

Joy Rides Made Enjoyable. New Pore Treatment Prevents Sunburn, Chaps, Freckles and Wrinkles.

Know-Doc Pore Treatment heals, soothes and relieves wherever applied. Don't hesitate to use it in the worst cases of skin disease, pleurisy, neuralgia or nasal catarrh. Rubbed over nerve centers, along spine and on bottoms of feet, it stimulates pore action and relieves rheumatism. Rubbed on chest and neck, it stops cold on the lungs and sore throat. For nervousness or chronic backache, rub it along the spine from base of neck down. Be sure and try it for the complexion. It takes out all impurities and improves the skin both in color and texture. Apply and let absorb. Both small and large sizes at druggists.

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of powdered neroxin from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The powdered neroxin and the hot water have just dissolved them. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of neroxin and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get powdered neroxin at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.

SITUATION VEILED IN OBSCURITY

BORDER EXPECTS WITHDRAWAL REQUEST

EL PASO, Texas, April 6.—Indications in Washington that Carranza might soon indicate to the American government that the troops pursuing the bandit Villa were futilely following a "cold trail" and the de facto government would welcome the return of the United States troops to their own country, occasioned no surprise today in El Paso.

There have been insistent reports here that the de facto government looked with no favoring eye on a further pursuit of Villa because the presence of American troops on Mexican soil was proving an embarrassment to the Carranzistas. These reports were not confirmable because the Mexican officials both here and in Juarez said the matters of a diplomatic nature must be considered only by the government heads at Queretaro. Army officers here say that while the difficulties of the Villa hunt increase daily and that it may be weeks before he is captured, the pursuit will be relentlessly continued until the word comes from Washington to withdraw the troops.

CHANGE IN SHIP BILL PROBABLE

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Provisions in the administration shipping bill to give a shipping board control of rates of ocean carried traffic probably will be changed as the result of a conference today between President Wilson, Secretary Redfield, Solicitor Thurman of the Commerce Department, Chairman Alexander and several members of the House marine committee. The President also discussed with Representatives Pou and Garrett of the rules committee the speeding up of the bill and other legislation on the administration program.

Representative Alexander told the President he believed it impracticable to allow the board to regulate rates and thought it preferable to authorize the board to prevent abuses growing out of discriminations in rates on ocean carried traffic.

Town of Clio Burned; One Resident Killed

CLIO, Cal., April 6.—The entire business section of Clio, including the postoffice, was wiped out by fire of unknown origin shortly after midnight. The total loss will amount to $20,000.

J. Bedsel, an employe of the Feather River Lumber Company and a recent arrival from South Carolina, was instantly killed when his head was crushed by flying fragments of a hot-water boiler, which exploded in the Western Pacific Hotel.

The blaze started in a frame building used as a warehouse by J. B. Drake. From there it spread to Drake's grocery and the postoffice and soon the entire business block, including the three-story Western Pacific Hotel, was afire.

With the exception of some of the furnishings of the hotel little was saved from any of the burned buildings. The exact loss in stamps and mail at the postoffice has not been determined.

Coast Sea Pirate Seeking Release

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Captain A. B. Nelson, who made a daring attempt to hold up the steamship Wilamette off Redondo two years ago and was captured and put in irons by Captain Heinert, the master, is attempting to obtain his release from San Quentin on a technicality. The first move was made today by Attorney Timothy Healy, who defended Captain Nelson, and who claims that the commitment upon which he was sent to prison for five years is faulty. Arrested as a pirate, Captain Nelson was charged with assault to do great bodily harm on the high seas.

Following his conviction the commitment, it is said, was made out, assault to commit murder on the high seas. Today Assistant United States Attorney Thomas requested Federal Judge Morrow, sitting for Judge Dooling, to amend the commitment. This was objected to by Healy, who declares that his client is entitled to his release. The court declined to act in the absence of Judge Dooling.

Chicago Milk Supply Curtailed Two-thirds

CHICAGO, April 6.—As a result of the strike of milk producers who furnish the milk supply of Chicago, the city today received only about one-third of its normal daily consumption of approximately 1,750,000 quarts, according to reports.

Reports from Elgin and other Northern Illinois points where milk is gathered continued today to tell of clashes between pickets set by the strikers and producers.

Officials of the Milk Producers' Association said today that several distributing companies had signed contracts at the higher price.

Fruit Men-Shippers in State Conference

SACRAMENTO, April 6.—At the call of Harris Weinstock, state market commissioner, fruit men and shippers met today at the capitol and discussed the plan of Weinstock to establish a bureau for the distribution of deciduous fruits in eastern markets. The purpose of this bureau or clearing-house, as explained by Weinstock, is to regulate the shipment of California fruits so there will be no glut on the market.

JUMPS TO DEATH.

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—In a fit of epilepsy Charles I. Marshall, 53, a wealthy retired business man of Milwaukee, slashed himself with a pocket knife here and leaped from the seventh floor of the Clark Hotel. The leap resulted in instant death. For a time William McKay, Marshall's chauffeur, was held by the police until an investigation of Marshall's death had been completed.

Marshall came here more than a year ago from Milwaukee. It is understood he was the son of a wealthy banker there.

LICENSE SECURED AFTER MARRIAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Mrs. Ella F. Murray, reputed to be one of the wealthiest women of the West, who resides at the Fairmont Hotel, was granted an annulment of her marriage to Frank W. Warren, buyer for a San Francisco drygoods firm, by Superior Judge Crothers this morning on the ground that no license had been issued for the ceremony which was performed on New Year's day in Santa Barabara.

"This is a marriage of God and the church, and it does not matter whether you have a license or not."

This was the statement which Mrs. Murray testified was made by the officiating clergyman when informed by Warren that he could not get a license on New Year's which was a holiday. The next day was Sunday and the couple would have had to wait until Monday.

"He then went on with the ceremony and I went to the Potter Hotel," Mrs. Murray testified. "The next morning Mr. Warren returned to San Francisco and on Monday I went alone and obtained the marriage license at his request. Our marriage was never consummated and we have been separated since February 15, when I was advised that my marriage was not legal."

The Court raised some question as to whether or not the annulment should be granted. "It is apparent, from what has been said here, that the clergyman believed these people had been living together or he would not have performed the ceremony," declared Judge Crothers. "If the parties had been living together the ceremony would have been legal, even if there was no license, under our laws."

Mrs. Murray testified positively, and she was corroborated by her cousin, Ira W. Coburn, that she had never lived with Warren prior to the wedding.

Warren, who is said to be twenty years the junior of Mrs. Murray, was not present nor was he represented in court. He offered no opposition to the annulment.

Jake Croter Honored With High Position

The Paramount Lodge, No. 17, elected delegates to attend the Knights of Pythias convention at San Bernardino last night, Jake Croter, Dr. H. L. Dietz, Lewis Glickman, R. Lewis and John Elsworth being chosen to represent the Oakland parlor. Croter received the highest vote of all, 71 votes out of 79 cast going to him. Dr. Dietz came next with 68 votes. There were ten nominees, five being chosen.

The Oaklanders will leave here in the middle of May. The convention will be held from May 15 to May 21.

Walton, Psychic, Is Now on Way West

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—To face trial on charges of defrauding clients, Alexander Walton, alias Cavitt, clairvoyant and psychic, will leave Chicago for San Francisco tonight, according to a telegram received today from Detective Michael Burke.

The detective telegraphed to Charles Brennan, assistant district attorney, that he had Walton in custody. Dispatches from Chicago this morning said Walton had failed to appear in court there for extradition hearing, and had forfeited $7000 bail.

Mt. Lassen Again Throws Out Smoke

REDDING, April 6.—Mount Lassen showed evidences of renewed activity today. Smoke and steam were emitted from the crater at intervals from daylight until noon. This is the liveliest outburst of the volcano since November 20, 1915. Snow is melting fast near the top. This fact, together with spasmodic outbursts all morning, make observers believe Mount Lassen is coming back on the firing line.

EXAMINE JURORS IN CAPLAN CASE

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Examination of jurors was to be resumed upon the reopening today of the trial of David Caplan, charged with murder in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building October 1, 1910.

When court adjourned yesterday seven prospective jurors had been passed temporarily. These can only be removed. District Attorney Leo Woolwine said, by exerting peremptory challenges. The prosecution will have ten such challenges and the defense will be allowed twenty.

Attorney Nathan C. Coghlan, who with Attorney Jacob Margolis, of Pittsburgh, is conducting Caplan's case, said after adjournment yesterday that he would proceed more slowly today in the examination of talesmen. The prediction was made by attorneys on both sides that ten days might prove sufficient time for the selection of the jury.

Oil Injunction Suit Opens in the South

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Hearing of injunction suits against the Union Provident and United Petroleum Companies to prevent their exercise of control in the Union Oil Company was begun today. Attorneys construed the case to be a test of the legality of "pyramid control" or the legality of holding companies when operated as "voting pools." The name of Giles Kellogg, secretary of the Union Oil, who died suddenly Saturday at Coronado was ordered stricken from the list of defendants. Trial of the case on its merits was begun in the suit for a permanent injunction and hearing of the suit for a temporary order was put over until Tuesday. Union Oil, a $8,000,000 corporation, it was alleged, was controlled by the $18,000,000 Union Provident, which in turn is alleged to have been controlled by the United Petroleum Company with capital stock of about $8,000,000. This "pyramiding," it was alleged gave to a minority absolute control of the large operating company Union Oil.

The court was asked to restrain the holding companies from voting at the annual Union Oil election April 20 or to order the company to send out proxy to all stockholders in time for them to vote at the election.

Lawyer Insurance Co. Jinx; Car Stolen Thrice

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Attorney Thomas O'Connor is threatened with boycott by local insurance companies whose specialties are automobile insurance, O'Connor owns a machine which he bought early this year. Three times it has been stolen and on almost every occasion everything removable has been taken from it. Last night the third theft was committed and today O'Connor again notified the police, asking the return of his car. On each of the two previous occasions that it was taken the repair bill to put it in condition was over $200 and the insurance companies had to pay.

TO SENTENCE FREYER.

WEAVERVILLE, April 6.—Loren Freyer, 16, convicted of murdering Lem Sing, Chinese, will be sentenced to life imprisonment Saturday. There is no possibility of his going to a reform school or getting probation, despite his youth. The lad appears indifferent, evidently not appreciating his fate. Lem Sing was killed in a dispute over a mining claim.

To Fortify The System Against Grip

When Grip is prevalent LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE should be taken, as this combination of Quinine with other ingredients, destroys germs, acts as a Tonic and Laxative and thus keeps the system in condition to withstand Colds, Grip and influenza. There is only one "BROMO QUININE." E. W. GROVE'S signature on box. 25c.—Advertisement.

Wife of Stanford Heir Brings Suit

NEW YORK, April 6.—Demanding $100,000 damages for alleged alienation of affections, Mrs. Henrietta Reutti Hanson of San Diego today filed suit against Mrs. Anna Lathrop Hanson of Brooklyn, her mother-in-law. Walter Hanson, the husband, is a grand nephew of the late Leland Stanford.

Hanson made a deposition declaring his mother had him declared incompetent at Saratoga, N. Y., in 1913, so she could control his property. He fled, and since then has concealed his identity at San Diego under the name of William Burt, chauffeur, employed by Dr. White of the California city.

Divorced Without Her Knowledge, Says Wife

That her husband had obtained a final decree of divorce from her without her knowledge was the discovery made by Mrs. Maria Mello who has obtained an order from Superior Judge T. W. Harris modifying the decree to the extent that her husband, Joseph Mello, pay for the support of their two children.

Mrs. Mello was represented by Attorney J. Leonard Rose who explained that after the divorce had been started by the wife her husband entered a cross-complaint and obtained a decree upon default.

Live Man Wants Peace Where Dead Man Rests

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Guiseppe Farina was plaintiff today in a suit to oust the body of G. Bianchini from a grave at San Mateo, so that he might occupy the tomb himself. He told Judge Graham that Bianchini got into the grave under false pretenses, Mrs. Bianchini promising to remove the remains as soon as a permanent resting place was found. The judge ordered the widow to exhume her husband's body within six months. Farina has set his heart on being buried in the disputed

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dear Readers:

Before using "Anuric Tablets" I had such a terrible backache that I could hardly do my housework, but after taking one box I could do my work with comfort. I take pleasure in recommending both "Anuric" and "Favorite Prescription" as they have done wonders for me. I would advise others to try them because I know they will find great relief. You all have undoubtedly heard of the famous Dr. Pierce and his well-known medicines. His late discovery, "Anuric," is one that has been successfully used by the physicians and Specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, in Buffalo, N. Y., for backache and kidney complaint. It is good for diseases arising from disorders of kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, inflammation of bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles. Mrs. S. M. Simons.

Note:—No matter where you live, Dr. Pierce can help you if you suffer from any of the chronic complaints, pains and aches which so often afflict mankind and womankind. You and Dr. Pierce can get together, by mail, without anybody knowing it, and he will give you his careful, simple, expert advice as a physician, without fee.

To prove that "Anuric" is a certain uric acid solvent and conquers headache, backache, kidney and bladder disease, and rheumatism, send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for a large trial package of ANURIC, and send for FREE medical treatise on any chronic disease which you may name. Scientists affirm that this remedy is thirty-seven times more potent than lithia. If you are a suffered, go to your druggist and ask for a 50c box of "Anuric."

Police Investigation of Mysterious Fire

A mysterious fire occurred early this morning in the home of Mrs. Caroline Ross, 1715 East Fifteenth street. The firemen noticed the odor of burning turpentine when they broke into the place to fight the blaze. Mrs. Ross was awakened by a policeman who discovered the fire, and was able to leave the house without difficulty.

Damage estimated at $200 resulted from the fire. The origin of the blaze has not been learned. Inspectors Pardee and Smith were detailed to investigate.

Tugwell Jury May Not Hand in Verdict

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Up until 8 a. m. today the jury in whose hands rests the fate of Percy A. Tugwell, charged with the murder of Mrs. Maud Kennedy here two years ago, had not communicated any word as to their deliberations.

Indications were that the final result may be a "hung jury."

NEW POLICE SECRETARY.

Sergeant Henry Nedderman, who has been desk sergeant at the Central police station for some time, has been appointed secretary to Chief of Police Woods. Clarence Turcotte, who filled this position, is ill and has been granted a leave of absence for one month. Turcotte may not resume his position as secretary, but may be assigned to duty as assistant inspector under Captain Petersen, when he returns.

SMALL ERUPTIONS ITCH AND BURN

On Forehead. Skin Red and Inflamed. Irritating. Disfigured Face. In Short Time

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Some time ago small eruptions appeared on my forehead which proved very annoying to appearance and also to comfort. The appearance of the breaking out was a very dense rash, the skin being both red and inflamed. The breaking out would at times itch and upon scratching it, it would burn. It was certainly irritating and disfigured my face.

"I wrote for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The sample afforded almost instant relief so I bought more and in a short time I was healed." (Signed) Miss Daisy Austin, R. R. No. 1, Box 53, Walla Walla, Wash., July 1, 1915.

Sample Each Free by Mail

With 32-p. Skin Book on request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Sold throughout the world.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well Known Local Druggist Says Everybody Is Using Old-time Recipe for Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

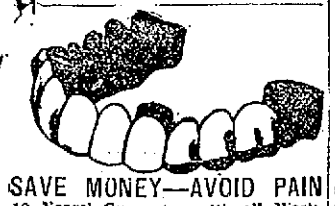

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. —Advertisement.

NURSE TO RESIGN, CHARGE DROPPED

Supervisors Accept Statements of Clinic Row in Letters.

The charges filed last week against Marian Skinner, nurse at the County Dental Clinic, in which she was accused of neglect and carelessness in her work, were withdrawn at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors today. Following the withdrawal of the charges, Miss Skinner resigned, the resignation to take effect the first of May.

The letter of R. H. Grey, curator of the Oakland College of Medicine, charging Miss Marian Skinner, nurse at the Dental Clinic, with neglect of work, was withdrawn. Dr. H. G. Thomas declared that "It is impossible for a nurse to be in two places at once," explaining this as the cause of complaint. He urged that two nurses be employed.

Henry Skinner, attorney for Miss Skinner, filed her resignation, after the letters clearing her of the charges were filed.

"We should have a nurse, and then also a girl to attend the routine work," said Supervisor F. W. Foss.

"I think that it would be better for the service if Miss Skinner did not resign until we have someone else to take her place," said Dr. Thomas.

"My sister has no desire to embarrass the service," said Skinner. "She will remain until the clinic can get some one else."

This was accepted. Supervisor Foss urged that $100 per month be spent on the clinic, to employ a nurse and an assistant. This was referred to the committee of the whole.

ASKS INVESTIGATION.

Henry H. Reiter asked an investigation as to the pound, operated by the S. P. C. A. and to which the county contributes $160 per month.

"The society performs no service," he said, "and should be made a paying institution if conducted as it formerly was." This was referred to the committee of the whole.

Annette S. Powell, secretary of the Board of Public Welfare, stated that the board report was not to recommend any city hospital site, but to simply give a basis for consideration. This was filed.

A letter from the Board of Public Welfare, calling attention to the Public Welfare convention in Los Angeles, May 1 to 5, was filed. Supervisor Joseph M. Kelley declared that the expense of sending delegates could not be borne by the county. Chairman Murphy announced that he would name two representatives, who could go if they personally desired to do so.

NEW MAP FILED.

Official maps of the new tract known as "Chevrolet Park" were adopted and bonds accepted by the board from the Realty Syndicate.

The Hutchinson Company was awarded a payment of $957 on the New Warm Springs Road.

The sum of $5 was fixed as compensation for election officers in the coming election, and official lists, prepared by the committee of the whole, will be adopted Monday.

Vice Is Rampant, Is Grand Jury's Report

SAN JOSE, April 6.—Vice and crime flourish with little hindrance from the police and "some county" officials in Santa Clara county, according to a report of the grand jury which was filed late yesterday. Lottery gambling and Chinese lotteries were named among the vices which are permitted to live. They are a prolific source of graft, the jury declared, but the beneficiaries of such graft, if any exists, are not known to the grand jury, it asserts. Filth in the Santa Clara county jail is rampant and the cells are filled with vermin, the report says. For forty-four years, the report says, grand juries have condemned the jail, but little improvement has been made.

Recommendation that the State Board of Charities and Corrections cancel the license of the Maud Ballington Booth Home, an orphan asyuum near Palo Alto, because of alleged poor management and ill-feeling of the boys there is contained in a report of the county; also sweepingly condemned conditions of vice in San Jose. The report was returned last night.

Waste Paper Company May Yet Have to Fight

Suit will be filed against the Oakland Waste Paper company by attorneys of the Scavengers' union if the concern continues to collect paper as it has done in the past, according to Attorney Ezra Decoto in a statement issued today. The paper concern is said to have threatened to continue its previous course on the assumption that Federal Judge Van Fleet had not ruled that waste paper was considered as garbage.

The case has been in litigation for some time, the members of the Scavengers' union suing to enjoin the paper concern from collecting waste paper on the ground that it is garbage. The Scavengers' association pays the city $1000 a month for the exclusive privilege of collecting the garbage in the city.

ADJUDGED INCOMPETENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Mrs. Delia Nunan, widow of the late Matthew Nunan, president of the Hibernian brewery, was declared incompetent by Superior Judge Graham today and given into the care of Rev. Father Joseph McQuaide of Sacred Heart church, who will act as her guardian. The Mercantile Trust Company was appointed to look out for the $250,000 estate.

NEW RATE ON ORE.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—A new rate of $2 a ton on manganese and chrome ore on lots of 60,000 pounds or more, from Oroville to Pitt, was announced today by the Southern Pacific. It was stated that the war had increased the demand for this ore and that the rate would make the fields near Oroville more available.

Tell of Great Aid of Geodetic Survey

WASHINGTON, April 6.—What the Coast and Geodetic Survey is doing for preparedness, and what it did in the civil war, was told this afternoon by Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright, U. S. N., retired, in a speech at the convention in celebration of the survey's centennary.

That the work of the Geodetic Survey has been of general aid was testified by other speakers. Prof. William Henry Burger, professor of civil engineering at Northwestern University, told what it has done for geodesy. Dr. Otto Hilgard Tittmann, president of the National Geographic Society, told of its international work. Dr. Douglas Wilson Johnson, associate professor of geology at Columbia University, told what it has contributed to physical geography. Dr. Charles Lane Poor, professor of Celestial Mechanics at Columbia, discussed ocean tides with reference to the bureau's work.

The celebration will be ended this evening with a dinner at the New Willard at which President Wilson, the Swiss Minister, Secretary Redfield, Secretary Daniels and Dr. Thomas Corwin Mendenhall, oldest ex-superintendent of the bureau, are to be speakers.

Congress Considers Bill to Aid the Poor

WASHINGTON, April 6.—A mammoth insurance fund, to draw from which the only requirements are that one is ill, too old to work or honestly can't get a job, is under consideration by the House labor committee today.

Representative Meyer London, New York Socialist, is sponsor for the fund. He wants it to guarantee workingmen against unemployment.

Mr. London's proposal, the first of its kind that has been considered by a congressional committee, instructs the President to appoint a commission of two organized labor representatives, with the secretary of labor as chairman.

The commission is to draft a general social insurance act along the lines indicated and report within a year to the President a plan to reduce unemployment by furnishing work on public improvements and developing natural resources on public lands. This, London's resolution says, would reduce the calls on the fund.

Dr. J. M. Rubinow of New York, author of a book on social insurance, was an early witness before the committee at its opening session today.

Henry Ford, Michigan Choice in Primaries

DETROIT, Mich., April 6.—The selection of Henry Ford as Michigan's Republican presidential candidate was conceded today. Latest returns showed him leading Senator William A. Smith by 3000 votes, with 56,121 ballots counted. Preparedness advocates were apprehensive lest Ford's friends enter him in the race for the nomination in other states, despite Ford's assertion that he would not consent to run.

You Must Have Plenty of Iron in Your Blood to Be Strong, Says Doctor

Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate, Nervous, Run-down People 200 Per Cent in Ten Days in Many Instances.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. Sauer, a specialist of this city, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong, but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by the lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, rundown people who were ailing all the while, double and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists, and whose iron constituents is widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The Manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks time provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by The Owl Drug Co. and all other druggists.—Advertisement.

Social Standing in Oakland Homes

There are social types in homes as in people.

The best social neighborhood in Oakland is merely the place where the best homes continuously attract to themselves others of like kind. Isn't it so?

Bellevue, Vernon, Perry, Euclid, Chetwood, Lee—

Do not instantly these street names suggest to you social types of homes and people the very highest in Oakland? Indeed they do!

And the home shown above. Isn't it one of the most beautiful of all the properties that have made Vernon Heights and that portion of Adams Point near it the "Place Proper" of our city?

The garden—100 feet of land, with loads of sun, air, light, trees, rosebushes and ornamental blooms, with shrubbery and fruit blossoms to cut the cost of doctor's bills. With these and all its many other advantages—it's a home—a big, powerful, health-giving, health-keeping home.

Just the kind you want for five children—all yours, isn't it?

And Price—

A loving father wants his wife and family to come to him in New York. They're going before May 1st, house or no house.

So it's priced accordingly.

The Number Is 372 Bellevue Avenue.

Drive past this evening between dinner and dark. Then learn further particulars by calling later at our office.

ELECTION RESULTS INTEREST G. O. P.

Missouri, Wisconsin and Michigan Hold Attention of Washington Politicians.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Missouri, Michigan and Wisconsin interested the politicians at Washington today.

The news that in the city election at Kansas City a Democratic majority of 29,000 two years ago had been turned into a Republican majority closely approaching 10,000 was a staggering blow to Democrats.

It is admitted by members of the Missouri delegation that while the result was mainly due to a savage conflict between two rival Democratic bosses, it nevertheless lessens the small hope that was felt for carrying the state in the fall. The fight between the rival factions in Kansas City is too bitter to be allayed by that time and should the vote of that city be substantially of the same character in November it alone would assure the state going Republican.

BEATEN IN ST. JOSEPH.

That the Kansas City result was not wholly due to the split in the local Democratic ranks seems to be shown by the fact that in St. Joseph, where no such dissension exists, the Democrats were beaten by a majority proportionately large.

"Democratic differences in the cities, the open hostility of Germans to the administration and the unpopularity of Wilson assure more votes to the Republicans this year," said a Missouri congressman. "Of course, the state has been practically lost to our party since 1904. Last election we got its electoral vote only because of the Republican split. This year we could carry it with Champ Clark, or perhaps even if he were the candidate for governor. But, of course, that is impossible."

La Follette Routed in Wisconsin, Indication

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The reports from Wisconsin, indicating the complete rout of Senator La Follette, are commented on with interest in the light of their effect upon the Republican presidential nomination.

"The delegation," said Representative Reilly of Fon du Lac, "will be made up of men whose personal preference is for either Root or Hughes. There is no special Roosevelt sentiment among them, nor is there much in the state.

"Normally the La Follette people would be friendly to Roosevelt, but the way in which the colonel threw over Senator La Follette four years ago is neither forgotten nor forgiven. But the delegation may be voted for Roosevelt nevertheless. It is a typical regular old-line delegation, with twenty of that type to six Progressives, and if the old-line leaders in other states make their peace with the colonel the leaders of the Wisconsin forces will follow suit.

Lead Runs From Earl to Governor

Leads that run directly from the Earl camp to Governor Johnson's office at the state capitol were uncovered by the regular Republican campaign committee, as the result of investigation that has been under way to trace the real purpose of the St. Francis Hotel meeting, at which the so-called "United Republican" ticket was chosen.

That Al McCabe, Governor Johnson's private secretary, was the link between that session of self-appointed delegates and the governor was the declaration of Henry M. Owens, chairman of the Republican campaign committee. That McCabe secretly directed Earl, who was chairman of the session, Owens asserted, and that the state administration representative was kept closely advised of every move that day was also Owens' positive announcement, based, he said, upon information which he obtained directly from persons who were closely identified with McCabe at the time.

U. S. Ready to Present Jury Passport Plot

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The government's indication of the alleged connection of Carl A. Luderitz, German consul at Baltimore, with the issue of American passports to Horst von der Goltz, a confessed German spy, under the name of Bridgeman Taylor, has reached a point where the next step is to lay the facts before a federal grand jury.

The story told by von der Goltz at New York is to be made the basis of grand jury action. In his statement von der Goltz is quoted as saying he went to Baltimore with a letter from Captain von Papen, the former German military attache here, requesting the consul to aid von der Goltz in any way he could.

Von der Goltz' story, it was said, has been corroborated by the prisoner Tucker, arrested three weeks ago in El Paso.

No Vacation for Wilson This Year

President to Have Week-Ends Only

WASHINGTON, April 6.—President Wilson is confronted by a vacationless or nearly vacationless summer in Washington. Excepting a few week-ends the magnificent mansion arranged for at Long Branch, N. J., will have only the caretakers for occupants.

The international situation, possibilities of Congress remaining in session until August and the summer campaign are expected to keep the President here the greater part of the hot months.

Word that the President and Mrs. Wilson will not spend the time they expected to at Long Branch went out from the White House today. It was learned all plans of an extended stay there have been practically abandoned. Toward the end of the summer the President will make one or two long "swings around the circle," if the European situation, the Mexican campaign trouble and Congress do not interfere.

DELEGATES PLEDGED.

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 6.—The executive committee of the Progressive party of North Carolina here have selected delegates to the Progressive convention at Chicago, with instructions to support and vote for Theodore Roosevelt for President.

Kent Bill Urged on House Committee

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Passage of the Kent bill for creation of a federal bureau of national forests was urged before the House public lands committee by Stephen Mather, assistant to the secretary of the interior, J. Horace McFarland, and Richard B. Watrous of the National Civic Association and other speakers.

WOULD ACCEPT CABIN.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Acceptance by the federal government of the Kentucky farm and cabin where Abraham Lincoln was born, with an endowment fund of about $50,000 in bonds of the city of Louisville, was urged in the House yesterday. Action on a bill under which the government would accept the property as a gift from its present owners, went over until next Wednesday.

Solon Takes Defense of National Guard

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Declaring the national guard was a patriotic, nonpolitical organization, Senator Lewis addressed the Senate today and asserted that the militia was as efficient as any reserve of former regular soldiers could be. Lewis answered Senator Chamberlain's charges that the militia maintained a lobby at Washington and took exceptions to Chamberlain's threat to fight for complete elimination of the national guard if it did not cease its alleged jealous opposition to any form of reserves except themselves."

Lewis predicted that Chamberlain's proposed reserve force, the "continental army renamed," would prove a failure because no men would enlist in it. He said that, as a result, the militia would be weakened without strengthening national defense elsewhere.

Federal Volunteer Fight Near Close

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The fight over the federal volunteer plan of the army reorganization bill was drawing to a close when the Senate resumed work on the measure today with the advocates of the provision trying hard to save it and opponents seeking to eliminate it.

TICKET MUDDLE MUST BE RESULT

Attorney-General Says Names Must Be Run in, Rowell Protests.

Attorney General U. S. Webb yesterday rendered to District Attorney Charles Swart of San Mateo county a decision that the tickets of delegates to the Republican national convention of the United Regular Republicans shall not be separated on the presidential primary ballot.

Superintendent of State Printing Telfer and the State Board of Control have taken issue with Secretary of State Jordan on the subject. Jordan declares he will separate the names of the candidates on the two tickets.

Political circles in the State were stirred yesterday by the word that Chester Rowell, friend and counselor of the state administration, and Secretary of State Jordan, Republican of Republicans, were for once in accord in a matter of public policy. Rowell, through the columns of his Fresno newspaper, has come to the defense of Jordan in the Presidential primary ballot controversy. Rowell declares that Jordan's plan to arrange the list of candidates on the Republican ballot so that the voter shall not be mislead in selecting the twenty-six names of his choice for delegates to the national Republican convention is clarifying.

That the Earl faction was within its legal rights in refusing to confer with Jordan on the question of segregating the candidates into their proper groups Rowell asserts, but he tinctures that view with some comment most unpalatable to the Earl faction, in that he writes:

"But we cannot help feeling that if the Secretary of State was willing to take the responsibility of a harmless and, in fact, useful stretching of the law in this case, it would have been better for all parties tacitly to have omitted notice of it.

"If, under the peculiar circumstances of the ballot this year, this slight stretching of a provision of the law, which is at least directory and not mandatory, by doing a thing which, while not prescribed or even directly permitted, is also not directly prohibited by the law, could have been tacitly overlooked, the practical advantage in clarifying the ballot would have been very great."

Col. House in Third Conference With Wilson

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Colonel E. M. House, who investigated the submarine and other issues abroad for the president, came to the White House again today for the third time since his recent return from Europe. He conferred this afternoon with President Wilson and Secretary Lansing and after the conference Lansing refused to make a statement.

Convention Denounces Democratic Policies

INDIANAPOLIS, April 6.—Containing a strong endorsement of Charles W. Fairbanks for the presidential nomination the platform drafted by the resolutions committee in all night session was submitted to the state Republican convention here today. The platform denounces the Wilson administration as "inefficient and extravagant" and declares it has brought us business depression at home and discredit abroad," adding that "such prosperity as has attended the Democratic administration was due almost wholly to disaster which prevails in the old world."

The platform favors a privately owned and operated merchant marine under the American flag and "such preparedness as may be necessary upon land and sea to protect American citizens in their persons and property at home and abroad." Strict neutrality toward the nations engaged in the European war is also recommended.

The president's Mexican policy is characterized as "weak and indecisive" and states that it has brought us "increasing confusion and national humiliation."

Other planks include a condemnation of the "Democratic policy of scuttle in the Philippines."

OAKLAND CHURCHES JOIN IN RITES

Rev. Patrick J. Cummins, Pastor of Mission Dolores Congregation, Buried.

Father Maurice Barry, Father Lawrence Serda and several other Oakland priests crossed the bay today to take official part in the funeral ceremonies for the Rev. Patrick J. Cummins, chancellor of the archdiocese of San Francisco, and for ten years pastor of the Mission Dolores Church. The funeral was conducted at the church Father Cummins had been so long the head of. Archbishop Edward J. Hanna officiated at the services. A requiem high mass was said.

The active pallbearers were Rev. James Stokes, Epiphany Church; Rev. Maurice Barry, St. Patrick's, Oakland; Rev. Michael Horan, Mountain View; Rev. Patrick Collopy, St. Francis; Rev. William G. O'Mahoney, St. Ann; Rev. Dennis Bailey, Rio Vista.

The honorary pallbearers: Rev. Patrick E. Lynch, St. James; Rev. Maurice Slattery, St. Agnew; Rev. Laurence Serda, Sacred Heart, Oakland; Rev. Peter C. Yorke, St. Peter; Rev. Patrick Foley, San Rafael; Rev. John McGinty, Holy Cross; Rev. John Cottle, St. Brigid; Rev. Father O'Connell, St. Teresa; Rev. Timothy Callaghan, St. Mathew's, San Mateo; Rev. John S. Sullivan, Redwood City; Rev. A. M. Santandreu, Spanish Church; Rev. Charles A. Ramm, St. Mary's Cathedral.

S. F. MAN SUICIDE IN EAST.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Because he could not have the girl he loved, D. E. Shawham of San Francisco committed suicide by inhaling gas. A note he left told the reason for his act. An application for work found in the room said Shawham had worked for two years for the Seattle Construction and Drydock Company.

Mexican Reports Held Discouraging

Military Authorities in Washington Gloomy

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Reports from Mexico and the Mexican border continue to be most discouraging. The military authorities declare that it may take months to get Villa, who has not been slow to avail himself of the long start afforded him by the unprepared condition of the army and the vacillation of the administration in Washington. Trustworthy reports from Mexico City and that vicinity indicate that the Carranza regime is tottering and liable to fall at any moment. Mexican dollars are now worth 2 cents, United States money, and Carranza is threatening to seize all the property of the Catholic church to recoup the treasury. Felix Diaz is threatening Carranza's rear, while the Carranza forces supposed to be in pursuit of Villa are exhibiting little alacrity in the chase, many of them having been followers of Villa in the past, and practically all of them being haters of Americans. Members of Congress are being flooded with telegrams and petitions from along the border pleading for increased military protection, and there are practically no more troops to send, unless the militia is called out.

Fire Drives 35 Women Into Portland Streets

PORTLAND, Or., April 6.—A club house used by business women, owned by the Portland Women's Union, was partially destroyed by fire here early today. Thirty-five women were driven into the street and most of them lost their personal effects. The flames had their origin in a defective flue.

CAR DEALERS PLAN BIG MOTOR PARADE

Auto Show to Be Opened With Monster Parade of Automobiles.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

Not content with the honors of having the only automobile show of the season in California, the Oakland motor car dealers are planning for an illuminated and decorated parade of motor vehicles that will far surpass anything of its kind ever held on the coast. This much and more was assured late yesterday when the dealers, at a meeting, completed the preliminary organization for the handling of this parade which is to mark the opening night of the big automobile show on the evening of April 26.

While the plans for the event are as yet in a tentative form it is certain that the proposed parade will be remarkable demonstration as to the possibilities of motor vehicles in illuminated parades, carrying their own electric light plants, each vehicle being a separate unit in itself.

Pledges of participation were given by practically every automobile dealer assembled at yesterday's meeting and from the nature of the event and the attention it will attract, it is certain that practically every automobile and accessory house as well as every automobile house in the city of Oakland will have one or more decorated vehicles in line in this event.

Committees were appointed to handle every detail, little and big, for the parade. It is claimed by many that this parade will exceed in splendor the ad masque ball recently given in the auditorium, for the motor car brings forth possibilities for staging and illuminating floats that will prove a revelation to the public.

SHOWS ARE SUCCESS.

When the curtain is finally rung down on the automobile season that is now rapidly drawing to a conclusion, new records will have been established for the success that has attended the promotion of the local exhibitions promoted annually throughout the country. It can be conservatively estimated that in the neighborhood of one million and a half persons paid for admission to the scores of displays conducted by the automobile dealers' associations and the special show companies during the past four or five months. This estimate does not consider the two national shows, held in New York and Chicago, the combined attendance of which reached the half-million mark.

This attendance is a far cry from the few thousands that are interested enough in the then new mode of transportation to visit the Madison Square Garden in New York city in the fall of 1900 for the purpose of inspecting the first collected display of motor cars made in this country. But the growth of interest in the shows has been proportional to the development of the industry itself. From its humble begining in New York sixteen years ago the automobile show has developed until now it is recognized as an annual fixture in practically every county east in the country.

Since their advent, and especially since local or dealers' shows have been held, the annual exhibitions have been considered in the light of business barometers, the interest displayed in the shows being indicative of the general business possibilities in the automobile field. This holds true with the season now ending. With the automobile industry setting a new high water mark for production in the 1914-1915 fiscal year and indications pointing to this mark being greatly surpassed during the present year, it was only natural that the shows should reflect this prosperity.

Success has favored the shows of the present season from every standpoint. A canvass of the leading local shows made by the Horseless Age disclosed the fact that in attendance, number of exhibitors and sales made, new marks were established in every section of the United States. This success has been general. But in the rich farming districts of the Middle West and through Ohio it has been more marked than elsewhere. Few of the cities in these sections reported increases in attendance and sales under 25 per cent, and in not a few cases the figures of the previous years were doubled.

A tabulation of thirty-eight local displays shows that the total attendance reached over 1,202,000 and that the number of passenger cars exhibited, not considering any duplication that may have been made through the same cars being displayed in several cities, was approximately 3126. From the standpoint of attendance, Kansas City, Mo., and Minneapolis, Minn., hold first rank among the purely local shows, but it is to exceed their records that the Oakland dealers expect to accomplish in the coming event in the Oakland Auditorium.

DRIVES OVER TRESTLE.

School Girls Will Be Guests at Mills

On Saturday afternoon high school girls will be guests at a reception given to them by the students and faculty of Mills College. Mills College, always noted for its hospitality, will out-do itself on Saturday by paying hostess not only to the First District Library Association, but also to about five hundred high school girls.

All the senior girls in the high schools of Alameda, Berkeley and Oakland are invited. This group will be received at Lisser Hall in the college grounds Saturday from 2 to 5 p. m. by Miss Ethel Moore, representing the board of trustees; Dean Hettie B. Ege, acting president for the faculty, and the Misses Florence Osler, Elizabeth Steinbeck and Ruth Spencer, prominent officers and leaders in student affairs in Mills. Following the program there will be informal and fancy dancing by the girls. After refreshments have been served groups of the Mills College girls will show the visiting high school girls through the grounds.

Mechanic Suffocates When Bedding Burns

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Don Arnold, a mechanic, residing at the St. Louis hotel, 920 Montgomery street, was suffocated to death this morning as the result of going to sleep with a cigarette in his mouth. Arnold was found dead on the floor at 7 a. m. by the night clerk. He had evidently attempted to reach the window for air and had fallen in the endeavor. The bedclothes were smouldering and it was very evident that Arnold had gone to sleep while smoking. He was 32 years old.

DR. BADE TO TALK BEFORE HOME CLUB

Esperanza Chapter to Mark End of Pony Express Trail.

Dr. William Frederic Bade, president of the Theological Seminary of Berkeley, and author of "The Old Testament in the Light of Today," will discuss the many difficulties that beset the treatment of that much-talked-of work tonight at a big Home Club function. Judge and Mrs. John Yule will be hostess at this affair, which will be preceded by the annual election.

Other attractions on the program include piano solos by Miss Roxana Wiehe and two groups of songs written by Stella Dennis Taylor that will be sung by their composer. Miss Wiehe will play the Rhapsody F. Sharp minor of Ernst von Donough and Debussy's "Golliwog's Cakewalk" among the numbers. Afterward the members and guests will enjoy a dancing party.

The ticket arranged by the nominating committee again presents Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook for president, and the same directors who have assisted her during the past year.

The regular monthly meeting of Esperanza Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of Oakland, will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George Waddell, 346 Hanover street. Mrs. George Rothganger, regent of the Alameda County Chapter of the Navy League, will describe the aims of that organization in a talk on "Preparedness."

Esperanza Chapter is planning to mark the end of the Pony Express trail at Sacramento with some kind of monument, and regarding this Mrs. Mabel Moore Ferry, chairman of the old trails committee, will leave shortly for the East to consult with the D. A. R. Chapter of St. Joseph, Mo., the starting point of the Express trail.

A fund for the proposed monument was started by the first of a series of card parties given in San Francisco last Saturday at the home of the regent, Mrs. W. B. Farley.

The Oakland New Century Club members will meet tomorrow at the clubhouse in Peralta street for the regular monthly luncheon and the annual business meeting. Mrs. Robert Watt, it is understood, will be again, as for the past 20 years, the president, but a few changes are expected in the board of directors.

* * *

The Piedmont Civic Club will be addressed tomorrow afternoon at the monthly meeting by Roscoe Jones, president of the Civil Service Board, and Commissioner J. Baccus of the street department. The meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. at the Piedmont School.

Children Tagged and Sent West to Daddy

Wearing identification tags inscribed "we are the children of Joe Yenna of Livermore, Edith and Earl Yenna, aged 7 and 5 years, respectively, came to Oakland unaccompanied all the way from Big Fork, Mont. When the train arrived at the Oakland mole the two youthful travelers eagerly scanned the crowd gathered at the pier depot for their father, but were disappointed.

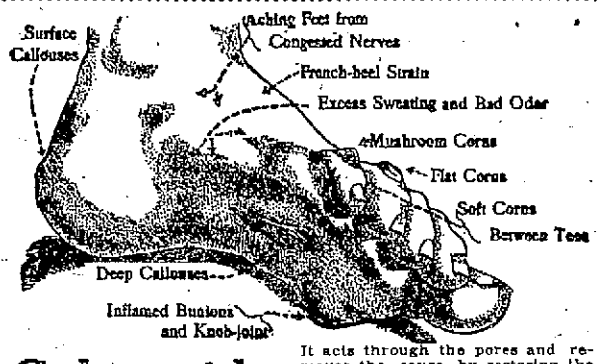

"Well, I'll take brother and go meet Daddy," said the undaunted Edith, although her mouth quivered. The Travelers' Aid Society and the Southern Pacific Company located the father in Livermore and the youngsters and their father were soon reunited.

PORTFOLIO CHANGES THREATEN CANADA

Shake-up in Ministry Is Promised After Parliament Session.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 6. — Several changes in the Canadian ministry will be announced, it is expected here, soon after the present session of Parliament ends. The business of the session is nearly completed, but the house will be kept going until Minister of Militia Hughes returns from England and has opportunity of making a statement in reply to the charges against him and the Canadian shell committee.

It is agreed by both Conservative and Liberal members that the Minister of Militia will not submit tamely to discipline, but will go down fighting if he is forced from the government. The majority opinion is that his situation is so difficult that he will be unable to come through the struggle with his portfolio.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I insist admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."—Advertisement.

UNCLE WIGGILY CUTS UP FOR KIDDIES

Uncle Sam Has Plans for Brides

Department of Agriculture Draws Cottages

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Uncle Sam and Dan Cupid today signed articles of incorporation as The Love in a Cottage and First Aid to Cupid company, unlimited. Through their chief architect at the Department of Agriculture, Sam & Cupid today announced the invention of "a perfect love of a vine-clad cottage economically and scientifically made."

Any sweet June bride may receive a complete copy of the "Dove Cote" plans by writing to Sam & Cupid, care the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

First of all, this darling little duck of a house is so ingeniously arranged that it will save the bride 152,500 steps a year. There are, besides the wonderful patent kitchen, a dining room, living room and two bedrooms; a front porch and a large sleeping porch.

And if you don't happen to be a June bride, you may have a copy of the plans just the same, by asking for them.

Everything has been figured out. With the arrangements made by the architect, the housewife can go into the kitchen in the morning and need come out only for meals, if that's the way she feels about it.

The poison-gas menace from cooking cabbage, the heat prostration danger from overheated stoves, that tired feeling that results from too many steps between the kitchen and the dining room all have been attended to.

The house has four primary features, a cool, convenient kitchen and dining room; bedrooms and living rooms with the best exposure; facilities for outdoor sleeping, and an easily heated house, cool in summer and sunny in winter.

The kitchen's principal feature is the cooking room, just large enough to accomodate a stove. When the door of the room is closed, the cabbage may boil or the ham burn up and no odor will penetrate to the kitchen proper. The housewife need not stay in the room with the stove; in fact, she couldn't get in if she wanted to.

Windows are so arranged that there is always a breeze through the kitchen. The front porch is arranged so it can't exclude any sunlight. The sleeping porch is germ-proof and airy. The kitchen and dining room are so convenient that it is unnecessary to carry dishes between them—they can be pushed right through the wall. The china closet has doors in both rooms and dishes are laid in at one door and taken out of another in the next room.

In addition to the front and sleeping porches there is a screened porch reached from the kitchen. A feature disclosed by an examination of the screened porch, by the way, is a fuel room. Fuel is poured into it from the back yard—it may be dumped right from a wagon into the room—and, like the trick china closet, permits being emptied from another entrance in the kitchen.

There are seven closets in the house, which is only one story. The nearest approach to a second story is where a window has been inserted. That window gives exit to the smoke and smells from the cooking room, with which it and an inside chimney connect.

Judge Sends Girls on Tour of Observation

PORTLAND, Ore., April 6.—By order of Municipal Judge Arthur Langguth today three girls who had been brought before him on charges of drunkenness were sent on a tour of exhibition of all the prominent drug stores in the city and the proprietor in each was warned to remember them and not to sell them alcohol in future.

Public Defender Robinson was appointed by the court to conduct the tour. Bessie Smith, Ellen Wilson and Irene Robinson were the girls. They had told the intoxicant they had used was grain alcohol, purchased at a drug store.

MISS PERKINS A BRIDE.

Last evening at a pretty home ceremony Miss Hazel Perkins was married to George M. Rothgang of Shanghai, China, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Perkins in Alameda. The house was decorated with a profusion of pink flowers and greenery, and the guests included relatives and a few intimate friends. Rev. Everett Cooper was the officiating clergyman. The wedding was arranged on short notice as the groom whose business interests have kept him in California for several months was called back to China. The young couple will sail on Saturday for Shanghai.

The bride wore a costume of white crepe de chine made with short bouffant skirt and with lace at the bodice. In place of a veil she had a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair and she carried a bouquet of bride roses. Mrs. Alberto Martinez (Helen Perkins) was her sister's matron of honor and she wore her own wedding gown of white satin and lace. Mrs. Perkins, mother of the bride, was in a costume of rose taffeta and lace that harmonized with the decorations. The best man was M. A. French of Shanghai. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

LEASE POND RESIDENCE.

Mrs. Charles Fremont Pond and Miss Beasie Pond are leaving this week to join Admiral Pond in the east, and their home in Ridge Road, Berkeley, has been leased by Mrs. Philip McManus, who will occupy it with her two sons, George and Walter McManus. PARTY AT "THE PINES."

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bowles will give a garden party at "The Pines," their Claremont home on Sunday afternoon. Guests from both sides of the bay will be entertained.

Soldiers Seeking to Free Girl From Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Soldiers of Fort Winfield Scott and other posts around San Francisco bay yesterday started a collection for the purpose of getting Mrs. Alice Sherman, wife of Charles Sherman, a soldier attached to the Thirty-eighth Company of Coast Artillery, out of jail, where she is confined on a charge of burglary preferred by Mrs. Hattie Morris of 2452 Lombard street. The girl, who is held at the city jail, is only 18 years old and she is alleged to have stolen some jewelry from Mrs. Morris for the purpose of buying food, her husband being unable to support her on a soldier's pay.

This is not the only contributing they are doing, either, for recently a youngster from San Jose, who came to the local recruiting office and tried to enroll in the army as a mascot, was sent by the recruiting sergeants to Fort Winfield Scott, and the coast artillerymen have all contributed to furnish the boy with meals and a ticket back to his home.

MRS. BALDWIN INVENTOR.

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—The United States Patent Office has issued to Anita M. Baldwin of Santa Anita a patent on a design for an ornamental cup to be given at dog and horse shows. The design displays a bowl in the shape of a California poppy, with undulating lip and overlapping petal sides merging into a slender stem.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

By Howard R. Garis

"Well, where are you going this morning, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady, of the rabbit gentleman as he lifted his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch down off the hat rack, and opened the front door.

"Oh, I'm just going out for a hop through the woods," replied the bunny uncle. "Mother Goose said that Grandfather Goosey Gander was coming to pay her a visit today, and, as I haven't seen him in some time, I thought I'd go over myself and have a little talk."

"Very well," went on Nurse Jane, "and on your way back I wish you would bring me a spool of thread."

"A spool of thread? Why, certainly," promised Uncle Wiggily, and off he hopped through the woods until he came to where Mother Goose lived. Her house was next door to the shoe, in which lived the Old Woman Who Had So Many Children She Didn't Know What To Do.

"Good morning, Mother Goose," said Uncle Wiggily politely. "I hope I see you well. Has Grandpa Goosey Gander come yet?"

"Not yet. I am expecting him every minute. Sit down and make yourself at home," and Mother Goose dusted a chair.

Uncle Wiggily sat down, and he and Mother Goose were talking about the best way to give the most bread and jam to animal children, when along came Grandpa Goosey.

"I'm sorry I'm late," he said, all sort of flustered like, "but I lost a button off my coat. I stopped in a tailor's to have it sewed on, but, would you believe me? There isn't a tailor to be found in Woodland- not one in this whole forest!"

"Nonsense!" cried Mother Goose. "Why, there are four and twenty tailors here—just as many as there were blackbirds baked in the pie that was set before the king. No tailors to be found out of all the four and twenty? Nonsense!" and she swept cobwebs down out of the sky just for fun.

"Not a tailor!", said Grandpa Goosey. "Their shops were open, but the tailors were gone, and so I had to come without a button on my coat."

"Never mind," said Mother Goose, "I'll sew it on for you," and she did.

"That reminds me," said Uncle Wiggily, after they had talked a bit. "Speaking of tailors, I'm to bring Nurse Jane a spool of thread. I think I'll be hopping along. If I can't find any tailor in his shop, where I can buy the thread, I'll have to go to the five and ten cent store."

So he said good-by to Mother Goose and Grandpa Gander, and away hopped the bunny uncle gentleman over the fields and through the woods.

"I wonder if I could find those four and twenty tailors?" thought Uncle Wiggily. "Four and twenty—that's just two dozen—quite a number. I wonder——?"

And just then from behind some bushes he heard some voices saying:

"You go up and jab her!"

"No, you do it!"

"I'm afraid!"

"Well, so am I. Hi there, who has a yardstick? Let whoever has one jab her!"

"You do it!"

"No you. I'm afraid."

"Well, so am I! Boo!"

"Goodness me gracious sakes alive and some hooks and eyes!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "What does all this mean?" He peeked through the bushes and there he saw, on the woodland path, a lot of men with needles, pins, spools of thread, tape measures, yardsticks, thimbles, scissors and all things like that.

"Who are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily in surprise.

"I'll tell you who we are," answered one of the twenty-four, for there were two dozen of them, as the rabbit gentleman could count. Then some one sang this song:

"We are four and twenty tailors went to catch a snail,
The best man among us dared not touch her tail;
So run, tailors, Run! Or she'll bite us all just now!"

And as the tailor said that he turned and ran through the woods as fast as ever he could run, all the other twenty-three running after him.

"Oh, my! Oh, me! Oh, dear! This is too funny!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Four and twenty tailors afraid of a snail, even if she did put out her horns like a Kylow cow. I say, tailors! Come back! Come back!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Mother Goose is worried about you. Come back!"

"We're afraid of the snail!" said one who had sung the song.

"Nonsense!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "She wouldn't hurt a lightning bug! Come here. I'll show you how to make her pull in her horns!"

Slowly and carefully the four and twenty tailors came back on their tippytiptoes.

"What did you want to catch a snail for, anyhow?" asked the bunny uncle.

"Make her put in her horns so she won't look so much like a cow and scare us, and we'll tell you," said the singing tailor.

Uncle Wiggily laughed and suddenly cried:

"Snail, snail, pull in your horn,
Here's Jimmie, the duck boy,
Looking for corn!"

Then the snail quickly pulled in her horns and crawled away and she didn't hurt the tailors any, and they didn't tickle her with a needle, thimble or even a spool of hooks and eyes.

"We just wanted to see if we could catch a snail," said the singing tailor. "We didn't mean to hurt her, but it says in Mother Goose's book that four and twenty tailors went out to catch a snail, and as we were not very busy this morning, we went out. But, Oh! how fierce she did look with her horns; I'm not going snail-hunting any more."

"Nor I," cried the other twenty-three tailors in a chorus. Then they thanked Uncle Wiggily for having driven the snail away, as he did, by making believe Jimmie Wibblewobble, the duck boy, was coming after her (since ducks like snails very much). And the tailors each gave Uncle Wiggily a spool of thread, so Nurse Jane had all she wanted, and Grandpa Goosey's button was sewed on.

And if the basket of soap bubbles doesn't fall downstairs and spill ink on the white tablecloth just as it is going to the dance, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the bat.

Fire in Woods Is Aid to Cupid

Unique Courtship Leads to Wedding

A romance in which a burning house and the beautiful regions of the Santa Cruz mountains played a prominent part came to its logical conclusion yesterday when Fred W. Copeland, wealthy land owner and rancher of Vacaville, was married to pretty Miss Elizabeth L. Rich, native daughter of Oakland, and daughter of the late Rev. John P. Rich, former Presbyterian minister in Oakland.

The wedding took place at the Stewart Hotel, the ceremony being conducted by the Rev. Palmer of Oakland.

The bride first met her husband while she was staying in the Santa Cruz mountains at the summer home of her aunt, Miss Emma L. Roberts, with whom she has lived ever since her father died.

Copeland had claimed the hospitality of the Santa Cruz mountains and was staying at Miss Roberts' residence when a fire started which within a few minutes reduced the house to cinders. Helping to save whatever could be saved from the burning residence, Copeland and Miss Rich became better acquainted and today's wedding was the result.

"I do not know whether we would ever have been married had it not been for the fire," the bride has told her friends.

The bride has many friends in Oakland and is well known in social circles across the bay.

ELOPING COUPLE ARE SILENT; PARENTS ANXIOUS.

It develops that to matrimony and not to her son-in-law is the objection of Mrs. R. C. Morris, society woman of Oakland, whose daughter, Miss Claire Morris, left her home, 1543 Jackson street, Tuesday afternoon, and eloped with Arthur Hoos, former clerk in the Central National Bank.

"My daughter is so young," said Mrs. Morris, tearfully, yesterday. "Art is a good boy, handsome, well-read and an altogether fine fellow, but I do not want him for my son-in-law. I did not want any one for my son-in-law just now."

Mrs. Morris awaits word from her daughter, from whom she has not heard since the telephone message announcing that the couple had been married by Superior Judge Graham in San Francisco.

"In the meantime," said Mrs. Morris yesterday, "I have not made up my mind what I shall do. My attorney tells me there is really nothing I can do, and I suppose I must abide by his decision. It has been a great blow to me because I did not think there was this danger. I knew that Artie and Claire thought a great deal of each other, but I did not believe that they would take this step without my permission."

OLD ROMANCE IS ENDED BY WEDDING.

A romance involving four corners of the United States culminated yesterday in the office of Justice of the Peace James O. Quinn, in the marriage of Miss Elma Brieger, aged 22, of El Paso, Tex., and Edward R. Magill of Portland, Ore.

Magill is a New Yorker, stationed for the General Electric Company in Portland. A year ago he met Miss Brieger in Reno. Six months ago they became engaged in Reno. They will live in Portland.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Brieger, now at Placerville.

As soon as the marriage ceremony was performed, bride and groom telegraphed to their respective parents, Mrs. V. L. Magill of Portland and Mrs. Brieger. The newly-weds, however, deny that there was an elopement. Mrs. Magill has telegraphed blessings, but, it is understood, the Brieger blessings are delayed.

Society Women Taking Military Training

Orders like these may be heard any time after June 1 at the Presidio, for on that day will open a military encampment for society women, with drills and practical training along emergency lines, all under the direction of United States army officers and in charge of the San Francisco chapter of the women's section of the Navy league.

Mrs. Frederick H. Colburn, regent of the chapter, announced yesterday that she expected several hundred society women to take advantage of the opportunity to secure training. Not only will they be given regular military drills, but they will be trained in nursing under the direction of Dr. George H. Richardson, in code signaling and in telegraphy.

Women from out-of-town and as many local matrons as can be accommodated will make their homes at the camp, which will be kept open for six weeks.

According to Mrs. Colburn, the idea is not to prepare women for war alone, but for disaster or any other emergency, as well as to develop them physically.

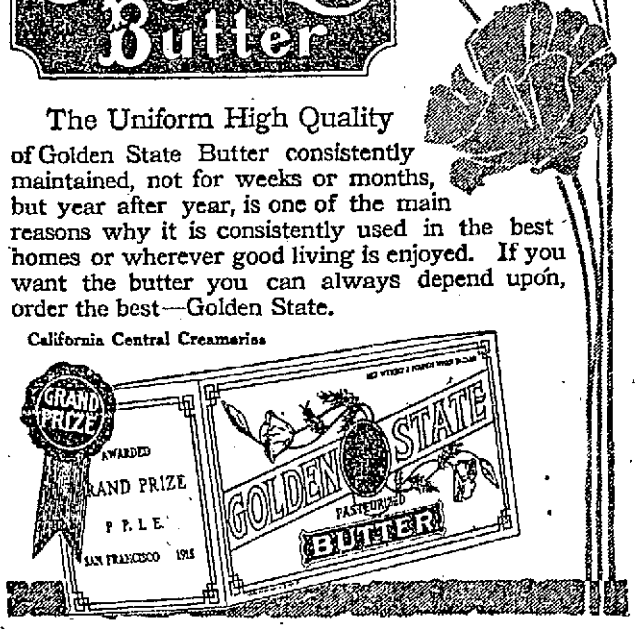

HOLD WATCHMAN; BLOW SAFE

BILLINGS, Mont., April 6.—The general store at Huntley, Mont., fourteen miles east of here, was robbed by two masked men, who smashed a rear window, kept the night watchman, a boy of 16, quiet at the point of a gun, and blow the safe, using five charges of nitroglycerine. They obtained between $500 and $600 in currency, according to county officers who went to the scene.

Golden State Butter

The Uniform High Quality of Golden State Butter consistently maintained, not for weeks or months, but year after year, is one of the main reasons why it is consistently used in the best homes or wherever good living is enjoyed. If you want the butter you can always depend upon, order the best—Golden State.

California Central Creameries

Women in the News

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The relative advantages of the married woman and the bachelor girl have become involved in the election of the president of the California Club, the opposing candidates representing the same faction, and the club being unable to make other distinction in their qualifications. Mrs. D. C. Farnham and Miss Margaret B. Curry, the nominees for the presidency, command the same following in the rank and file of the club, the factions that have grown up in the organization never having meant other difference than that of two groups of friends and Mrs. Farnham and Miss Curry coming from the same group.

Finding themselves in the embarrassing position of owing allegiance to both candidates, the supporters represented by both were compelled to look to personal attributes for the explanation and apology of the final decision as to their vote, and being convinced that both were equally talented, the fact that one had a husband and the other had not, was found to be the only distinction.

And while it has not been conceded by any member of the club that the possession of a husband increases or decreases a woman's value through any reflected light or power, the obligation such a relative entails has been recognized as a modifying adaptability for the executive chair.

When Miss Curry was reminded that she had no legal escort to insure her presence at all evening affairs, she replied by drawing attention to the fact that she would be distracted by no bitter upbraiding at having dragged an unwilling spectator to an unappreciated scene, nor torn with a divided interest because of the anxiety over unprotected children at home. And when Mrs. Farnham was asked what a husband contributed to the qualifications of a president in compensation for the demand upon part of her time, she pointed out that his counsel and advice and the restraining influence of his masculine point of view would place her in the position of having abstract commodities at her command if by any mischance they should ever be required.

Which the members regard, however, as to the great advantage to the club, will only be determined on the first Tuesday in May, when the election returns are counted.

McCARTHY ROMANCE COMES TO AN END.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Operatic singers are proverbially temperamental, but Mrs. Rose Cecelia McCarthy, better known on the operatic stage as Rose Cecelia Shay, and also known in San Francisco society as Mrs. Joseph Fredericks, secured a divorce from Michael Joseph McCarthy yesterday on grounds of simple cruelty, there being no reference to temperament, either in Mrs. McCarthy's testimony or in her complaint.

Mrs. McCarthy was owner of and the prima donna in the Rose Cecelia Shay Opera company some years ago, and her husband also was an operatic star in the same company. For the last three years the couple have been living in San Francisco, where McCarthy, singing under the name of Joseph Fredericks, has been much in demand at club entertainments and benefit performances.

Mrs. McCarthy testified yesterday that her husband frequently stayed away from home for days at a time without offering any excuse for his absence. She also told the Court that she was convinced he was with some other woman during most of these absences. Her testimony was corroborated by her mother, Mrs. Josephine Shay.

The domestic difficulties of the McCarthys were first made public last September, when Mrs. McCarthy swore to a complaint charging her husband with grand larceny. She alleged that he had taken some valuable antique rugs and pieces of statuary from their beautiful home at 34 Presidio terrace and given them to a young woman living in a Bush-street apartment house. Mrs. McCarthy headed a posse of detectives, which she triumphantly bore away the articles which she said belonged to her. After securing these she dropped the felony charge against her husband.

The other woman in the case is said to be Mrs. Hally Graham, living at 1105 Bush street, who said that McCarthy had given her the ornaments taken by Mrs. McCarthy. On the stand yesterday Mrs. McCarthy spoke of her husband's alleged infatuation for another woman, but did not mention any names.

INVITED TO DINNER, SHE KILLS HERSELF.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Slamming the door of her apartment in the faces of friends who attempted to prevent her from carrying out a threat to end her life, Mrs. Clyde Furley, landlady of the Crescent Apartments, 869 Fillmore street, shot herself in the abdomen shortly before 7 o'clock last night. Physicians have little hope that the woman will live.

Mrs. Furley, tenants at the Crescent Apartments say, was invited last night to attend a dinner party in an apartment adjoining her own. She declined the invitation, adding:

"I am going to kill myself!"

Before she could be seized Mrs. Furley locked herself in her apartment. While her friends were attempting to force the door they heard a shot. When the door was forced open the woman lay on the floor, a small caliber pistol nearby.

Mrs. Furley's friends said last night that for the past two weeks she has been heard to make threats to end her life. She said the only reason she did not carry out her threats was the fact that she was unable to obtain a weapon. The woman is 40 years old and married. Her husband, considerably younger, is a bartender.

Lillian Russell's Article on The Busy Housekeeper

A CORRESPONDENT writes me that, being a housewife and mother of small children, she can find no time to devote herself either to physical or mental improvement. I suppose a great many women reach similar conclusions. Women who are managing homes and rearing children have very heavy demands made upon them, both on their time and their energy. This is a fact which cannot be disputed. Yet, no matter what conditions exist improvement is always possible.

Just before reading this letter I listened to the discussion of a man relative to the demands his business made upon his time and attention. This man declared that after working six full days a week for many years at his office he discovered that by systematizing his work he could spend each Saturday afternoon on a golf course. He was a very careful business man and had systematized the work of everybody around him. It was a long time before he discovered that his individual work lacked the system which would make it easier.

I fancy there are many women who might make the same discovery. They are compelled to so systematize their household work that their maids can go out for at least one day each week. The adoption of similar systems in other directions might permit the housewife the same liberties—or at least, an hour or so each day that she could devote to herself.

A nurse once told me that when she first took up her profession she felt there would be long periods when she would have no time to herself. Later she discovered that by systematizing her work and making the best of existing conditions she would get a little time each day, even under the most trying circumstances. Sometimes she nurses very sick people—day and night—for long periods. If she cannot get any farther from her patient than the bathroom she keeps up her physical culture without losing time. She bathes every day. At least once in every twenty-four hours she throws up the windows for a period of exercise—usually simple callisthenics—in the pure air. After her bath she takes a rub-down with a rough towel.

While under the strain of nursing and while securing a minimum of fresh air and exercise, she limits her diet to the foods that are the most nourishing and easily digested. It is her belief that without these simple precautions and the periods that she has been able to snatch for herself by systematizing her work, she could not stand the strain of nursing.

The housewife's duties are varied. Unless she is well supplied with servants, they call for mental as well as physical exercise. There is no time when the home cannot be well ventilated. It should always be kept in this condition.

Simple duties demanding physical exertion can be used to exercise the body if they are properly undertaken. Many household duties can be made most interesting studies if they are considered in their real light and their possibilities are realized.

She is a very busy woman who cannot find time for proper bathing. A rubdown that invigorates and increases the blood circulation takes very little time. A few moments devoted to calisthenics before an open window will work wonders.

We all need a change of scenery. There are at least four changes to every city blocks. Few women are too busy to walk around the block—or several of them—each day. The exercise will do them good and the new faces and scenes encountered will relieve monotony.

The housewife is a busy person. This is a statement that will not be questioned. By systematizing their work practically all women can find time to keep in fit physical and mental condition. Those who neglect or refuse to do so will soon lose value as housewives.

HARBOR OF OAKLAND IS CREATED

ORDINANCE IS GIVEN FINAL PASSAGE

TOLL RATES WILL BE ESTABLISHED

The ordinance creating the harbor of Oakland and placing the control and administration of the harbor in the hands of the city authorities was given final passage by the city council today. This is the ordinance prepared by City Attorney Paul C. Morf after months of study given the harbor problem of Oakland. It has been given the approval of the harbor committee of the Chamber of Commerce. No opposition was voiced before the council to the passage of the ordinance.

Commissioner Harry S. Anderson stated that the work of preparing a new ordinance establishing the rates for tolls, dockage, wharfage and rentals on the waterfront will be rushed. Harbor Manager W. W. Keith will leave for Los Angeles tomorrow to make a study of the harbor toll system in effect there, as the plan adopted by Oakland has been in operation with regard to the harbor of San Pedro for some time.

It is anticipated that over $50,000 a year will be added to the harbor revenues by the operation of the new ordinance. This money will be devoted to harbor improvements and betterments. A resolution creating a harbor maintenance and improvement fund, into which all port revenues shall be paid, and from which disbursements shall be made for harbor purposes exclusively, was presented today, but action was deferred until tomorrow.

Present Dance Is Vulgar, Says Mother

BERKELEY, April 6.—Because it is declared objectionable features have been observed in the modern dancing of high school and grammar school pupils here, the McKinley Mothers' club today adopted a resolution opposing the present dances, at least for children.

During the discussion it was asserted that half a dozen boys were removed from the floor during the school dance on St. Patrick's day because their evolutions were termed "vulgar." Noon dances at the high school, it was claimed, had been discontinued. Several members favored carrying the complaint to the Board of Education and barring school dances altogether.

Three Co-eds Win in Bonnheim Essay Test

BERKELEY, April 6.—"Co-eds" came to the fore today when it was announced three girl students and one man had been named winners of the annual competition for the Bonnheim essay prizes. The winners are Luella A. Haney, class of 1918, Modesto; Portia Pearl Baker, class of 1918, Portland, Ore.; Idalene G. Bray, class of 1918, Calistoga, and William R. Dennes, class of 1918. They will next be admitted to competition for the Bonnheim discussion prizes.

PLEADS GUILTY.

Albert C. Moe, who last night attempted to break up a street corner meeting at Eleventh and Broadway, pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness and using profane language today before Jude Samuels.

Gateway Plied With Adjectives

$276 Ornament Urged as Substitute

In suggesting to the city council that a replica of a $276 archway over the boulevard entering San Mateo should be substituted for a design prepared for the Lincoln highway entrance to Oakland, to cost something over $4000, Commissioner Edwards lavished an extensive vocabulary of adjectives today. He said the less expensive arch was "ornate," "dignified," "fine," "substantial," "ornamental," "beautiful both by night and by day," "fitting," "suitable," "almost stately."

Edwards' fellow commissioners failed to agree that a $276 metal and porcelain arch would be a suitable monument as a permanent entrance to Oakland over the Lincoln highway. Commissioner Baccus was asked to obtain estimates for a granite and metal gateway, consisting of two granite columns and a metal arch. The matter will be considered at length when next year's budget is discussed.

Consideration of the recommendation from the park board that the city purchase a park site at High street, Brookdale and Lyon avenues, was deferred by the city council till April 17, pending a conference between the council and the park board.

Rotary Club Chooses Convention Delegates

Three delegates and four alternates to the annual convention of the International Association of Rotary Clubs, were chosen by the Oakland Rotary Club at noon today. The delegates are V. O. Lawrence, the president; John F. Smith and Frank Mayhew. The new president of the organization to be elected in the near future will be the fourth delegate. The alternates chosen were Dr. A. C. McDaniel, Albert E. Carter, Lance Richardson and Alexander Stewart.

The convention will be held in Cincinnati, O., in July. Pacific Coast delegates will go on a special train after gathering in Oakland.

The Rotary Club voted today to consolidate its luncheon next Thursday with that of other commercial organizations in honor of the opening of the home baseball season by the Oakland Club of the Pacific Coast League.

MUST ANSWER HIGHER COURT.

George Davis, captured after he had kicked a plate glass window to shattered glass and had stolen four hats, was held to answer today by Judge George Samuels on a charge of burglary for stealing the hats from the store of Davis Bros. & Weismann, 815 Broadway. Bail was fixed in the sum of $2000.

PRESS LORIMER CASE.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The state today closed its case in the trial of William Lorimer, charged with conspiracy in connection with the failure of the LaSalle Street Trust & Savings bank of which he was president. Counsel for the defense then began argument for the dismissal of certain counts.

FREE FRANCHISE DRAWS PROTEST

Vigorous protest, it is intimated, will follow the action of the city council in adopting a resolution by which the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways obtains the privilege, without obtaining a franchise, of establishing some kind of street car service between Broadway and Webster street, across the old Moffitt property, on the east side of Broadway, opposite the blind end of Twenty-second street.

Twenty-second street, marking the old charter line of the city of several decades ago, has never been opened east of Broadway. Some time ago a real estate movement for the extension of the highway was begun and later the Key System evinced an alleged desire to obtain trackage across the intervening block.

But the company did not want a franchise, it appears. So an arrangement was made with members of the city council and real estate men, in conference with traction company officials, by which the Piedmont Building Association, holders of the Moffitt property, became the center of the project.

This company gives the traction company permission to lay tracks in the center of a strip crossing the Moffitt property, and gives the two sides of the strip to the city. In the original application, the company did not say what kind of service would be given, and it was considered generally that the Key Route sought an outlet around Lake Merritt by way of Grand avenue.

The resolution and agreement stipulate that the street extension shall be 80 feet wide. It is presumed now that the traction company will run light cars connecting with the Key system, through the Grand avenue route, similar to the Twelfth street service now in vogue.

The terms of the agreement and resolutions are these:

The council granted permission for short track connections in Broadway and Webster streets, connecting the present lines with the tracks which it is proposed to lay down in the so-called new street. This permission is revocable at the will of the council and is for "street railway purposes only."

The council then accepted two deeds from the Piedmont Building Association, owner of the land between Broadway and Webster street. The first of these deeds is for two strips of land twenty-seven and a half feet in width each, one each side of the proposed railway tracks, these strips being dedicated for a public street, but with the right to place trolley poles and overhead wires reserved. The second deed covers the twenty-five-foot strip in which the rails are to be laid, and grants to the city certain uses of this strip which will not conflict with its use for street railway purposes. Actual ownership of this strip is to be decided by the Piedmont Building Association to the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, subject to the rights reserved to the public use, and to be decided on condition that the railway company puts in the necessary tracks and paves the street.

The city receives the use of this strip, consisting of twenty-five feet of tracks, paralleled on either side by twenty-seven and a half feet of paved street, in return for granting permission to make track connections with the tracks in the twenty-five-foot strip in the center of the so-called eighty-foot street.

Protests were made by Dr. F. J. Todd and Colonel Charles Sonntag, residents of Grand avenue, who feared that the Key Route Twenty-second street trains would be run over Grand avenue.

Those advocating the granting of the permit were Attorney Edward Engs, Fred L. Reed, Walter Leimert, Frank Woodward, Thomas Thompson.

Show Carnival Has Many Big Features

An enthusiastic crowd of young and old welcomed the C. H. & S. United Railroad show carnival at its opening performance at Twenty-fourth avenue and East Fourteenth street Tuesday evening.

There is a vim and dash to the show which combines many of the sensational zone features of the Panama-Pacific exposition across the bay.

Then there is "Salt Bush" Bill, Australian whip snapper, who can do more things with his leather snake than most men could do with an entire circus.

The Egyptian "double boy" is an unusual contribution to the show, while the American Indian band sends forth melodies and smashing airs that please and thrill.

At the head of the big show are several local men: William Curtis, William Stevens and J. C. Hogan, treasurer. Hogan was formerly associated with James E. Bailey and later with Barnum and Bailey's circus. All are experienced show men.

S. F.-United Railroads Come to Deadlock

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Hope of peaceful relations between the city of San Francisco and the United Railroads all but vanished today. At a continuation of the conference between city officials and officers of the corporation in the city hall all said a deadlock had been practically reached.

Chairman Edward Wolfe of the supervisors public utility committee, declared in meeting that the United Railroads and the city "had come to the parting of the ways."

Two points of difference face the conference: What price the municipal railroads shall receive for transfer exchanges with the United Railroads, and whether the city lines may use U. R. R. tracks in Sixteenth street.

City Attorney Percy Long says the only legal objection to the Church street cars using the United Railroads tracks in Sixteenth street is the clause in the United Railroad franchise which prohibits a rival company to parallel United Railroads tracks for more than five blocks.

Statewide Search for Missing Jeweler

Statewide search has been instituted for Henry Andrus, also known as Andrews, who has been missing since last October. Andrus is a jeweler by trade and was last heard of in Weed, California, where he was in business. When last seen he was in possession of a considerable sum of money and diamonds, and it is feared he has been made the victim of foul play. His wife and two children are in the care of friends. The search is being conducted by Mrs. C. B. Hurley of 1153 Bay View avenue, a daughter in this city and Jerome D. Andrus of Pawnee, Neb., who has come to California to assist in the search for his brother.

PLAN DETAILS OF BIG CELEBRATION

The Meeting Tuesday Night to Name Committee for the Fourth.

Plans for the big July 4 celebration which will be held in Oakland this year are being arranged in detail by the Merchants' Exchange. Secretary Wilber Walker was authorized to send out letters this week to the entire membership of the exchange, the city and county officials, the officials of all nearby communities and many of the prominent citizens of Oakland to attend the big citizens' meeting which has been called for next Tuesday night, and at which preliminary committees will be appointed. This meeting promises to be among the largest held for a long time and judging from the enthusiasm already shown the celebration this year will be the greatest ever.

A letter from Commissioner F. F. Jackson asking the support of the exchange for the motorizing of the police department was read without taking any action. Chief of the Fire Department Elliott Whitehead has estimated that the cost of eliminating horse-driven apparatus would cost $177,200, with a yearly saving of over $30,000 to the city. While the exchange will probably act favorably upon the matter at the same time it has tried for years to secure a reduction of the fire insurance rates of the board companies. It is pointed out that although the city is expending money in increasing fire-fighting facilities and decreasing the fire risks, those companies are not decreasing the rates to the merchants, but in some instances have increased them.

Further consideration of the garbage problem is being taken by the special committee appointed by the exchange to report to the city council on this matter. Mayor Davie has thanked the committee for the partial report recently filed.

Geography Exhibit First of Its Kind

For the first time in this region teachers of geography and principals of schools have an opportunity to see assembled in one exhibit the publications on geography of all publishing houses. The exhibit includes text books supplementary readers, teachers' reference library as well as an extensive exhibit of maps and charts.

Professor Lusley of the department of geology and astronomy of Mills college has been interested in working out plans for this exhibit. The object is to show the public what is available for instruction purposes and how the contents and teaching of geography have changed during recent years.

Oakland Man Given High Princeton Honor

Shirley Howard Weber, who graduated from the University of California in the class of 1907, has been awarded highest honors in the Graduates' School of Princeton university, it was announced here today. Weber is a resident of Oakland.

The Princeton faculty has selected Weber as the best student in the Graduates' school and named him Porter Ogden Jacobus fellow for the period of 1916-1917.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—Advertisement.

"All Bosh— Coffee Doesn't Hurt Me" says the cynic—but, we live and learn and at some time of life many coffee drinkers wake up to the fact that the drug, "caffeine," in coffee is "getting them."

Headache, nervousness, biliousness, heart flutter, insomnia, etc., are often signs that coffee is getting in its work; and the growing knowledge of its true nature has led thousands of former coffee drinkers to turn to

INSTANT POSTUM

This famous food-drink tastes much like mild Java coffee, but is entirely free from caffeine and other harmful elements ever present in coffee. It is made of whole wheat and a small portion of wholesome molasses, and permits Nature, unhampered, to carry on her work of daily re-building brain, nerves and muscle.

Postum comes in two forms: The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum requires no boiling—a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes a delicious drink—instantly. Both forms are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.

Malone and Johnson Treat Fans to Great Bout

Featherweight Maulers Box Fast Draw Before Enthusiastic Crowd

Frankie Malone and Lee Johnson, featherweight marvels, jabbed, ducked, side-stepped and fought four rounds to a draw at the West Oakland Club last night. Before one of the largest crowds that Tommy Simpson's arena has ever held the two 122-pounders staged as interesting and scientific a boxing bout as one would care to witness. Malone, instead of wading into Johnson and attempting to chase him through the ropes, squared right off with the clever colored boy and met him at his own game—boxing. From the first round to the start of the fourth neither had a shade.

MALONE THE AGGRESSOR.

It was a case of Malone leading and Johnson countering or hooking his opponent with a right or left jolt the moment he saw an opening. Johnson seldom led to Malone. He contented himself with standing off, making Frankie miss, and then stepping in with both hands flying in the air. In the opening round Lee clipped Malone three times in a row through that method, the Watts Tract boy's chin being the recipient of the jolts.

MALONE WON LAST ROUND.

In the second, Frankie seemed to get going. He worked in and out like a veteran, ducking Johnson's wild hooks and yet leading with left jabs and forcing Johnson to beat a retreat all the time. Johnson's shade, which he had earned in the first round, was easily evened here. The third session was even, while in the fourth Johnson appeared uneasy and Malone, as fresh as if the bout had just commenced, took the aggressive and forced his ebony opponent all around the ring. Johnson tried hard all the time, however, mixing left uppercuts with right hooks and right crosses that felt all too frequently on the arms and gloves of the Watts Tract boy. The gong found both boys trying hard to turn the tide in their favor, with Malone playing for Johnson's stomach and Johnson stepping nimbly on his feet and making Malone miss.

Dick Adams gave the bout to Johnson, Bill L'Heureux called for a Malone verdict, while Cronin gave the best decision of the night—a draw.

The fans were content with the decision and there was hardly a protest raised. With the preliminary lads providing all the slugging and give and take walloping one would care to see, the fans were surely glad to see the feathers assume boxing methods instead of trying to knock each other's head off.

ARROUSEY SHOWS SPLENDIDLY.

ORTEGA WINS AGAIN.

Larry Fitzgerald, San Francisco middleweight, found battling Ortega tougher pickings than he expected and tried intentionally to foul the Mexican bear cat. It was the only way out for Larry and he made the best of his efforts by sending in no less than six low punches to Ortega's groin before Referree Beaumont stopped the proceedings. There was little doubt that Fitzgerald wanted to quit, and took these means so as to get thrown out of the ring. After the contest, Captain O'Brien stated that Fitzgerald had made his last appearance in Oakland; that is, until he can assure the fans that he is a cleaner boxer than the Fitzgerald who quit to Ortega last night.

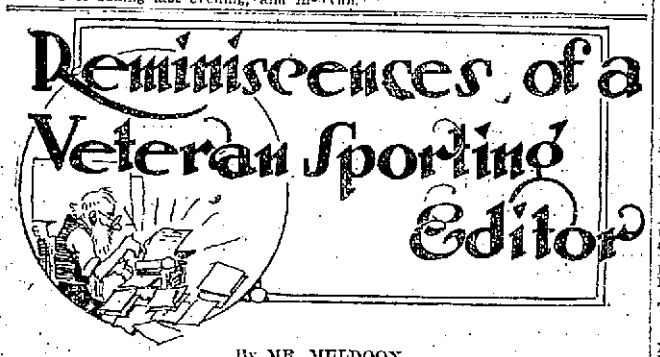

LUSCHER EARNS DRAW.

Frank Luscher and Willie Robinson fought four rounds to a hurricane draw, Robinson having a shade. Luscher rocked Willie with a right to the jaw in the third for the most damaging punch of the bout. Robinson had the first two rounds, Luscher took the third, while the fourth was even, with Robinson having a shade. He justly earned the decision, but the fact that Luscher tried hard all the time and put up a plucky battle prompted the judges to call the affair a draw.

Willie Webb, the Morago Valley wild cat, surprised the audience by holding Soldier Woods to a draw. The two mixed matters hard all the time, with Webb forcing the going and not giving the soldier lad time to get set. Woods rocked Webb with right smashes to the jaw on numerous occasions, however, and the fans were kept on edge throughout.

Jim Phillips added another knockout to his credit, Charley Yolsta, a San Francisco walloper, being Jim's victim this time. A right jolt to the chin turned the trick. Willie Byrne was too classy for Young Sylvester and took the judges' verdict, while Joe Gorman made a great hit with the fans by besting Billy Sullivan.

Reminiscences of a Veteran Sporting Editor

By MR. MULDOON.

Among the less reprehensible diversions of John W. Steele or "Coal Oil" Johnny as he was now universally known, was his princely gifts to concert saloon dancers and minstrel performers for whom he had a special liking.

Meeting Cool Burgess, at that time a famous negro minstrel, Johnny said, "You want something in that scarf," and taking him into Kelly's jewelry store in Philadelphia he said, "Choose!"

Burgess was not so weak but that he could choose a $1500 diamond. A crowd of men followed him into a Ninth street saloon.

And when they had drunk out of and battered the tiles he marched them into Oakford's, then Philadelphia's leading hatter, and dressed their heads anew at $20 per. Being caught on Arch street in a rain he spied a cab.

"Take me to the Girard."

"This cab's engaged."

"Is it engaged now?" shoving a $100 bill into the driver's hand.

"I think not," said the cabman as he took the generous fee.

When Skiff and Gaylord brought their minstrel troupe to the concert hall, Steele became enamored with its life.

Here was something better than organizing a colored band in Locust street, giving it heavy gold braided uniforms and silver instruments—under the masterful intuitions of "Majah" Teagle. He was wearying of sounding brasses in front of the Girard.

"If you will serenade me tonight I will back the show," said Johnny to Skiff and Gaylord.

Could ordinary minstrel nature withstand this?

Never; and the thing they played was "Coal Oil Johnny Was His Name," and that earlier composition of "Champagne Charlie."

When Johnny appeared on the balcony it was to answer the cheers of the multitude with dollar bills.

He not only reclothed the Skiff and Gaylord enterprise, gave it from Klemm's famous Market street store the finest possible orchestral outfit, but he bought a locomotive, baggage car and two sleeping cars to make it the first of traveling shows with such an equipment.

When the organization started on its career of sumptuous travel it was estimated that Steele had spent $200,000—in less than two months. From Philadelphia "Coal Oil Johnny" went to Saratoga.

That Spa was then a veritable gambling palace on wheels and John Morrissey, the famous prize fighter and congressman, was the head of its affairs.

At Saratoga where Johnny gambled while the minstrels played, and where Morrissey took $10,000 from him in one sitting, an old man came up to him, and laying his hand upon his shoulder said:

"Do not forget the words of Franklin: 'Always taking out of the meal tub and never putting in soon comes to the bottom.'"

Whereas Steele rose up:

"Gentlemen, under my new lease I am getting $50,000 a week" (which was somewhat an extravagant enlargement of the real figures) "and if you think I have gotten to the bottom of the tub, there is a roll of $10,000.

"Let me tell you one and all, that I once hauled oil ten miles in Venago county, and if the worst comes to the worst I'll haul it again," a saying which was prophetic.

At Utica the minstrel company went on a two weeks' carouse, he paying the bills and the estimated receipts for a fortnight.

The way to far off Chicago was dotted all the way along by these excesses.

In that city when he heard that the splendid Crosby Opera house, the finest extant in America, could not be leased for a "nigger show," he is said to have driven up in state and to have planked down a mass of $200,000 before the owner.

"Will you lease it for a benefit?"

"No," was the answer, "but I will give it."

All meteors, astronomers say, eventually find the earth.

"Coal Oil Johnny" hit the ground in 1897.

In three years he had squandered millions and when he least expected it, the oil stopped running at the old farm; the stream had dried up.

When he had no more money and his credit was exhausted, the parasites dropped off like gnats from a bloodless carcass. His wife had managed to get $50,000 from him but the bank in which she deposited it failed.

By the sale of some jewels he had sent her she managed to own a modest little home, but Steele did not, like the prodigal of old, immediately return.

Like one awakening from a debauch, there was a hazy memory that at times and places he had left money in packages for safe keeping.

He began to retrace his steps. At Oil City he discovered a trunkful of old clothes and in the pockets $5000.

The ardor of speculation seized him and in a few weeks it was gone. Instead of despair here came the inspiration of work. He would get back to Philadelphia. He could drive the stage for the Girard. But Kanaga said:

"Your creditors have filed their claims against your estate, for a Pittsburg court has adjudged you to be a bankrupt and you had better get back to the oil country."

These were the claims:

N. W. Kanaga, Hotel Girard	$18,824
W. E. Galbraith, attorney, Erie	10,000
J. E. Caldwell & Co., jewelry	5,805
J. D. Jones, harness	1,280
W. S. Horn, Philadelphia, cigars	58
E. H. Conklin, Philadelphia, liquor	2,024
Phelan & Collender, billiard tables	2,000
Various hatters	300
Claim by Teagle	3,500
Total	$44,789

This surely tells the story of a royal spree from which Steele had a fast awakened. He had bought experience. He would go home.

On his return he stopped at Wilkesbarre and learned of an unclaimed package at one of the banks there. He presented himself, was identified and put into possession.

It contained $10,000. He had never remembered it.

Now he would make peace with his wife and the longing for his little son seized him. But first he would test himself with work, and he engaged himself as a freight handler at Oil City, and by gradual approaches (the mark of shamefacedness) reached his wife.

And what became of him?

Ask the people of Ashland, Nebraska, to which place he afterwards removed the reunited family.

Would anyone suspect that this farmer of sixty-seven or sixty-eight enjoying the respect of his neighbors, was ever that veritable fool of fortune, "Coal Oil Johnny?"

OLDFIELD TO TOUR CROSS CONTINENT

LOS ANGELES, April 6. — Barney Oldfield, with a party of friends, intends to tour from here to New York city. He plans to leave his home, Los Angeles, immediately after the Corona race. The wizard of the track expects to reach Gotham in plenty of time for the practice spins preliminary to the gasoline derby scheduled for May 13 on the Sheepshead Bay speedway.

One thing is certain—there will be no nocturnal driving. He wants to enjoy a comfortable bed and his proper rest. He is going to insist that the sleep program he has mapped out shall not be interfered with, as he desires to be in splendid physical condition when he reaches the metropolis.

PRINCETON PITCHER IS UNDER BAN

PRINCETON, N. J., April 6. — Big Bill Deyo Princeton's star pitcher, has fallen under the ban because he played summer ball at Au Sable, in the Adirondacks.

The story that Deyo has joined Le Gor, Watrous, Milburn and others has just come out, though weeks ago Deyo was told by Dean McClenahan that he would never again be permitted to represent the Tigers.

Deyo's case involves a nice point in amateurism. Dean McClenahan and the committee consider that the pitcher has lost his amateur standing because he violated an implied agreement with the dean.

UMPS NAMED FOR THE COLLEGE SERIES

"Doc" Moskiman and Phil Knell, former Coast League pitchers, will umpire the Stanford-California inter-collegiate baseball series, the first game of which is to be played on California field next Saturday afternoon. Moskiman will be used on bases and Knell will judge balls and strikes.

Moskiman pitched in the Coast League for Oakland and San Francisco.

Knell umpired during 1912 and 1913 in the California League and the Coast League staff.

WHITE AND WELLS READY.

KANSAS CITY, April 6.—Charlie White and Matt Wells will weigh in at 3 o'clock this afternoon at 135 pounds for their 15-round bout here tonight. Wells is a slight favorite.

By R. B. BRUNNER.

Just what it means and the cost involved in miscues was borne home to the billiard fans who looked on at the games between Hoppe and Yamada at the Oakland billiard room last Tuesday afternoon and evening.

While Hoppe won the afternoon game, he did not repeat in the evening, and the reason, therefore, was miscues. Never have I had the extreme necessity for care in the game so borne home to me, and I know that it must have been so with the rest of the crowd. Not that Hoppe was careless. But the chances are that he would never have miscued at the times he did if he had given more thought to the possibilities in the very poor lip that he was attempting to use. Had he used that care that he showed in the game, he would have run the evening game out in any one of four innings that he mussed up with that miserable miscue.

But it seems that it takes something like that to happen before Hoppe can lose. Looking on and seeing the wonderful manner in which he handles his cue, you say to yourself, How can he ever miss? His speed is so exact that it seems to the uninitiated that all the shots he has are easy. One could say that everything he does at the table in the way of counting another game do it as well, at least in that individual count. But, of course, they cannot see the wonderful stroke, backed with a knowledge made secure with worlds of practice, that is back of it all. They do not know that most of the things that Hoppe does required years of hard work to learn, much less execute. For, while it is easy to get the fundamental points in the game of billiards and to apply them reasonably well, it is quite another matter to take the technique as he handles it and make anything out of it.

With Yamada it is different. He is more of the rough-and-ready stylist. He pounds them out. And yet at times he nursed the balls with a nice regard for the ideals of the game. Yet he always seemed to depend more on the ability to count under any and all circumstances. This feeling, of course, allows him latitude in speed that Hoppe will not allow himself. That is the reason that the Japanese player nasses so very much offener than does Hoppe. With Hoppe and his perfect speed it is not necessary. But Hoppe, to my mind, is far better in the masse as it arises in the play than is Yamada. That is, he makes the shot with a strict attention to detail and nearly always does the perfect thing with it. Yamada counts in that as in the rest of the game. He counts, but does it without that class that distinguishes Hoppe from him in all the other departments of the game.

The evening game was very close and exciting. The average was way up—around 35. Both of the players made some very nice runs; 155 for Hoppe was beautifully done; 123 was the best that Yamada did, but that was only for the reason that he had no farther to go to win the game. He really did some classy work in this appearance at the table. Hoppe was retired in all of his large runs by the aforesaid miscue. The runs and innings of the evening game follows:

The afternoon game was much the fastest, as far as average went, but not nearly as close. The score:

Yamada, 2-33-10-0-42-49-5-30-29-2; total 202; average 20 1-5.

This will be the last time that the players will appear on the coast for many a moon. Both of the players are on the briny deep, bound for the Orient, and going strong. They will find plenty of enthusiasm over that way, for the game goes big with the far easterner. It may be that the future champ will hail from that part of the globe. Who knows?

John Daly of New York defeated Ben Saylor of San Francisco last night in the first block of a 150-point red-ball match billiard game. Daly made two brilliant runs of ten points each, and on another occasion counted a string of nine. The two experts will play the second block of the match tonight.

In the open pool tournament G. Grossberg of Oakland was defeated by G. Kimball of San Francisco. The score was 75 to 20, Kimball running the string out in twelve innings.

TIGERS TURN OLDHAM OVER TO SEALS

DETROIT, April 6.—The Detroit baseball club has released Pitcher "Red" Oldham to San Francisco, under an optional agreement.

Oldham went to Detroit from the Buffalo club of the International League, and was with the Tigers part of the 1915 season. He worked in seventeen games while with Detroit, winning two and losing none. His runs responsible record shows an average of 2.13. Oldham had his best year with the Providence team in 1914, that club winning the championship that season, where he won 14 games and lost 7.

CAMPUS EXCITED OVER CLASH WITH STANFORD TEAM

Final Practice Game Before Intercollegiate Clash Today.

BERKELEY, April 6. — Baseball enthusiasm is at its height at the University of California with the Stanford-California series but two days off. Both teams are putting in their final spurt before resting tomorrow for the Saturday game, which will open the series. Stanford arrived on the scene Tuesday noon and worked out on California field both Tuesday and Wednesday and will hold their final workout Thursday morning with a possibility of a light practice Friday.

California played Agnews an eleven-inning game on Tuesday, which resulted in the defeat of the Berkeley team by a 2 to 0 score. Stanford watched the contest. Yesterday a light batting practice was held by Zamloch's squad while the Freshmen game took the center of the stage. Today Zamloch will send his men against the Maxwell Hardware company for the final hard day of work and tomorrow it is thought he will give them some batting and signal practice. The position of left field is still in doubt but that of catcher is practically assured. Raynor Gimbal will probably go behind the bat. Gimbal's rise into baseball prominence was nothing short of sensational. Two weeks ago he was an outfielder on the second team and when injuries to three of Coach Zamloch's catchers forced him to look around for aid, Gimbal asked if he might try out behind the bat.

He was given his chance and, although of slight build, actually threw his way into prominence with one of the best arms that has been behind the bat on California field for some time. He was given particular instruction and attention and the result was that in the short time of a week and a half he was developed from second string outfielder into a first string catcher.

COMPTON AWARDED TO BRAVES

CINCINNATI, April 6.—The National Baseball Commission today awarded the services of Player Bush Compton to the Boston National League Club. Compton deserted the Kansas City club and signed with the St. Louis Federals.

The St. Louis club claimed his services under the rules of the peace agreement, but the commission stated that as Compton had returned to organized baseball by signing with the Boston team previous to the signing of the peace agreement, the latter team was entitled to his services.

25 STATES COMPETE IN RIFLE SHOOT

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The National Rifle Association announced last night that 223 contestants had entered the association's individual gallery championship matches which began Monday. Each contestant, shooting in his home range, will be scored during the three weeks of the tournament on the basis of fifty shots each week, with a 22-caliber rifle at 75 feet. Those competing are scattered through twenty-five states. Medals will be awarded to the ten finishing with highest scores.

CLEVELAND PLAYERS SENT TO MINORS

CLEVELAND, April 6.—Secretary Robert McRoy of the Cleveland American League Club, announced yesterday that two players had been sent to the minors from the squad now in training at New Orleans. They are Fred Thomas, third baseman, sent to New Orleans and Al Collamore, pitcher, sent to Portland, Ore. Collamore was obtained in mid-season last year from the Cleveland American Association team.

WELLS AND WHITE FINISH TRAINING

KANSAS CITY, April 6.—Matt Wells of England and Charley White of Chicago finished training today for their bout here today, when they will box fifteen rounds to a decision. They have agreed to make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock. They have met three times, Wells gaining a 12-round referee's decision and a ten-round newspaper verdict, while White has a close ten-round newspaper victory to his credit.

"LADIES' DAY" WILL BE SUSPENDED

As today is the opening day in Coast League circles in Oakland, the regular admission fee will be charged to the ladies. This will also stand next Thursday, when the Oakland club opens their season here. After that ladies may enter the park free of charge each Thursday afternoon.

OAKLAND TRACK SQUAD EN ROUTE TO LOS ANGELES

Tech and Oakland High Seeking Honors in Southern Meet.

Oakland Technical high, which took second place in the Northern California prep meet at Stanford, Saturday, losing out to San Jose high by only one and one-half points, will be well represented in the California Interscholastic Federation championships at Los Angeles, Saturday. Five of Tech's best athletes left last evening for the southern metropolis. They include three first place winners at Stanford, namely, Guy Calden, Cutey McMeekin and Bob Hutchinson.

Calden won both the hundred yard dash and broad jump events; Hutchinson established a new record for the Stanford Interscholastic meet in the quarter; while McMeekin jumped five feet eight inches to first place in the high jump, outdoing Angell, last year Palo Alto star by one-eighth of an inch.

Andy Sves, distance man who first rose to fame through the TRIBUNE Marathon, and Johnny Black, star Tech all round athlete and track captain, will make up the Tech outfit. Coach Jimmy Thoburn accompanied the team.

The five huskies and Coach Thoburn will arrive in Los Angeles tonight. Friday they will work out on the Los Angeles field, where the C. I. F. meet will be staged.

FACE HARD PROPOSITION.

Though the Tech lads are remarkably good athletes they figure to find things exceedingly hard when it comes to matching their wares against Los Angeles' "finest." The records of the Los Angeles boys seem to shade those of the local crew. Paddock, Pasadena high sprinter, covers the century in 10:2. Calden can traverse the distance in about the same time, so the fight between the pair should be a hot one. Fitzsimmons of Manual Arts is a consistent 53 man. Hutchinson, Tech entry, did :54 at Stanford, Saturday, but with better competition should improve.

Harry Lamport, Manual Arts, who has a mark of 21 feet 7 inches to his credit should give Guy Calden a merry time in the broad jump, Saturday. Guy only leaped 20 feet 7¼ inches, which enabled himself to gain first place. However, this jump would not even put him in the money in Southern California, as Lamport, Davis, of L. A. Poly and Hall of Santa Paula high are all good for 21 feet or better.

In the high hurdles, Johnny Black will not be in it with Lamport, Manual Arts' captain, going over the high barriers in close to 16 seconds. This same chap steps over the lows in 25 2-5. The best mark for the high stick event at Stanford, Saturday, was 17 flat, won by Henderson, Oakland high. The same athlete, who reminds old Oakland high followers of "Demy" MacIsa, won the low hurdles event in 25 1-5. Black finished second to Henderson in the highs and didn't even figure in the lows.

SOME JUMPER.

McMeekin, who jumped 5 feet 8 inches into first place at Stanford, will have to increase his mark to two inches if he wants to beat Moore, the colored representative of South Pasadena high. Altschuler, Southern California's leading prep half miler is good for 2:05 4-5. Silvas will have to run mighty hard to beat this figure. In the mile, Andy will find a 4:34 man against him in Woods of South Pasadena. Tech's relay team figures to give the best Southern California can offer a stiff time. Instead of Starrett, who ran the second lap at Stanford, McMeekin will fill in. With Calden, Hutchinson and Black, Tech's quartet should easily traverse the half mile relay distance in 1:21. McMeekin is easily as fast as Starett, so Skip's absence will not handicap the Tech team in the least.

Neilson, Oakland high captain who hurls the shot put around 45 feet and the javelin 140 feet, Henderson, county hurdling champ, and Norman Ronoli, 12-flat pound sprinting marvel will represent the Blue and White.

ALAMEDA, April 6.—With 700 youngsters entered in the competition and fully 2000 taking part in the gymnastic exercises, Alameda will stage her annual public school track and field meet at Linen park Saturday. Otto Hittler, physical instructor of Alameda High School and superintendent of athletics in this city, will conduct the meet. All of the grammar schools of this city will be entered. The meet will start at 1:30 and will take up most of the afternoon.

WOMEN ENTER FOR SEQUOYAH PLAY

Entries for the invitational women's golf tournament to be played at the Sequoyah Country Club on Wednesday afternoon, April 12, are announced as follows:

Mrs. Julian Thorne, captain of the women's team of the San Francisco Golf Club with Mrs. Gus Taylor, Mrs. A. R. Pommer, Mrs. Fred McNear, Miss Edith Chesebrough, Mrs. McMillin, Mrs. Alma Rothschild, captain of the Burlingame team; Mrs. Dennis Searles, president of the Sequoyah team; Mrs. Douglas Watson, captain of the Menlo Country Club women's team; Mrs. H. H. Sherwood, captain of the Claremont team, and among others, Miss Marie Tyson, Mrs. Charles Wingate, Mrs. John Griffin, Miss Alice Knowles and several members of the Beresford Club of San Mateo.

The trophies will be five silver cups, for the best gross and best net scores, and second best gross, and net, with a consolation trophy.

This will be the first invitational women's golf tournament held at the Sequoyah Club and golf clubs about the bay are taking a keen interest.

OREGON GOVERNOR TO BOOST FOR BEAVERS

SALEM, Ore., April 6.—Governor Withycombe has accepted an invitation from the Portland baseball boosters club to be present at the first game of the Pacific Coast League here Tuesday April 18. The governor will open the game by tossing the first ball from his box into the diamond. "I hope I can give the Beavers a better start this year than they had last" said the governor today "and from what I have read of the team working out in the south it seems to me that the chances are bright for a winning team this year."

SHEA GOES TO GREAT FALLS.

SPOKANE, April 6.—Daniel Shea, former catcher on the Spokane and Tacoma clubs, signed a contract today to catch for the Great Falls, Montana, Northwestern League Club. He departed today for Everett, where he will join the Great Falls training squad.

Seals Bludgeon Their Way Into 8-4 Victory

Poll Perritt and Sammy Bohne the Shining Lights Across Bay

Making up with the bludgeon what they lacked in the defense, the Seals busted their way to victory yesterday over Portland, 8 to 4. The House of Wolverton outhit the Beavers two to one and profited by the wildness of McCredie's marksmen, Oscar Harstadt of Cleveland and Jimmy Clark of Vancouver. Harstadt walked five men and hit another in the five innings he occupied the center of the diamond, and Clarke, who succeeded him, threw seven straight balls before he could locate the plate. Altogether, nine Seals got to base on either a pass or a paste in the ribs. In addition, the tribesmen from the north committed three bobbles, so it is small wonder that San Francisco is now fifty-fifty on the series.

Our old pal, Floyd "Poll" Perritt, former Angel, and the world's champion conversationalist amongst pitchers, flung the Seals to victory. Perritt, always a wonder in the spring, pitched a swell game, scattering the six hits over as many innings. With better support behind him, he might have kept the opposing score even lower, but the "Tumbling Twins," Jerry Downs and Sammy Bohne, spilled the beans four times.

It was quite a day for the youthful Seal shortstop, who is trying to make the fans forget Roy Corhan. Sammy tore his pants, got two hits, and scrambled everything that came his way. The scorer winked at several misplays of Sammy, but not so the fans. They rode him pretty hard, and Samuel will be a game kid indeed if he can survive.

Portland made its runs in the first, second, fifth and ninth innings. Wylie, the McCredie lead-off man, was hit, and Vaughn singled through second right behind him. Perritt tightened up and fanned Billy Speas and then forced young Southworth to hit into what looked like a sure double play. Downs took the grounder and tossed to Bohne at second for the force, but Sammy, overanxious, flung wildly to first, and Wylie scored easily. Guisto ended the inning with a fly to left.

Guisto, by the way, failed to do any damage yesterday, Perritt feeding him a slow curve which seemed to nonplus the St. Mary's boy. This was supposed to be the boy's weakness from the very start.

The Seals went right back at the enemy, and, with two down, Schaller walked and stole, scoring on Bodie's terrific single, which Southworth permitted to escape. Downs' double to center scored Bodie.

In the second inning Fisher made the circuit on a walk, a double by Stumpf and an infield out.

Portland went into the lead in the fifth inning when Pitcher Harstadt walked and made the rest of the journey on a long drive to center by Wylie. The Seals wrested control in the last of the sixth, Downs and Bohne scoring, the former on Sepulveda's single and the latter on a perfect squeeze play executed by the illustrious Perritt.

McCredie started Clarke in the seventh, but the young gent achieved little success. In the two innings he worked he allowed two walks, a hit batter and four hits. The Seals rang the bell four times.

McCredie was uncertain today whom he would pitch on the Oakland grounds, but Wolverton figured on sending Spider Baum in, Charley being particularly successful on the local grounds. Today's game starts at 3:15. Ladies will not be admitted this Thursday because of it being the opening game.

"LET 'EM CHEER," SAYS ROWDY; "WE'LL GET STARTED SOON"

Special to The TRIBUNE

SALT LAKE, April 6. — "Let them cheer while the cheering is good. We will get started before long, and then we will surprise a few people."

This was the way "Rowdy" Elliott expressed himself this morning after the Oaks had dropped their second game to Salt Lake, 5 to 2, and found themselves once again in the familiar cellar.

Salt Lake has always been a hard team to beat on its home grounds, and the Oaks are up against the worst proposition on the circuit.

"Long Tom" Hughes displayed form that amazed even the local fans yesterday when he allowed Elliott's men only four hits and struck out nine men. It was a bitterly cold day, and several of the miscues in the box score can be attributed to the fact that the players' fingers were numb.

Sammy Beer was a trifle nervous in the first round, and Orr, Shinn and Eldred got to him for singles, which coupled with a stolen base, netted a brace of tallies. After that he steadied down until the eighth, when singles by Murphy, Brief and Hallinan brought in one run and a walk filled the bases.

Rube Gardner scored both Oakland runs and also got two lusty hits, one a double.

The first run came in the second, when Gardner singled, reached third while Kenworthy was being run down, and scored on an infield out. In the seventh Gardner doubled and Manager Elliott sent him home with another lusty double.

CHANCE RELEASES INFIELDER.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 6.—Frank Groeling of the Los Angeles club, an infielder, has been sent to the Peoria club of the Three I League under option, Frank Chance, manager of the Angels, announced today.

MERCHANTS ARE ASKED TO BOOST FOR BASEBALL DAY

All Store Windows Should Be Arranged in Honor of Opening Day.

To the Public:

Believing that a winning team is an important asset to Oakland, and that public support will help as much as anything toward securing the pennant for Oakland, merchants and business men of this city are urged to join us in making next Thursday, April 13, a half-holiday in honor of the opening game of the Oakland ball club on its home grounds.

Downtown merchants having window space at their command are urgently requested to arrange displays at once calculated to interest the public in baseball. Figures in baseball suits, photographs of the team, Oakland pennants, souvenirs of the diamond, or anything calculated to arouse interest in opening day, may be utilized to advantage in such displays.

(Signed)

CITIZENS' BASEBALL COMMITTEE.

The Citizens' Baseball Committee at a spirited meeting yesterday announced some of the details for the ceremonies in connection with Opening Day, next Thursday, April 13.

Luncheon will be held in Hotel Oakland at 12 o'clock sharp. Seats will be provided for 500 fans. Of this number, 150 reservations will be made for the Rotary Club, another 50 for the ball players, and the balance of 800 were placed on sale today at various downtown establishments. It is not expected that the tickets will be on sale longer than 48 hours, as the demand for them is very large. Luncheon will cost $1 and will include admission to the game.

The automobile parade will leave Hotel Oakland at 1:15, in plenty of time to get to the ball park and give the players their customary practice.

Harry Brown of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways announced that the Key Route general offices would close at 2:30, and that nearly all the traction officials and employes would attend the game. Similar assurances have been received from city and county offices and most of the big business establishments.

The Oakland school directors announce that any pupil, either grammar or high school, who desires to attend the game will be excused for the afternoon on presenting a letter from the parents to that effect.

Joseph E. Caine, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is lending all his efforts to making the day a big success.

Announcement was made that a big baseball ball will be given at the Auditorium on the night of June 1 to assist in raising the $3050 pennant fund for the Oaks.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Vaughn, second baseman and field captain of the Beavers, is not yet in condition. He is still a bit stiff, and his arm is not as good as it might be. Still, he gave an inkling of his class in the fifth inning when Autrey's grounder caromed off Pitcher Harstadt's glove. Vaughn changed his stride and direction in a flash and made a pretty recovery and throw in time to get the Seal first baseman.

Poll Perritt was using a lightning delivery that disconcerted several sleepy Portland batters. He tried to sneak one over on Bill Stumpf, only to have the Beaver double to center. He caught "Chuck" Ward, the next man, asleep at the switch and slipped over a third strike.

Perritt astonished every one, himself included, when he hit cleanly to right in the second. Bill Speas was so startled he fumbled the ball when he had a good chance to throw the pitcher out.

When Sammy Bohne got his second hit, the bleachers forgave him for the two errors he had made earlier, but then, when he made a couple of more muffs, the fans pronounced his case hopeless.

Wolverton gave an example yesterday of the policy that makes him so popular with the players. Right after Bohne had committed his third error, and it looked as though it might cost the game, the Seal boss walked over to the kid as he came to the bench and patted him encouragingly on the shoulder. "Don't mind a little thing like that, Sammy," he said.

Wolverton must see something in Bohne that no one else does. Harry being a shrewd judge of players, we are willing to abide a bit and refrain from expressing any opinion. Maybe we shall yet agree with the Old Master.

Walter McCredie is having quite a little chin fest this week with Umpire Jack Doyle, whom he has not seen since 1902, when the pair were roommates together as members of the Brooklyn club.

Frank Gay, youthful Seal third sacker, committed one boner yesterday which few people saw. He was on second, with one out, and overlooked the fact that Autrey was on third. Just as Clarke cut loose Gay lowered his head and dashed for third. He was within five feet of the bag when Bohne drove the ball to center for an easy fly. Meanwhile Autrey had hurried back to his bag to try for the run home, and Gay, noting his error, scurried back to second. Willie caught the ball and cut loose for the plate, nabbing Autrey by a yard, and ending the inning. In the general confusion Gay's performance was overlooked.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

MATHIAS AFTER OUTFIELDER.

KRIEGS WIN OPENER.

In their first game of the season the J. J. Krieg Company nine succeeded in defeating the Elmhurst Acorns 8 to 4. "Long" Al Hunter, on the mound for the Kriegs, showed excellent form in the six innings which he worked. Hunter had to retire on account of a sore arm, and Brennan, who followed, worked in masterly fashion. Burnett on short showed to advantage, while Ecker behind the log showed midseason form. The poor condition of the grounds was responsible in a large way for the loose fielding. This was the first appearance of the Krieg team, and within a few Sundays they will be in line for any of the fast country teams. The score:

STACHLERS WIN FOUR STRAIGHT.

The Stachler club made it four straight wins Sunday when they defeated the Peerless club of San Francisco, 16 to 2. The feature of the game was the pitching of Lefty McLaughlin, who allowed but one hit. Lefty was helped a great deal in his twirling by the masterful receiving of Charley Lewis. The Stachler fans are beginning to think that they are one of the fastest teams in their class around the bay. The score:

RATTLERS WIN THIRD STRAIGHT.

The Rattlers club of Alameda won their third straight game of the season by defeating San Anselmo, Sunday, 4 to 0. The hitting of Hobe and Carter, the pitching of Brown and the fielding of Hockins for the winners were the features. The score:

MILLER LOSES PITCHERS' BATTLE.

The longest and most interesting game seen here for some time was played Sunday by two fast semi-pro. teams, the West Ends and the Lake Shores. The Lake Shores finally won after seventeen innings, by the score of 2 to 1. The winning run was scored by Toquist on a walk, a sacrifice by Grimes, and a double by Wee Bradshaw. Long Stan Miller was touched rather freely, and many times it looked as though the winners were going to total up a big score, but quick work on the part of Miller's teammates at the right moment saved the former Stachler star from large defeat.

Next Sunday the West Ends start a three game series with the Acme All Stars, the games will all be played in Golden Gate park, San Francisco. Either Miller or Woods will start for the Ends and Gregory or West for the Acmes.

NINTH INNING RALLY WINS FOR ANGELS

Three Runs In Last Inning Pull Game Out of the Fire.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 6.—Los Angeles won yesterday's game from Vernon, 6 to 5. A ninth inning batting rally by the Angels netted three runs and brought them to victory. Koerner's hitting was easily the feature of the game. He got a double, a triple and two singles and grounded once out of five times at bat.

Score:

The fireworks were started in the ninth when Bassler, batting for Ware, was walked. Maggert slammed out a triple and Fromme was yanked and G. Johnson sent in. Maggert scored on Fisher's sacrifice fly and Wolter fanned. Koerner then came through with his fourth hit, which unnerved Johnson, and McLarry was walked. With these men on the bases young Galloway slammed out the hit that won the game.

St. Joseph's Athletic club on the Bay View grounds by the score of 8 to 2. The main features of the game were the canny box work of Speed Robinson for the winners, and the heavy slugging of Mathews, Cordoza and Wright for the Cubs, also a wonderful catch of a line drive by Cordoza on third that would have meant an extra base had it got by. Vargas was there as usual with his pegging down to second that can not be improved by any catcher in the business. The score:

NAVAL STATION LOSES.

The Agnew State Hospital team defeated the U. S. Naval Training Station Sunday at Agnew by the score of 14 to 5. The Agnew team has been playing all winter and have a team that is in almost perfect condition, while the navy boys have been playing but a few weeks. A return game will be played in a short time and the result may be different. Hargis, of Agnew, did the heavy hitting with four safe drives. Bartlett, with three hits, followed Hargis. Esola scored four runs, one being a homer. Woodmansee showed his versatility by getting behind the log and doing the receiving. He started his last game on the mound and came off with a victory. GOT YOUR TICKET FOR LUNCHEON?

Tickets for the baseball luncheon to the Oaks a week from today may be procured at the following places, if immediate application is made:

Hotel Oakland, Hotel Touraine, Houts & Ramage store, Lynne Stanley's store, Bertillion's stores, Maxwell Hardware Company and George W. Heintz' store.

Those fans contemplating attending the luncheon should secure their tickets at once, as the supply to the general public is limited.

STANFORD AND U. OF W. CREWS IN SHAPE

SEATTLE, April 5. — Fair weather is all that is needed to make Friday's race between the Stanford and University of Washington varsity eights on Lake Washington one of the greatest ever staged here. It is admitted that both teams are on edge. The local gondoliers have been working out twice daily, while the southerners got down to active work today in their own shell, which they received yesterday.

"We think we will win and hope for the best," said Coach Conibear of the local team. It expresses the opinions of all concerned in the race. The weather today is somewhat unsettled.

CALIFORNIA BABES WALLOP STANFORD

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 6.—The California freshmen took the inter-collegiate series from the Stanford "Babe" ball team yesterday by winning a poorly played game, 5 to 4. The Cardinals booted the ball six times, spoiling the good box work of Peterson.

Stanford scored in the first by Messick's triple and a sacrifice fly, and again in the second when Bodystrom reached second on errors and scored on a single by Ryon. Stanford scored two more in the fifth on an error and hits by Peterson and Mitchell.

The Californians put over three in the third when they filled the bases on errors and a hit batsman.

Thompson's long single in the seventh added two more to the Blue and Gold string.

The score:

Club—	R.	H.	E.
California	5	5	4
Stanford	4	7	6

"RED" KUHN GOES TO THE BEAVERS

"Red" Kuhn, former Oak backstop, who was released by "Rowdy" Elliott last week, will hereafter sport a Salt Lake uniform. "Red" was tendered a contract by Cliff Blankenship, it was learned today. Of course, the ex-White Sox accepted, and is at present hurrying on to the Utah metropolis. Kuhn may be seen in action against his former teammates this week. Mark Hannah is doing most of the Bees' work behind the bat.

THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1916.

LEMON GROWERS VICTIMS OF LOBBY.

When the Underwood tariff bill was before Congress and the lemon growers of Southern California, representating one of the many industries of the State, singled out for attack in that Democratic measure, were desperately fighting to prevent a reduction of duty on citrus fruits, it was openly charged by the Republican members of the California congressional delegation that the importers of Sicilian lemons were back of the demand. It was hinted that a large fund had been raised by these foreign importers. This was promptly and vehemently denied by the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee.

A suit recently filed in New York brings to light startling facts that are proving most disconcerting to the administration. The action was brought by William C. Beer and is for $75,000 said to be the balance due on his "promotion contract" which led up to the reduction of duty on California lemons from one and one-half cents to one-half cent.

Over $140,000 was raised to assist in writing into this bill, "in the interest of the consumer," a reduction in one single item among thousands. How much the others cost the foreign importers is not disclosed.

It likewise develops that these importers of lemons from Sicily carried on a successful propaganda whereby 2,000,000 Italian votes were turned to Woodrow Wilson in 1912.

S. S. Amarosa, second vice-president of the Importers' Union, in an interview in the New York Sun, frankly admits the raising of $140,000, but declares he does not know what became of the money or how much went into the Democratic campaign fund. Says Mr. Amarosa:

> We did raise a fund amounting in all to about $140,000, to have the tariff on Sicilian lemons reduced, and we did hire Mr. Beer to have it done. In the United States the importers, by paying 5 cents a box on lemons imported, raised $105,000, and the Sicilian Societies raised $35,000 more. Now that it is all over we are asked for $75,000 more.
>
> What has become of the $140,000? We do not know. We have repeatedly asked for an accounting and have not received it. We have demanded it, and it has not been given to us. We are told to keep quiet, not to raise a row.

Mr. Beer talks as freely as the officers of the Importers' Union.

> I do not mind saying that beginning with 1910 we accomplished some mighty effective work.
> In the Presidential campaign of 1912 the Italians were in full swing for Woodrow Wilson. We organized the Italian Democratic League and had branches all over the country. We did nothing but preach Democracy to them.

The lemon growers of Southern California who are complaining bitterly of the effects of the reduction of duty at least have the satisfaction of learning how it was done and what it cost. They should be charitable, however, and remember that Wilson needed the 2,000,000 votes and Beer the money. After all, the joke is on the consumer, for the importer had to raise the price of lemons to get back the $140,000, and the "common people," in whose interest the Democratic orators spoke so eloquently and feelingly, are as usual, paying the bill. In the meantime, what has become of the Democratic lobby investigating committee?

LA FOLLETTE ELIMINATED.

Senator Robert N. La Follette is no longer the favorite son of Wisconsin. In the presidential preference primaries Tuesday he was repudiated by the voters and his candidacy for the presidency of the United States disapproved. The returns indicate that the delegation to the Republican national convention at Chicago will include only six Progressives; there will be twenty regular Republicans on it.

La Follette is, therefore, absolutely eliminated from the contest for the presidential nomination. A candidate who cannot command the support of his home state is not worthy of serious consideration as a leader for the party in a national campaign. It would be ridiculous for the national convention seriously to consider him; more than that, it would be fatal to the hopes of defeating the Democratic candidate to nominate him. Therefore, Mr. La Follette has not the slightest chance of being seriously considered.

The Wisconsin primary was something besides personal defeat for Senator La Follette. It was a repudiation of the Wisconsin idea of political reforms, of which La Follette was the founder and leading exponent. It was also a serious blow to La Folletteism throughout the country, as the La Follettelian cult of radicalism has become known. Perhaps it would be more correct to say that the result of the election reveals the measure of dissatisfaction with and distrust of the doctrines of La Follette and his followers throughout the country.

The support of Progressive leaders is falling away in every state. Voters are beginning to realize that there was less of real progressivism in their propaganda than ambition to advance their personal interests.

To this general condition as existing in Wisconsin was also added the unsatisfactory public record of La Follette. He has become a propagandist in Congress in favor of an embargo on the export of war munitions; he maneuvered and traded with the Democrats of the Sixty-third Congress, supporting the Federal Reserve currency bill in return for votes for the iniquitous and destructive seaman's law. His ideas of government have been proven unsound and he has been exposed as a theorist of the Bryan type of Chautauqua lecturer. Wisconsin has done well to turn down its thumb on La Follette.

GERMANY'S PEACE CONDITIONS.

Two statements in the address in the German Reichstag yesterday by Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg are of more than passing significance.

One referred directly to the United States. Speaking of what he termed baseless calumnies, Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg said that the reports that Germany contemplated a rush to the American continent to wage war and attempt to acquire new territories, were silly. He declared that Germany would fight for no foot of foreign soil "in either Brazil or any other American country."

To those few Americans who have shown concern over the fear that, should Germany come out of the war victorious, she would at once start aggression in the Western Hemisphere, this will be reassuring. The German Chancellor says Germany has no intention of violating the Monroe Doctrine. To the great majority of American citizens these statements, however, will be received with indifference. We have never felt much fear that the Monroe Doctrine, so far as it seeks to guarantee the integrity of Latin-American countries against European encroachment, would be violated; but it is a feeling born of confidence in the triumph of right and in our ability to preserve that integrity rather than faith in the kindly assurances of European governments. To most of us the source of the after-the-war German scare has been known and we have not been deceived into a panic of speculation.

The statement in Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg's speech that will attract world-wide attention mentioned peace. "Any suggestion of peace on the basis of Prussian military power would make possible only one answer—the German sword," he said.

Inasmuch as the German sword is now drawn, this declaration is not a forecast of peace. It means that the British determination that "Prussian militarism" must be crushed first will have to be modified. Other intimations of Germany's peace terms show that these terms will be hard of acceptance by her enemies. None of the territory captured from Russia will be returned; in the future Poland will look to the West for orders and not toward Petrograd. Belgium will be restored, but it will be a new Belgium, in which the rights of the Flemish-speaking people who sprang from German stock will receive fuller consideration than in the past.

Poland and Belgium as German provinces is the policy of the Imperial Chancellor. The Reichstag speech sounded no note of peace. It means more bitter war.

TARIFF COMMISSION BILL.

The bill for the creation of a tariff commission, which President Wilson plans to force through Congress against the advice of Representative Claude Kitchen and perhaps the opposition of Senator Underwood, has been introduced in the House. It provides for a commission of six and will rest its claim to non-partisanism on the fact that no more than three members may belong to one political party. Its powers of investigation are to be practically unlimited. It may look into every sort of question connected with customs laws and their effects. The members of the commission will study the relations of rates on raw material and finished products, the matter of specific duties as contrasted with ad valorem, and minute details of classification.

Foreign trade is the sphere in which the commission is expected to really justify its existence. Cost of production abroad, "dumping" and "cut-throat tactics," terms with which we have become familiar through the public utterances of Secretary of Commerce Redfield, are to receive special attention.

It is natural that the bill should emphasize the foreign trade situation. For is it not upon the alleged effects of the war and the alleged fear of after-effects of the war that President Wilson is to rely to justify his reversal of policy regarding a non-partisan, scientific tariff commission; to detract attention, if possible, away from his egregious error in repudiating and abolishing the Taft tariff commission. The war is to blame, so the commission must give particular attention to the effects of war, else no campaign capital may be derived from the commission policy. If Mr. Wilson had admitted that he changed his mind on the tariff question in order to steal some of the thunder from his political opponents, it would have been unnecessary to charge the war with sending the nation-old Democratic doctrine of anti-protection to the party dumpheap.

NOTES and COMMENT

Anyhow there will be a short rest for the news-devouring public. It will take some little time to get up a venire for the second Slaughter trial.

Anybody who supposed America could be outdone by Germany, in the matter of single-handedness, has another guess coming. A German may have captured a ship single-handed and brought it into port, but an American has since captured a train and held up its passengers single-handed. There were more people on the train than on the ship.

It is encouraging to learn that Oregon will admit California potatoes. Oregon of late years, and indeed quite recently, has been rather chesty, but it is not generally understood that it had reached the point of excluding potatoes grown in another state. There is a feeling this side of the line that California potatoes are just as able-bodied as any spuds that grow in the ground.

* * *

We leave the Chico Journals and the Pajaronian, from which this is taken, to fight it out: "Butte county's bragging about its prospects and prosperity is given a black eye when we read that it is so poverty-stricken that it can only afford to pay a cent a funeral for its indigent dead. No wonder that Lamson, after testifying against his own daughter, tried to draw down her five days' witness fees."

THREE YEARS TOO LATE.

The president wants it distinctly understood that "the expedition into Mexico was ordered under an agreement with the de facto government of Mexico for the single purpose of taking the bandit Villa," and that in no sense is an infringement of Mexican sovereignty intended.

To be sure. Everybody understands that. And every intelligent person also understands that the expedition has been undertaken precisely three years too late.

The Huerta government was as much of a de facto government as is that of Carranza. Indeed, it was much more so, for it had strength and power. Why wasn't the Huerta de facto government recognized, and why did we not enter into the same arrangement for hunting down bandits with Huerta that we have done with Carranza instead of making common cause with those bandits and supplying them with ammunition?

Had we done so scores of lives of American citizens and of other foreigners would not have been sacrificed and hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of American property would not have been destroyed.

The Mexican policy of the administration has been beneath contempt, so puerile, so senseless, so disastrous has it been.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

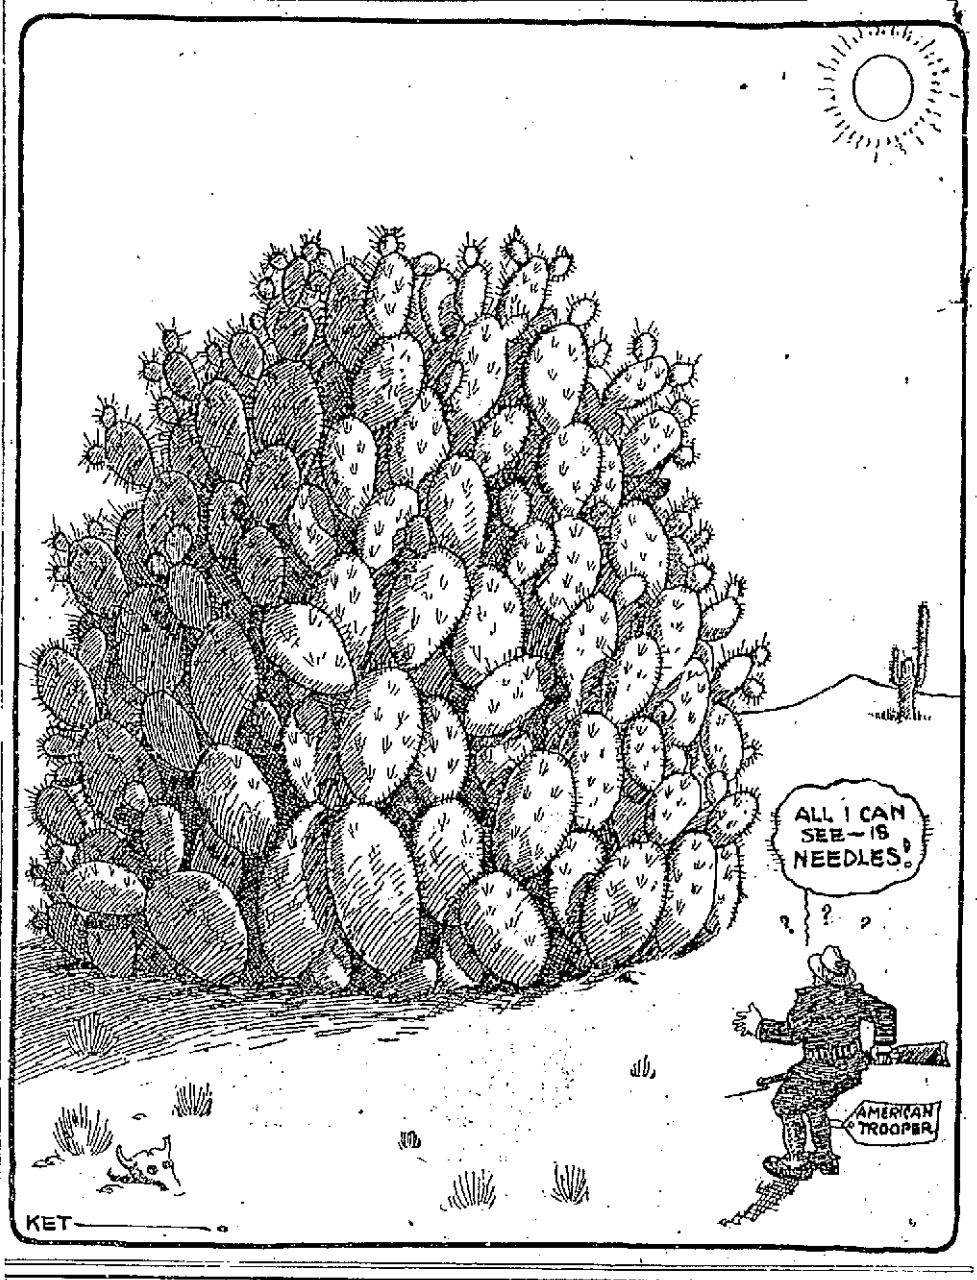

HERE'S A CONUNDRUM.

The Shreveport Times ask this poser: "If it takes the United States army two weeks to get started after a Mexican bandit, how long would it take to properly receive a real enemy?" The suggestion is one that the American people should make sure receives its proper attention at hands of Congress.

WOULD ANY DO IT?

A notice said to be posted in a Swiss hotel reads: "Gentlemen are requested not to comb their beards at table." They seem to have a very strict standard of table manners in Switzerland.—Springfield Republican.

HUNTING THE NEEDLE IN THE MEXICAN HAYSTACK!

ARE WE PREPARED?

The Guards at the Door

THE ordinary American citizen believes that the guns of our harbor defense would be able to prevent a landing of troops on our shores, but the layman does not make a distinction between harbor defences and land coast defences. The guns of our harbor forts may be of value in opposing an attack upon our cities and may be of value in preventing ships entering the harbor, but of land coast defenses, we have none! There are 1000 miles of good beach on our Atlantic Coast on which an enemy's fleet could land without the least opposition any number of troops they might transport to our shores.

We have no guns there; we have no railroad tracks capable of carrying guns to those points; we have not a single armored train in this country for the transportation of troops, guns and ammunition—the ordinary freight car under fire of an army would be almost useless. So far as preventing armed invasion of our country, the guns at our harbor defenses are absolutely useless.

We have forts at Boston, New York, at the mouth of the Chesapeake and on the Pacific Coast. The gun range of these forts is less than seven and a half miles—four and a half miles short of the range of the guns of the battleships which would be sent to attack us. The main entrance of the Chesapeake, leading to Washington, is one and a half miles beyond the extreme range of the guns at Fort Monroe. So that an entire fleet of the enemy could steam through, more than a mile beyond the reach of Fort Henry's guns.

The largest guns we have mounted on our Atlantic Coast defenses are twelve-inch. They carry seven and a half miles. General Crozier, chief of ordnance, who has been in the army forty years, states that if we remount these guns so as to make greater elevation and consequently longer range possible, we must reduce the bursting charge or weaken the penetrating power of the shell.

These guns might be so mounted as to have a range of fifteen miles. At such a distance the "angle of fall" is so great that the principal effect is obtained by the shell falling on the deck. If these guns were remounted so as to have a range of even fifteen miles, the penetrating power of their shells would be practically nil. The penetrating power of the shell, reduced in size from 1000 pounds to 700 pounds, would be but six inches. Six-inch penetration power against modern battleships renders a shell practically useless so far as penetration is concerned. The explosion of a shell which penetrates battleship armor but six inches takes place in the air outside the ship. The real value of an explosive shell is in exploding within the ship, either after penetrating the armor or falling on the deck. In other words, for adequate long distance defense our harbor guns are all useless because of their short length and would have to use small shells if remounted to increase their range. Hence they would be relatively weak if remounted, for either armor or deck attack.

We are, however, soon to mount two new gigantic guns of long range at Sandy Hook. These two guns are to operate in a single turret, hence it will be possible to aim them at but one point at a time. If a fleet of thirty dreadnaughts and battle-cruisers attacked New York, each of the thirty could move about at will, changing its location as often as desired, so that the turret to be placed at Sandy Hook, to be effective against such a fleet, would be compelled to get thirty different aim ranges at the same time for thirty different battleships. But the ships, moving themselves about as much as they pleased, could center their one hundred and fifty guns at the same moment on the one fixed turret at Sandy Hook. Thirty different battleships from thirty different locations could concentrate the shot of one hundred and fifty guns on a single turret at Sandy Hook; yet it could fire at but one single battleship at a time.

While these two long-range guns could fire twenty shots at thirty different moving ships, the battleships could hurl huge explosive shells upon that fixed turret. And all other coast defense guns would be useless in such a conflict because of their short range.

"Most of the guns that are mounted on our coast fortifications—that is, all those of the eight-inch, ten-inch and twelve-inch caliber—date back to a design that was made in the early nineties and late eighties."

The good twelve-inch guns made for the defenses of Panama, after having rested for months and even years on the Cristobal docks, are at last mounted; but our one big gun there, the sixteen-inch gun, which we have been told was so powerful a defense for the canal, is still unmounted. It was tested in 1903 and it rested ten years on the beach at Sandy Hook. It is still unmounted and the carriage for it is still unfinished. When General Wood took charge he immediately called for blue prints of the carriage of this gun, but was astonished to find that the War Department had never even made a design of the carriage. In spite of his urging, it took the department just two years to get the designs ready, and the carriage is not yet finished. This, in itself, is an adequate answer to Secretary Daniels' proposal to have the United States government make its own armor, manufacture its large guns, shells and ammunitions.

RED CROSS TO CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERSHIP

Local Chapter Holds Session and Discusses Plan of Canvass

"Preparedness" to Be Plea of New Unit of Organization

Preliminary steps for the launching of a campaign which will give the newly organized Oakland chapter of the American Red Cross a membership of 5000 or more were taken at a meeting of more than forty of the members of the organization in the rooms of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in Hotel Oakland yesterday afternoon. Further plans will be made at a special meeting to be called next week by the chairman, Dr. John S. Engs.

"Preparedness" was the keynote of the meeting. Each of the speakers emphasized the fact that the American Red Cross, with but 37,000 members throughout the country, would be unable to cope with the conditions that would ensue from any considerable catastrophe or in the event of war between this country and another. All dwelt, also, on the now-existing delicate relations of the United States with a number of foreign powers, and emphasized the fact that the present Red Cross membership, training and equipment, was far too small.

Dr. Engs presided. He was the first speaker. After outlining the work which the Red Cross undertook to do, he asked for support in a local campaign for 5000 members in Oakland. The local organization came into existence less than a month ago, with sixty charter members. Dr. N. K. Foster, director of health in the Oakland schools, is vice-chairman, John Davidson is treasurer and Miss Lucile Leweke secretary.

"It is a disgrace and a shame to our country that the American Red Cross has so small a membership," Professor C. B. Bradley, who is chairman of the Berkeley chapter of the organization, told the members. "Japan has 1,800,00 trained men and women in its Red Cross; all European countries have great numbers of workers in the field, and yet the United States, that should always be prepared, lags along with but 37,000 men and women in its entire Red Cross organization.

"Oakland needs the support of a group of business men with live ideas on organization; men who will assist materially in this campaign for a greater membership."

Brother Leo, head of the English department of St. Mary's College, was the next speaker.

"Surely the Red Cross is the worthiest of charities. This organization cares for the sufferings of all, with no question of creed or color. A big Red Cross chapter in Oakland would bring to the citizens an opportunity for self-expression, a chance to 'do good.' It would, also, tend to eliminate much of the provincialism which all western cities are subject to, and would make our young people realize that there are other peoples in the world with their viewpoints and their needs. I can think of no worthier charity that one could join and do so much good with the price of the membership, $1 a year."

Dr. N. K. Foster, William C. Tooze of the Young Men's Christian Association, Miss Pauline Strasburg, one of the Red Cross nurses, and Dr. H. J. Samuels, also urged the members to work for greater numbers.

The names of those present were taken and a meeting will be called by Dr. Engs for some time next week, when details of the campaign will be outlined.

Mortgage Adds to Newsom-Lee Muddle

Through the foreclosure of a mortgage for $9000 with interest at $1019.55 on an apartment house already the object of several lawsuits, additional complication has arisen in the tangled affairs of Charles F. Lee, his former wife, Mrs. Sidney V. Newsom and George H. Lee. The foreclosure decree was obtained in the Superior Court by Florence A. Nusbaumer who held a note for $9000 secured by the property. Yesterday George H. Lee commenced suit against Mrs. Newsom to recover a half interest in the apartment house on the grounds that his son, Charles F. Lee, had turned over the father's interest at the time he made a property settlement with his divorced wife.

Long Board Walk Leads to Wedding

Santa Cruz Mayor in Runaway Match

MRS. FRED R. HOWE, WHO FIRST WENT TO SANTA CRUZ AS A VACATIONIST, AND NOW RETURNS AS THE MAYOR'S BRIDE.

Fred R. Howe and Miss Verne White Slip Into Town and Are Married

Fred R. Howe, mayor of Santa Cruz, and his bride, who was Miss Verne White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward White of Knight's Landing, Yolo county, left Oakland today for Paso Robles and Del Monte. At Paso Robles they will be met by the mayor's car, and will motor back to Santa Cruz. They have to be there by Monday morning, as the mayor's leave of absence will expire at that time.

None of the mayor's friends or relatives—not even his parents—knew of the wedding until it had been performed. The council gave the mayor a week's leave of absence. He said he had to go out of the city on business. Immediately he boarded a train for San Francisco, where he met Miss White and the members of her party. They hastened to the Myrtle-street Congregational church here and were married by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Orr.

The mayor met his bride two years ago while he was strolling along the Santa Cruz beach. Miss White was one of the surf bathers. A mutual friend introduced them. Love soon jostled friendship out of the way, and the inevitable engagement, marriage and honeymoon followed.

THREATS TO SHOOT MADE, SAYS WIFE

Mrs. Undine Raymond Granted Divorce on Testimony.

Mrs. Undine McGlashan Raymond was today granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Albert Raymond, an attorney, whom she charged with cruelty. She testified that recently he had carried a revolver and had threatened to shoot her and to harm their two children. In addition to that she said that he spent most of his time gambling.

Mrs. Raymond, who lives at 2245 Hearst avenue, Berkeley, was awarded $200 a month alimony, and the custody of the two children, a son and daughter. The couple were married in San Francisco in 1898.

Mrs. Cassie Bain today obtained her final decree of divorce from Frank C. Bain, wealthy bookmaker, who during the palmy days of Emeryville operated a book in company with his brother. The property interests were settled out of court. Bain had real estate valued at nearly $100,000 in Alameda county and a large amount of stocks and bonds.

OWN TESTIMONY CAUSE OF DEFEAT

Woman Proves to Court That She Has No Legal Standing.

After listening to testimony for three days in the divorce suit of Mrs. Helen Hawthorne against Francis Hawthorne, Superior Judge Everett J. Brown discovered that the plaintiff had no standing in court, as she had not established the required three-months' residence here at the time she commenced her action.

Counsel for the defendant moved for a non-suit, which was denied, whereupon both sides entered into a stipulation to dismiss the action. Another suit will be brought by Mrs. Hawthorne, who in her complaint laid particular stress upon the custom of her husband in keeping nearly 300 young turkeys in their cabin on a Mendocino county ranch. She complained that the cabin was not large enough to accommodate their small family, which included a baby, and the poultry.

Ruby L. Crossman, a vaudeville entertainer, started suit for divorce against Charles Crossmann, complaining that he threw a typewriter at her.

Threaten to Reveal Water Co. Finances

will make startling disclosures regarding the system of handling moneys through which arose the charge of felony embezzlement now pending against her is the threat of Mrs. Ella McGreer, former receiving teller for the Peoples Water company at the Berkeley office. Mrs. McGreer was arraigned in Judge Edgar's court this afternoon and her preliminary examination set for next week. More than thirty witnesses have been subpenaed to appear at that time.

According to H. S. Henion, attorney for the accused woman, the practice of using money of the company as a sort of revolving loan fund for employes is responsible for her present plight. Mrs. McGreer, who was released last evening on $1000 bonds furnished by Mrs. Luella Coggins, states that she will spare no one if it becomes necessary for her to make a full explanation of the charge against her.

Officials of the company state that they were disposed to extend as much leniency to Mrs. McGreer as possible and that they had expected her to seek to make some restitution. President J. Y. Eccleston says:

"This is a very unfortunate affair. It is especially regrettable as the company would have taken a different course in the matter if Mrs. McGreer had acted in the right spirit."

PSYCHOLOGY TO RULE IN POLICE WORK

Chief Woods Institutes Efficiency Plan for Force

Temperament Is One of Vital Points in the Promotion

Chief of Police W. F. Woods is working on a new system of efficiency markings for his men. Chief Woods wants his patrolmen judged, among other things, on temperamental and psychological grounds, and the superior officers will be asked to make a study of the personalities and individual traits of the patrolmen under their charge, and to base the markings upon their temperament, initiative, reliability, alertness, energy, zeal, aggressiveness, judgment and similar qualifications.

Seniority will not count in the Oakland police department as a basis of high marking or promotion. There is no space in the chart set down for experience, this quality being demonstrated by "judgment."

Chief Woods plans to hold a conference with the captains to discuss the new efficiency marking chart next week. According to Woods the new system will give the greatest weight in the markings to honesty, courage, judgment, education and temperament.

"Under the present system the efficiency markings have been made in a slipshod manner," said Chief Woods. "This should not be. After a careful study I am convinced that the subjects I have outlined should all be included in the efficiency ratings."

Chief Woods some months ago assumed charge of the efficiency markings of the police inspectors, who are directly under the charge of Captain of Inspectors W. J. Petersen, and who report direct to Petersen. It is understood that the chief has been experimenting with the inspectors' markings in working out his new chart.

SOCIETY DICTATORS AS FOOD PEDDLERS

Belgium's Cause Will Be Urged in Open Market Fete.

Scores of Oakland, Berkeley and Piedmont women are assisting in completing the details in preparation for the great market fete to be held in Union Square in San Francisco Saturday, for the purpose of adding to the funds of the Belgian relief committee. It is anticipated the fete will be the greatest open-air charity event ever held in the city across the bay, the prediction being it will attract 100,000 persons.

The market is to be complete in every detail. There will be heaps of delicatessen offerings, cakes and pastries, all cooked by the chefs in the wealthy homes about the bay. There will also be elaborate offerings of cut flowers and plants, and tables laden with fancy work, toys, pottery and glass ware. All goods will be sold at prevailing market prices. The receiving depot for supplies is at 856 Post street.

Louis C. Mullgardt prepared the market scheme, which calls for a central column, with streamers and canopies extending out over the park and an artistic arrangement of booths, tables and stalls.

Mrs. Duncan McDuffie and Mrs. Joseph Grant will head a delegation of Berkeley and Piedmont society women who, dressed as Italian flower venders, will sell blossoms in booths arranged around the central column. Wild flowers will be on display, from Palo Alto and Cupertino, contributed by the Stanford alumnae and Mrs. Fremont Older.

Mrs. James Rolph Jr. will preside over a booth where eggs and butter will be sold. Mrs. Frederic Kohl will sell poultry near by. Miss Helen Gibbs and a group of dainty fisher-maidens will sell fish, sent to San Francisco by the Monterey committee. A vegetable table will be presided over by a group of Piedmont women.

Some of the others who will preside at counters and in booths are Mrs. Lane Leonard, Mrs. Charles Clark, Mrs. Frank West, Mrs. Henry Sahlien, Miss Marion Leale and Miss Edith Leale, Mrs. A. C. Hawkins, Mrs. Arthur A. O'Neill, Miss Mary McDermott, Mrs. Templeton Crocker and Mrs. W. G. Irwin. Mrs. Philip King Brown, Mrs. John Gallois, Mrs. Louis C. Mullgardt, Mrs. Lewis Hobart, Miss Belle McMurty, Miss Mildred Gilbert, Mrs. Walter Brookings and Mrs. I. Lowenberg.

Mrs. Francis Carolan will preside at a booth where she will sell a number of her gowns, some of them French importations. Other gowns of society women of the bay cities, some of them worn but once or twice, will also be disposed of.

Mills Students to Entertain Librarians

The faculty and students of Mills college with Miss A. L. Sawyer, librarian, and Mrs. Bennett, assistant, will act as hostesses on Saturday afternoon to the members of the first district of the California Library association. A reception will be given the visitors in beautiful reception rooms of the Margaret Carnegie library, at 2 p. m. Following the reception there will be offered an interesting program to which the public will be invited.

This program will include the following: A paper by Horace Davis on "Early Library Activities in California," read by G. T. Clark. "New Movements in Library Work," Miss Helen Lathrop. "Spanish Ranchos," Miss Mabel T. Gray. Miss Helen B. Sutliff will preside over the meeting. Miss Lena M. Keller is secretary.

Following the program the librarians will be escorted through the grounds and served refreshments by the students of Mills college.

IRON HAND FOR UNRULY HUSBANDS

Courts to Enforce Law Against Delinquent Spouses

District Attorney Goes South to Investigate System

Delinquent husbands who fall into the toils of the law because they fail to provide for their families will soon be put to work forcibly and the money earned by them will be paid by the county to their wives.

District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes and Assistant James M. Koford leave today for Los Angeles, where they will investigate the operation of the system in vogue there for handling failure-to-provide cases by working the delinquents at different occupations.

There are many angles to the question which has been agitated in Alameda county for some time. The establishment of a chain gang, which involve a number of problems and it is with a view to finding a solution to these problems that the authorities are departing to investigate the system in the south. Different local organizations have requested that some provision be made for working delinquent husbands to the benefit of their families. Judge F. B. Ogden of the criminal department of the Superior Court has recommended action in the matter and the supervisors will again be asked to provide funds whereby the system can be put into effect.

Diplomacy Would Not Permit Kiss

Bopp-Ross Meeting Is Free From Clash

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—French international complications were not in sight today as the result of a meeting between George, king of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, lord of the dominions beyond the seas, emperor of India, and Wilhelm, kaiser of the German empire and king of Prussia, in the Ferry building, last night. Of course, these potentates didn't do the meeting in person, but their representatives did. King George's proxy was British Consul-General Carnegie Ross, while the kaiser's representative was German Consul-General Franz Bopp. Both were on their way home with arms full of bundles.

"Hello, Ross," said the kaiser's emissary.

"Howdy, Bopp," replied the agent of the king.

Then they talked about one another's families, told jokes and remarked on the beautiful weather, while scores of other commuters stared.

Bay Bridge Plan Is Topic of Meeting

Members of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce today crossed the bay to participate in a meeting at the San Francisco Commercial club to discuss the project for a bridge across the bay, as outlined last week at the meeting held in the Oakland chamber.

The Oakland committee consists of Arthur Arlett, Captain Joseph E. Caine, Curtis Wright Jr., F. A. Leach Jr., and F. J. Woodward. Harland Miller, the engineer designing the bridge, was present to discuss the project, and members of the Berkeley and Alameda chambers were represented.

New Factory Site Is Wanted in Oakland

A new $500,000 factory, to employ at least 500 men, may come to Oakland, if a proper site can be obtained for the enterprise. This was the announcement made today by the Chamber of Commerce. The factory has, following a conference with Secretary Joseph E. Caine, agreed to make Oakland its headquarters on condition that a free site can be obtained.

The site required, say the manufacturers, must be situated on a good highway, close enough to afford good railroad spur track connections, and must be surrounded with land suitable for homes for its workmen, who will be permanent employes.

The name of the factory is withheld by Captain Caine, pending the success of negotiations now pending with several realty firms.

Dr. W. J. Wilcox Victim of Own Automobile

BAY WATERS COOL DESIRE TO END LIFE

S. F. Man Changes Mind Following Leap From Ferry

Bruno Burkhardt Fights to Cheat Death; Will Recover

Worry over business troubles and weakened resistance due to sleepless nights caused Bruno O. Burkhard, an importer and manufacturers' agent of 747 Sansome street, San Francisco, to attempt suicide by jumping into the bay from the Key System ferryboat Claremont this morning.

Burhardt repented almost as soon as he struck the water and being a strong swimmer succeeded in keeping himself afloat until a boat in charge of the first officer reached him. He was taken to the Key System pier and thence back again to the Harbor emergency hospital.

"When I left home this morning I had no idea of suicide," declared Burkhardt. "I have been worrying and I didn't sleep last night. I was going over to Oakland to do some canvassing and as I stood on the upper deck of the ferryboat the water seemed to hypnotize me. It looked cool and inviting and I jumped in."

Passengers saw Burkhardt dive from the upper deck and gave the alarm. The boat was lowered in a few seconds and the Claremont was stopped. That Burkhardt did not succeed in his attempt was undoubtedly due to his own successful swimming.

At the Harbor hospital it was stated that he would recover. He is about 40 years old, single, and resides at 1244 California street.

Evangelist Price to Talk to Young Men

Rev. Thurston B. Price, evangelist, will preach to young men in the First Methodist-Episcopal church tomorrow evening. His subject will be "The Trail of an American Boy." The central section of the church auditorium will be reserved for young men and special musical numbers have been arranged by Rev. C. Norman Guice, soloist.

Dr. Price will preach on "What Is It That a Man Most Wants" this evening and tomorrow afternoon on "Guarding a Prisoner."

The evangelistic campaign has been carried on for the past ten days and will continue ten days longer. It is making a wide appeal through the clear, conservative preaching of Dr. Price and the musical assistance rendered him by Dr. Guice.

Tourist Reports to Be Read to Association

Reports of the Chicago and Los Angeles representatives of the Tourist Association of Central California will be heard at a meeting of the executive committee of the organization in the rooms of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in Hotel Oakland tomorrow. The reports will be read at a luncheon, to be held at 12:30 o'clock. A report will also be submitted regarding the work being done by the association's representatives in this territory.

LEAGUE ENDORSES FREEHOLDERS' LIST

Alameda Civic Body Hears the Benefits of City Manager.

ALAMEDA, April 6.—Fourteen of the fifteen candidates for freeholderships were endorsed last night by the New Charter League at the weekly meeting in the council chambers. The fourteen were picked by the nominating committee of the league. The fifteenth man, former Mayor Frank Otis, declined to serve, owing to pressure of business. The fourteen are:

Dr. William Tappan Lum, physician, 1200 San Antonio avenue; E. A. Larkin, builder, 1516 Fountain street; Wynn Meredith, electricity commissioner and electrical engineer, 1004 Union street; Al Latham, printer, 2131 Bay street; A. T. Spence, builder, 641 Taylor avenue; A. O. Gott, jeweler, 2124 Alameda avenue; Geo. S. Williams, salesman and shipping man, 2507 Buena Vista avenue; L. R. Weinmann, city justice, 811 Paru street; A. F. St. Sure, city attorney, 1209 Lafayette street; Peter Jorgenson, carriage maker, 1619 Webster street; Frank W. Hally, real estate, 1451 Fernside boulevard; George L. Dillman, civil engineer, 617 Grand street; A. V. Clark, pottery manufacturer, 700 Paru street; Smith Anderson, dairyman, 2453 Encinal avenue.

TO BE NAMED.

The fifteen freeholders to take the place of Otis will be named later by the nominating committee, and his name will be offered for endorsement at the next meeting of the league. The members of the nominating committee are: W. J. Locke, C. A. Berle, J. R. Knowland, George H. Fox, Ernest Neiss, H. R. Sanford, Mrs. S. Ackerman, H. Hauch and P. S. Teller. The charter election will be held May 25.

Former Mayor Frank Otis spoke on the shortcomings of the present governing instrument of Alameda and endorsed the commission-manager form of government. Many of his deductions regarding the Alameda Charter were drawn from his knowledge of charter operations during his term as mayor. The speaker criticised the provision giving the mayor power to make certain appointments and then nullifying this power by stipulating that the appointments must be concurred in by the council. He said this division of power tended to breed fear in the mind of the official making the appointment, as he might give heed to an acceptance or a rejection of his nominee by the council. The speaker said in part:

"About two years ago talk of a commission-manager form of government was started in Alameda. A straw vote favored this form of charter, a charter of concise proportions and which would concentrate power in the hands of a single governing board. At present the mayor has power over a portion of the city officials and no power over others. Yet the mayor has to stand for criticism, and is held responsible if an official over whom he exercises no control proves inefficient or does not do as the people wish.

"Oakland and Berkeley has made rapid strides under the commission form of government creating fine buildings and making progress, but the plan has not worked out as well as expected. The large debt incurred for buildings under the commission form of government does not make the proper showing for economy which is claimed as one of the merits of the commission government. The general manager working under a commission can be held more strictly accountable for a businesslike administration. The subordinates under the manager, selected on a civil service basis, are more apt to be fitted for their work and to attend more carefully to it than if officials are picked at random or through political channels. Under the commissioner-manager plan there is little or no chance for corruption as under the boss system, so long in vogue in America."

George L. Dillman cited the building of the Panama Canal under the commission-manager plan as a signal illustration of the success of the manager plan. Dillman said that Wallace and Stevens, working under orders from Washington, failed to make headway in the canal construction, but Goethals, as canal manager, built the canal.

GEORGE HERBERT DEAD.

ALAMEDA, April 6.—George Herbert, a Webster-street businessman, died at 1 o'clock this morning at his home, 741 Taylor avenue, after an illness of a week. He leaves a widow and two children, a boy and a girl. He was a member of Santa Barbara Lodge of Elks and the body will be sent to Santa Barbara for burial.

"Corns All Gone! Let's All Kick!"

Every Corn Vanishes by Using Wonderful, Simple "Gets-It." Never Fails. Applied in Two Seconds.

Isn't it wonderful what a difference just a little "Gets-It" makes—on corns and calluses? It's always night somewhere on the world, with many folks humped up, with cork-screwed faces, gouging, picking, drilling out their corns, making packages of their toes with plasters, bandages, tape and contraptions—and the "boiler" in their corns goes on forever! Don't you do it. Use "Gets-It"; it's marvelous, simple, never fails. Apply it in 2 seconds. Nothing to stick to the stocking, hurt or irritate the toe. Pain stops. Corn comes "clean off," quick. It's one of the gems of the world. Try it—you'll kick—from joy. For corns, calluses, warts, bunions.

"Whee! I Don't Care! I Got Rid of My Corns With 'Gets-It!'"

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Oakland at all stores of The Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

MUCH APPENDICITIS IN OAKLAND

There are many cases of appendicitis in Oakland hospitals. Much of this can be prevented with simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. This simple remedy acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. Adler-i-ka has easiest and most thorough action of anything we ever sold. Osgood Brothers, druggists.—Advertisement.

Art Is Hampered, When Art Is Clothed
So Say the Students in Classes at the University

MISS HELENE HOOPER, JUNIOR, POSING FOR HER FELLOW STUDENTS IN UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA ART CLASS.

Modesty Rule Is Not Overthrown by Appeals

BERKELEY, April 6. — Moral censorship is in full reign at the University of California. Its taboo has fallen on life models for the art classes. There can not be any such models. Petitions from students and professors will be denied if that is their import.

So the art classes in the graphic arts and architectural departments are getting along with clothed models and will apparently have to do so for some time. Representations were made to the college authorities that the work of the students was being crimped by the fact that life models could not be used. Back came the word that the rule would continue in force.

Some of the classes, such as that of C. Chapel Judson, professor of drawing, are furnishing themselves with their own models. But they are fully garbed. Sometimes fancy costumes, such as Indian or foreign, are used. Sometimes the girls mount the model's dais in their ordinary campus frocks. In either case there is a full costume. Miss Helene Hooper posed as model for her classmates yesterday. Another student of the class will act in her stead tomorrow.

Correlation of the art classes is one of the aims of Professor K. E. Neuhaus, Professor Perham W. Nahl, Professor Judson and others. They believe it would render the work of the department more efficient. At present some art courses are given in the department of architecture, others in that of graphic arts, still others in that of domestic arts. A grouping of all the courses, declare the professors, would render the work much more effective and permit full courses not only for those who are specializing in the work to become teachers but for those also who are studying art for art's sake alone.

Young People Will Consider Vocations

BERKELEY, April 6. — Young people of Alameda county will be the beneficiaries of a vocational conference which has been planned to meet at the First Presbyterian church in this city tomorrow and Saturday. An attractive program has been planned for the sessions, which will open Friday evening and close Saturday evening.

The conference is to open with the service of a dinner, after which will be held a round table talk for missionaries. A song service at 7:30 p. m. will be followed by two addresses. Rev. H. H. Bell of San Anselmo will speak on "The Purpose of Life," and Rev. Lapsley A. McAfee, pastor of the church, will discuss "Principles of Choice."

Saturday morning's session will open at 9 o'clock with an intermediate session led by Irvin Paul. A song service, devotional program and an address will follow. Charter Hill, with the concrete of the "Big C" for a table, has been chosen as the scene of a picnic luncheon to be enjoyed at noon. The delegates to the conference will climb to the "C" in a body.

Rev. Ernest Hall of San Francisco will speak at the afternoon session on "Pitfalls." A second address, on "Intellectual and Spiritual Qualifications," will be delivered by M. D. Eubank, a missionary recently arrived from China. Discussions will occupy a portion of the afternoon. At 5 o'clock a basket luncheon and social hour will be enjoyed. The evening's program will include the following:

Address, "The Challenge of America," Rev. T. B. Price of St. Louis, Missouri; musical service; address, "The World Challenge," M. D. Eubank; discussion.

A special choir has been rehearsing for the conference, which is expected to be largely attended by young people at all its sessions.

Funeral Rites Held for Charles H. Blohm

BERKELEY, April 6.—Funeral services will be held today for Charles H. Blohm, a resident of this city for the last 40 years, who died Tuesday evening at his home, 1509 Arch street. The services will be held privately at the late residence and publicly at 2 o'clock in Masonic Temple under the auspices of Durant Lodge. Rev. E. L. Parsons will conduct the services at the house.

Blohm was one of the best known men in business circles in the state, and was stricken while looking after mining interests in Placer county. He was born in San Francisco 57 years ago and had spent his entire life in the bay cities, coming here to make his home about forty years ago. For more than twenty years he was connected with Getz Brothers, San Francisco, as a traveling salesman. Following the fire he became a member of the firm of Threlkeld & Blohm. He was also prominent in fraternal circles.

Newman Club Will Hold Annual Reunion

BERKELEY, April 6. — R. R. Gardiner, Miss Flora Wilson, Miss Elsa Oberdeener, Miss Bernardine Sutkamp, W. V. Goin, and T. W. Slaven have been appointed by President J. V. Kimber of the Newman club as the heads of the committees in charge of the annual reunion and communion of the Newman club and alumni of the University of California, to be held next Sunday in Newman hall, Ridge road and La Loma avenue, Berkeley.

This year, Most Rev. E. J. Hanna, D. D., archbishop of San Francisco, will be the guest of the club members and will talk to the students at the breakfast which will be held at 9:15 a. m., Sunday morning.

Tomorrow morning at 7:15, forty hours' devotion will commence in Newman hall chapel. These devotions will continue Friday and Saturday with special sermons each evening.

Benton, Junior, Is Named Pelican Mgr.

BERKELEY, April 6. — J. W. Benton, a junior student in the University of California, was appointed manager of the Pelican for the coming year at a meeting of the English club this week upon the recommendation of H. F. Fletcher, the present manager of the college humorous monthly.

MASQUE MAIDS IN FINAL REHEARSAL

BERKELEY, April 6. — The final dress rehearsal of the 200 or more girls who, tomorrow, will produce Miss Maude Meagher's "Aranyani of the Jasmine Vine," the fourth annual Parthenela at the University of California, was held this afternoon in Faculty glade under the direction of Coach Porter Garnett. The cast and the dancers went through the masque from beginning to end in the manner in which it will be presented tomorrow.

Several moving picture companies were represented in the glen this afternoon by their operators. The horses which will be used in the masqué tomorrow are mounted by their fair riders, and settings and properties of various sorts were made familiar to the women participants.

The variety of programs on the subject of the Parthenela which have been presented before different women's clubs about the bay and other means have given large publicity to the affair. As a result the advance sale of tickets has already been heavy, and but a few tickets were reported today to be left for distribution.

Special care has been taken this year in the preparation of the scenic effects, the dancing and the costuming particularly. The allegory has also been worked out carefully so that, even if some of the words are not heard plainly throughout the glen, the effect of the whole will not be marred nor the thread of the story lost.

With the complete text of "Aranyani of the Jasmine Vine" as its chief feature, the Occident, monthly publication of the students, will appear tomorrow morning. A Parthenela supplement has been planned to include pictures of this and last year's productions.

Quick, Safe Way to Remove Hairs

(Toilet Talks)

Keep a little delatone powder on your dressing table and when ugly, hairy growths appear, make a paste with a little of the powder and some water, apply and let remain on the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. This treatment is quite harmless and rarely more than one application is required, but to avoid disappointment care should be used to buy the real delatone.—Advertisement.

KITTREDGE TO GO BACK TO BELGIUM

Member of Belgian Relief Committee Will Again Take Active Part in Work.

BERKELEY, April 6.—T. B. Kittredge, assistant in the department of history at the University of California and a member of the Belgian Relief Commission, has engaged passage from New York to Belgium on May 9, following a cablegram received yesterday from Herbert Hoover, head of the commission. Kittredge will prepare to embark immediately, although he has been in Berkeley but a short time after his six-months' stay in Europe.

After working with the commission in Belgium, Kittredge will go to Spain to do research work in the Spanish archives. He plans to go from there to Oxford.

Kittredge came to be connected with the Belgium relief work on the continent during his six-months' trip through Europe. He was in Europe at the time of the breaking out of the war and was in the central part of Germany when the declaration was made. His trip was being made on a bicycle, but with the announcement that the nations were at hostilities he abandoned the thought of a bicycle trip and made for the coast. He got as far as Belgium, where in waiting for his passage to be booked, he became acquainted with Hoover. He took up the Belgium relief work in an active way in the country itself when it became necessary for some one of the commission to come to this country for aid. Kittredge made the trip. After staying in New York for a short time he came to this city, where he has been actively engaged in the work of securing money, clothes and provisions for the Belgian people.

He was able to get a large amount of clothes through the students in the University of California, assisted by those of Stanford, but his supply of money and provisions was limited.

Alameda Tea Club Elects Officers

ALAMEDA, April 6. — The Alameda Tea Club has elected the following officers: President, Mrs. F. B. Wuelts; vice-president, Mrs. S. E. Knowles; secretary, Mrs. B. W. Maslin; treasurer, Mrs. James B. Fraser; executive officer, Mrs. James Suydam. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Hubert E. Hunt. Mrs. Mildred Husbands acting as club hostess. A Shakespeare program was given. Mrs. Weeks spoke on tercentary of the board. Mrs. F. B. Graves gave a short life sketch of Shakespeare, and "The Merchant of Venice" was read by a group of club members, the parts being assigned as follows:

Shylock, Mrs. A. J. Foster; Portia, Mrs. Frederick Wheeler; Duke of Venice, Mrs. P. W. Barton; Lorenzo, Mrs. Frederick Maurar; Bassanio, Mrs. F. B. Weeks; Antonio, Mrs. J. H. Powell; Gratiano, Mrs. C. A. Allardyce; Salarino, Mrs. G. E. Plummer; Merrissa, Mrs. G. M. Murdock; Jessica, Mrs. H. J. Dexter; Lancelo Bobbs, Mrs. Agnes Hill.

CO-EDS TALK POLICIES.

BERKELEY, April 6.—At a meeting of the A. W. S. committee yesterday the question of reducing the executive committee from the present number of fifteen to officers of the A. W. S., Parthenela manager, women's editor of the Daily Californian and such women as may be elected to A. S. U. C. offices, was discussed. Minor changes were suggested which will be necessary under the present conditions. The proposed constitution for the women students was read by Priscilla Cavagnero, chairman of the revision committee.

Miss Perkins Is Charming as Bride
Alameda Girl to Make Orient Future Home

ALAMEDA, April 6.—Miss Hazel M. Perkins of this city and George M. Rothgang of Shanghai were married last night at the home of the bride's parents, 610 Haight avenue. The Rev. Everett W. Cooper read the marriage service. Mrs. Alberto Martinez, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor. The bride's dress was of white crepe de chine, with hoop effect. The matron of honor was in duchess satin, made entrain, the gown being the wedding dress of Mrs. Martinez.

Mr. and Mrs. Rothgang are to sail in the Nippon Maru for the Orient, where Rothgang is Shanghai representative for an American manufacturing concern. Rothgang was formerly stationed at Manila. His bride and he met while the bride was making a tour of the Orient.

MORE MACHINES NEEDED FOR PICNIC

BERKELEY, April 6.—Still a few more machines are needed to accommodate the children of the California Institute for the Deaf and the Blind on their outing trip Saturday to Niles Canyon. It was stated this morning by the committee in charge that most of the children and their teachers had now been provided for, but that some few were not yet assured the necessary means of conveyance.

Arrangements for the enjoyments of the day have about been completed today by a committee of teachers of the school. It is expected the party will arrive at the canyon about the middle of the forenoon. Games of various sorts will be played during the morning, and at the noon hour a sumptuous picnic lunch will be spread. In the afternoon games, races and dances will make the hours merry until time comes for the start home.

Preparations for the event have been eagerly watched by the 200 or more children of the school, who have eagerly anticipated every event of the day. For this reason Principal J. E. Milligan at the school and F. G. Zelinsky of 661 Eddy street, San Francisco, who heads the transportation committee, are anxious that none of the deaf and blind pupils have to be left behind for lack of conveyance.

Principal Milligan at Berkeley 8 and Mr. Zelinsky at Franklin 2318 will receive offers of machines from owners who are willing to carry a load of the children to the canyon Saturday morning and return them in the afternoon.

Rumanian Violinist to Be Heard in Concert

BERKELEY, April 6.—Frank Kneisel, Roumanian violinist, will appear here with the remainder of the Kneisel Quartet in the fifth concert of the Berkeley Musical Association, to be given in Harmon Gymnasium on Tuesday evening, April 11, at 8:15 p. m.

This will be the sixth season of the association. The Kneisel Quartet has been founded since 1885, and consists of well-known musicians. Kneisel himself has been honored for his work with degrees by Yale and Princeton, and has been offered the conductorship of the Philadelphia Orchestra and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

ADELPHIAN CLUB NAMES OFFICERS

ALAMEDA, April 6.—The annual meeting of the Adelphian Club was held today, starting at 10 o'clock with annual reports and the election of officers. At noon the annual club luncheon was served. This afternoon a Shakespeare program enlivened with music numbers was given.

The new officers elected comprise the regular ticket named by the nominating committee. These officers are:

President, Mrs. Arthur O. Gott; vice-president, Mrs. Joseph R. Knowland; second vice-president, Mrs. S. J. Ackerman; treasurer, Miss Ida Spencer; general curator, Mrs. F. G. McKimmons; directors, Mrs. H. A. Hebard, Mrs. F. B. Weeks, Mrs. P. W. Barton, Mrs. Henry Rosenthal, Mrs. J. Sherman McDowell, Mrs. Thomas C. Hutt; membership committee, Mrs. Louis T. Ward, Mrs. J. C. Siegfried, Mrs. W. T. Farrar, Mrs. S. P. Mesick, Miss Bertha Waite.

The program of Shakespeare was given by Brother Leo, and included readings from "Othello," "Hamlet" and "As You Like It."

The music numbers were given by Mrs. Charles Stuart Ayres, vocalist, assisted by Miss Mildred Turner, pianist. Mrs. Ayres' songs were: "Green Sleeves" and "The Willow Song," ballads of Shakespeare's time, together with "Orpheus and His Lute," Sullivan; "Gypsy Song" (Brahms), "Blue Bells" (McDowell), and "O, Thou Billowy Harvest" (Rachmaninoff).

Mrs. F. G. McKimmins, Mrs. B. C. Brown and Mrs. W. C. Sharpstein were hostesses at the afternoon meeting, being assisted by George H. Fox, Mrs. J. M. De Witt, Mrs. A. J. Burgner and Mrs. E. W. Maslin.

Water Wagon Pledge Wins Man Freedom

ALAMEDA, April 6. — George Walrath's promise "to get up on the water wagon and ride" secured his freedom today after he had been arrested on a charge of failing to provide for his wife and two little ones.

The four Pastorino brothers, scavengers, accused of violating the new Alameda garbage wagon ordinance, demanded a jury trial. The first brother will have his case heard Thursday. It probably will be fought through the courts to determine the validity of the ordinance.

Joe Palm, accused of stealing a purse containing $75, the property of Charles Hurlburt, was arraigned this morning. His examination was set for tomorrow morning. Joseph McDonough appeared as Palm's counsel.

A. Tungsten will flee to the frozen north, he says, if the police court will give him his freedom. He was arrested for being too hilarious. He showed in court letters apparently insuring him a berth on the Alaska Packers' steamer Star of Chili, soon to go to Alaska. Judge Weinmann directed the police to hold Tungsten until the genuineness of the letters is established. The alternative is a jail sentence for Tungsten.

PRESIDENT VINCENT TO LECTURE.

BERKELEY, April 6.—"Self and Society: the Larger Selfishness," is to be the topic of the third of a series of five lectures by President G. E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota. The lectures are being given in the E. T. Earl Foundation, under the auspices of the Pacific Theological Seminary. The lecture will be given this evening at 8 o'clock in the First Congregational Church.

PLAN PLEASURES FOR FACTORY MAID

Twentieth Century Club Hears Report on Conditions in City's Industries.

BERKELEY, April 6. — The Twentieth Century club of this city is considering the establishment of clubrooms for working girls employed in the factories as the result of a discussion before the club held yesterday by Mrs. Louis Engler. The education for foreign born children and the inheritance tax bills were other matters discussed.

Mrs. Engler, who is chairman of the civic committee of Twentieth Century, has just completed a survey of conditions in the factories of the city at the instigation of the club. She reported to the club that an urgent need is indicated for a place of attractiveness for the girls to congregate and of cheerful environment.

TO ACT FURTHER.

It is expected that further action will be taken by the club in the near future in the matter, and that a complete survey will be made preliminary to the establishment of some such social center. Mrs. Engler reported to the club as follows:

"Psychologists all concede that it is the play time and not the work time which must be watched closely. In visiting the Berkeley factories, I found that the girls employed there are unusually well cared for as far as sanitation, working conditions and wages are concerned. In most of the factories rest rooms are provided and coffee and tea furnished the girls with their lunches. There are some 200 or 300 girls living in Berkeley employed in local factories, while there is an additional number living here employed outside, whom we could reach with our recreation center.

NO CHARITY WORK.

"The success of such a plan would depend almost entirely on the way it is handled. It cannot be considered a charity undertaking. We must have the co-operation of the girls themselves and both the clubwomen and girls should work together."

Mrs. Engler stated that the present plan would include the establishment of clubrooms in a convenient locality, the providing of diversion in the form of dances, music, lectures and, etc., and for sewing classes and other similar classes. It is probable that the undertaking will be launched with the beginning of the new club term and co-operation asked from the various women's organizations.

Debating Societies in Annual Wrangle

BERKELEY, April 6. — Senate and Congress, the University of California rival debating societies, will meet tonight in their annual debate, the subject to be, "Resolved, That Intercollegiate Athletics Should be Abolished." The debate will take place in 101 California Hall.

W. E. Anderson, Morris Lavin and R. E. Stone will support the affirmative for Congress, while Ray Vandervoort, F. A. Leavy and P. S. Matthews will take the negative.

REPORTS THEFT.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Mrs. Rose A. Hampton, a Reno society woman, who resides at the Home hotel in that city, and who is temporarily stopping at the St. Francis, either lost or had stolen a purse containing valuables on a Key Route boat this morning. Mrs. Hampton reported to the harbor police that her pocketbook contained $19 in coin, a $150 platinum ring and a round trip pass from Reno to Los Angeles.

MINERS WIN STRIKE.

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., April 6.—Two thousand of the 8000 miners in the Allegheny and Kiskiminetas valleys, who yesterday struck for recognition of their newly formed union, returned to work today, their employers having made that concession. Organizers of the United Mine Workers are in the district.

SHELL VICTIM WILL RECOVER

Five-Year-Old Donald Louder Mass of Bruises From Explosion.

ALAMEDA, April 5. — Donald Louder will survive the injuries he sustained yesterday morning when a Hotchkiss quick-firing cannon shell exploded in the basement of the Louder home at 1812 Walnut street and raked the boys entire left side with a series of wounds, almost uniting in one unbroken injury from hee dio foot. The mangled left hand may be amputated but the wounds on the side of the face, side of the body and on the side of the left leg will heal.

It was the stirring of the martial spirit in the five-year-old boy which caused the accident. Intensely interested in the war in Europe and still more interested in the invasion of Mexico by the American forces, the boy has been playing soldier daily of late. He begged for war relics brought back from the Philippines by his father, who secured them following the two weeks' assault on Manila by the United States forces.

Explosive in the projectile, which weighs a pound or over, was evidently exploded by the boy, for the powder charge had been withdrawn by the father. The cap did not explode, though it was at first believed the explosion of the cap caused the damage. After the accident the shattered base of the brass cartridge was found but the balance of the cartridge had been blown to atoms, along with the bullet.

The explosion tore holes in the basement floor and the walls of the house, and made a report heard a half-dozen blocks away. A hammer, found a dozen feet from where the injured boy was picked up, indicates he was pounding the shell with the hammer. The parents did not dream that the bullet contained explosive. The accompanying picture is of a companion shell in the Louder collection of war curios.

ELECTRICAL MEN IN STATE SESSION

Members of the California Electrical Contractors and Dealers' association gathered in Oakland this afternoon for their annual meeting. The session opened in the Chamber of Commerce, the principal activity of the afternoon being the registration of delegates from other cities and the handling of routine business and reports. Secretary George King of the local association was in charge of the reception of the visiting members.

Tonight the contractors will be the guests at a dinner at the hotel, when addresses on trade subjects will be heard and discussions held on business matters and methods.

The meeting this afternoon also took up new construction methods, the general phases of the electrical business, and details of the association's work. Members of the Jovian order, the social organization of the electrical men, were present to assist in receiving the guests.

HAD BURGLAR TOOLS.

Albert Moniz, an amateur boxer, who has appeared in the ring in Oakland, was arrested last night for visiting poolrooms, after being warned to discontinue, as he is under the age limit. When searched, Moniz was found to have a mask, a blackjack and a large knife in his possession. He is being held for investigation.

Blue Bird Bureau

Department of Good-Fellows

A million poppies are awaiting the clasp of a tiny hand and the happy smile from a youthful admirer. Who's going to help the magic blue bird next Sunday transport a hundred little folk into the hills, where they can get the happiness that comes to children when they are in close communion with nature?

Won't forty or fifty Good Fellows in Oakland who contemplate a pleasure trip into the country next Sunday take along with them a little boy or girl who couldn't see the country otherwise? These youngsters will be well behaved. Many of them have never ridden in an automobile. You will be happier than you ever suspected possible if you give happiness to a bunch of kiddies, or even one forlorn youngster.

Think it over, old man, and if the idea appeals to you telephone tomorrow to Lakeside 6000 and ask for the Blue Bird Bureau. We will try and have ready for you the names and addresses of some wards of the Blue Bird. It will then be up to you to make arrangements with the mother or father to take the youngsters out and bring them safely home Sunday night. It will be a day you won't forget.

* * *

Occasionally we wish we were a millionaire. Not a very odd wish, is it? But it does seem pretty tough that for the matter of a few dollars here and there every day we could make so much happiness in this gray old world. For instance, there is a slip of a girl in Oakland who is ill and alone. High up in the Sierras in a cozy little home there is her mother and aged grandmother. The girl came to the big city to earn her living, and she failed. Her health is gone, and there are those who have pronounced that she has small chance of ever regaining it. She has no funds to get back to her mountain home. Her mother has no money to send her for her ticket. Up there she may live. Here she will battle it out with the Grim Master alone and helpless. The difference is the price of a ticket to Siskiyou county. A very insignificant sum to be sure, but who is to supply it?

There is no agency in Oakland founded for such purposes, unless it be the Blue Bird Bureau which has no red tape and acts secretly and as quickly as it can. Maybe some one will read the pathos between these lines, and maybe not. A few days will tell.

* * *

We know of a widow with four children, ages 1, 4, 11 and 14 years respectively, who are sadly in need of food and clothing. This woman's sole income is the small amount of $12 a month. How far do you think $12 will go toward feeding five hungry mouths and keeping these bodies clothed? This mother is now being bothered by collectors for a bill amounting to $9.25 which she absolutely can not pay. She is practically helpless, as she can not go out to work and leave her 1-year-old baby home alone.

If some of you Good Fellows will come to the front as we know you will, we can furnish this woman with some discarded clothes, groceries and perhaps a little money to help her pay this bill which is causing her considerable worry.

* * *

Here is a case of a woman who has six children on her hands. Her husband is out of work like so many others, and the family is hard up for clothes. The mother has a little baby ten months old and this little fellow is without a bed. He now sleeps in an old basket which is getting to be a tight pinch and we would like to find a little crib or small bed for him. Also anything in the way of clothes would be appreciated.

* * *

Here is a hard working, conscientious man who is seeking employment in any shape or form. He has been a cook, and has recommendations testifying to his ability in that capacity. He can also do rough carpentering, painting and is just looking for the opportunity to show you that he will prove a general handy man in most any line.

He has a sick wife to take care of and two children to clothe and feed, but how do you suppose he is going to do it if he can not find work? He is strong and willing to work hard at anything that may be given him in order to take the proper care of his family.

Are you going to help us do something for him?

* * *

I wonder how many of you remember the 14-year-old lad named John Oxley, for whom this bureau, with the kind assistance of the Good Fellows of Oakland and vicinity, procured an artificial limb? A home in Sebastopol was also found for this chap, and today we are in receipt of news that John is as happy as a king. He lives on a ranch where there are lots of cows and chickens and just has the finest kind of a time strutting around on this farm which he is now able to do with the aid of his artificial leg.

He has requested especially that we let you all know how happy he is and how very grateful he is to all of the Good Fellows and friends who came to his assistance when he was so badly in need of it.

Scottish Bowling Club Holds Annual Meeting

The Oakland Scottish Bowling club held its annual meeting last evening in the offices of Dr. A. K. Crawford, Union Savings Bank building. The official report showed that the club has not only paid off all of the indebtedness carried during the previous three years or more, but starts the new fiscal year with a good surplus in cash.

The principal feature of the evening was the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows: President, Dr. E. R. Sill; vice-president, Dr. A. K. Crawford; secretary, George F. McMath; treasurer, James P. Taylor.

Two important amendments to the by-laws were adopted and provision was made for the holding of singles, doubles and quadruple tournaments during the coming summer. A liberal amount was also unanimously placed at the disposal of the skips to provide for a prize list. Frank Brown's offer to give a suitable prize for the winner of the singles tournament was unanimously accepted.

Society Interested in Exchange Benefit

Scores of prominent society women interested in the Woman's Exchange have taken tables for the large card party that will be given for the benefit of that institution on the afternoon of April 27 at Hotel Oakland. This event will take place in the Hotel ballroom, where tea will be served after the session of bridge.

Among the women who will entertain large parties of friends on that afternoon are Mrs. William Letts Oliver and Mrs. William E. Sharon, both members of the board of directors of the Woman's Exchange. Others who have reserved tables include:

Miss Matilda E. Brown, Mrs. Charles Hubbard, Mrs. Allen Widenam, Miss Nadine Belden, Miss Emma Farrier, Mrs. Alexander Marx, Mrs. Dan Belden, Miss Florinne Brown, Mrs. August Schilling, Mrs. Dana Mathes, Mrs. Lillian Brown Everts and Mrs. Andrew Simpson.

Reported War Prize Loading Tacoma Cargo

TACOMA, Wash., April 6.—The American ship Dirigo, reported seized by a British warship and thrown into a prize court, loaded a part of her cargo, amounting to 2000 tons of barley, at Tacoma. The vessel was under charter to H. M. Houser and the local cargo was furnished through Kerr-Gifford and Company. The Dirigo was in command of W. M. Mallett.

The Dirigo was formerly one of the fleet of the Arthur Sewell Company of Bath, Maine, but was sold just prior to arrival here to George McNear Company of San Francisco.

Alleged Slayer of Policeman on Trial

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Harry Duncan, who was captured after a two-days' hunt by passes, was brought to trial today for the alleged murder of J. F. Toolen, a police sergeant on the night of October 19, 1915, when officers sought to arrest Duncan at his home in connection with the theft of an automobile. Duncan said he shot to defend his mother, believing the police were burglars.

Interrupt Burglar at Work in Home

The theft of automobiles was reported last night by B. F. Simmons, Townsend Apartments, Eleventh and Oak streets, and H. Lucas, 1251 Hopkins street.

Appeal Denied, May Seek Probation

His appeal before the District Court of Appeals denied, Jack Barriles, charged with burglary, today surrendered himself in the county jail. He had been out on bonds pending his appeal from the Superior Court. He will probably seek probation, according to his attorneys.

Barriles and several others were arrested on February 17, accused of stealing chickens in Emeryville.

Samuel Lovett Dies of Heart Trouble

Three hours after he had returned from his work in San Francisco, Samuel F. Lovett dropped dead at his home, 1547 Fourth avenue, last evening. His death occurred in the presence of his wife and two children, while the little family was seated about the reading table. Heart failure is believed to have been the cause.

Lovett was a native of California, and had lived in Oakland for most of his life. He was 45 years old. He was a graduate of the Oakland High school with the class of 1889. After leaving school he went into the insurance business, but a short time later became manager of a large San Francisco press clipping bureau, which position he held until his death.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon from the parlors of the Albert Brown Undertaking Company.

WILSON COMMUTES SENTENCE.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—President Wilson today commuted the death sentence of O. Ito, Japanese, who murdered an American at Juneau, Alaska. The slayer will spend the rest of his life in prison, however. President Wilson took the case under consideration at the Japanese ambassador's request.

Zane Grey

Author of

Riders of the Purple Sage

And now it comes to you.

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

It's of the pioneer West; of horse thieves and gun play; of a girl who could ride and shoot—and love; of a man who ventured his life for months to capture a magnificent wild stallion; of that stallion, and the terrific race he ran against forest fire to save two lives.

The Country Gentleman covers every interest of the farm—good reading as well as good ideas. It is for the wife as well as for the farmer. In this issue begins

A Series of Homemaking Articles

by Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones

These are, we believe, the best articles on the home ever written for the farm woman.

Mrs. Jones is by birth and experience a farm woman. She has spent years in Farmers' Institute work. She is the one woman best fitted to give helpful, practical talks to farm housewives.

While Oakland shipping men are confident of the steady growth of the busy east bay port, considerable dissatisfaction continues to be expressed over the lack of off-shore freight carriers. This handicap, which all Pacific coast ports are experiencing, is one of the present obstacles in the development of Oakland's shipping trade.

Harbormaster W. W. Keith in giving his views on this matter said:

"The withdrawal of the Luckenbach steamers from the Pacific coast-New York run has undermined for the time being the foundation for a promising coast to coast trade. It was intended that this sea connection between Oakland and New York inaugurated by the Luckenbach line should be steadily built up and other ships added to the run, but higher freight rates obtaining on the Atlantic have spoiled these plans for the present."

BAY OCEAN IS VERY MUCH ATTACHED.

The little steam yacht Bay Ocean, carrying two smoke stacks, and, it is said, quite a load of debt besides, is a very much attached craft, according to waterfront authorities. She has been attached hard and fast to the quay wall for many months and rumor has it is also considerably "attached" in a legal sense.

Today she was removed 200 feet east along the quay wall from where she lay in order to give the Howard company more room for the operation of their coal barges. Whether her owners are attached to the trim little craft is doubtful since, while she is not drawing a cent of revenue she is "eating her head off" in dockage dues.

MOVEMENTS OF ALASKA SALMON FLEET.

The Alaska Packers' association ship Star of Greenland left her Oakland quarters for across the bay to load supplies for Alaska.

The L. H. Pedersen ship McLaurin also went from Oakland harbor to the other side of the bay.

The second of the Alaska Packers' windjammers to leave lately for Alaska sailed this week when the ship Star of Alaska started for Chignik with supplies for the canneries. Other of the salmon ships which have to get through Akutan pass into Behring sea and the Nushagak will soon leave.

NEWS NOTES OF OAKLAND FRONT.

The steam schooner Santa Monica brought 25,000 feet of lumber to the city wharf for the H. B. Varney company, also 100,000 feet of shingles.

The old ship Rufus E. Woods, which has been used for a number of years for storing coal by the Pacific Coast Coal company was towed from the yards of that company to the Oakland middle flats by two of the Red Stack tugs. Her owners have no further use for her at present and she will lie in the flats all summer.

Dredger No. 5 was towed by a tug of the Oakland Launch and Tugboat company to a point in the estuary off the Moore & Scott shipyards. She will dredge in the vicinity of the drydock.

The lightship San Francisco, which left the Moore & Scott shipyards where she was under repair, for Goat Island has returned to the shipyard and will go on the drydock.

ALBATROSS LEAVES FOR CATALINA ISLANDS.

The United States fishing steamer Albatross, which recently left Oakland harbor, is now on her way for a three months cruise in Southern California waters. She will operate between San Diego and Catalina in research work. The Albatross makes her winter quarters in Oakland and was recently overhauled at the United Engineering company shipyards. She was anchored at Sausalito for several days before proceeding south in command of Captain Hannigan.

REPUBLIC TO LEAVE FOR ORIENT.

The American freighter Republic, formerly the German steamer Walkure, which recently left the Oakland Long wharf, where she unloaded a big cargo, will probably go to the Orient shortly under charter instead of being operated by her owners, Sudden & Christensen and John A. Hooper. The charter has not yet been arranged but the owners admit that negotiations are on foot to send the steamer to Vladivostok, chartered to the Robert Dollar company. Work is now being rushed in the repair of the vessel and the plates damaged by the shell fire of a German squadron as she lay in Papeete harbor are being replaced as quickly as possible.

(Time and Height of High and Low Water.)

Note—In the above tabulations of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN ACTS AS DETERRENT

Public Holds Aloof From Stocks, Leaving Market Artificial

NEW YORK, April 6.—Professionals found nothing disturbing in overnight consideration of German Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's announced intention of continuing the submarine campaign, which now apparently embraces the destruction without warning of anything afloat, neutral or belligerent.

But the public, it seems, holds a different view and there was no enlargement of outside interest in the market.

Prices were strong and the volume of activity maintained but distribution of business was very poor and the market wore artificial appearances.

A few issues, including Mercantile Marine, International Nickel, Crucible Steel, Industrial Alcohol and American Zinc, supplied more than half of the early dealings.

First prices were generally higher but the early movement was hesitating. Railways were irregular and changes fractional, speedily becoming dull. The same was true of most copper stocks.

MODERATE GAINS SHOWN BY WHEAT

CHICAGO, April 6.—Wheat prices developed strength today as a result of anxiety as to the lateness of seeding in the northwest. Some weakness at times, however, was shown on account of predictions of increased Argentine shipments to Europe. Domestic crop reports were of a mixed character.

Opening prices, which ranged from half a cent decline to ¼@⅜c advance, with May at $1.15¾ to $1.15¼, and July at $1.16⅝ to $1.17⅝, were followed by moderate gains all around, interrupted temporarily by a rather sharp setback.

Corn reflected the changes in the wheat market. After opening unchanged to ¼c higher, prices scored further upturns, though not without undergoing transient dips.

Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.23@1.23½; No. 3 red, $1.20@1.21½; No. 2 hard, $1.19; No. 3 hard, $1.16@1.18.

Rye—No. 2, 95@98c.

Barley—62@78c.

Timothy—$4.50@5.60.

Clover—$10.00@18.50.

Closing quotations were unsettled, with May at $1.17⅝ and July at $1.16¾.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Wheat—Steady; no trading.

Barley—Easy; December, $1.31.

PORTLAND, April 6.—Wheat, easy; no trading. Spot bids, 1c to 2c lower. Bluestem, $1.08; Fortyfold, $01c; Club, 89c; red Fife, 88c; red Russian, 88c.

Barley—Unchanged.

EXPERT OPINION.

Ware Leland: We believe the upturn in wheat will resume. Favor purchases of corn on the breaks. Believe purchases of oats are warranted on the setbacks.

Thomson McKinnon—Buying side should be preferable in wheat on all depressions. There is very good buying in provisions on all depressions.

Finley, Barrel & Co.—We believe wheat is still in a position to respond quickly to any good buying. On any further setbacks in corn we look for a good demand.

FARM PRODUCTS VALUES LOWER

Comparative values of farm products as compiled by the Department of Agriculture show some important decreases in chief articles produced on United States farms during the present year. These are chiefly on grains, hay and eggs. Higher prices are obtained by the farmers this year, however, for potatoes, butter and chickens.

Corn, per bushel	75.1	65.2
Wheat, per bushel	133.6	102.9
Oats, per bushel	52.1	42.7
Barley, per bushel	67.7	59.6
Rye, per bushel	103.4	85.8
Buckwheat, per bushel	85.5	83.2
Hay, per ton	11.71	11.62
Sweet potatoes, per bushel	84.7	77.8
Eggs, per dozen	21.3	21.2
Higher prices are:
Potatoes, per bushel	50.4	94.4
Butter, per pound	26.8	27.1
Chickens, per pound	11.7	12.2
Cotton, per pound	7.4	11.1

The level of prices paid producers of the United States for the principal crops decreased about 0.9 per cent during February. In the past eight years the price level has increased about 1.7 per cent during February.

The prices of meat animals increased 7.5 per cent from January 15 to February 15; in the past six years these prices increased in like period 0.9 per cent. On February 15 the index figure of prices for these meat animals was about 7.5 per cent higher than a year ago, 4.3 per cent lower than two years ago and 7.2 per cent higher than the average of the past six years on February 15.

TRUCK GARDENING IMPORTANT.

Truck gardening has become an important industry in the warmer states. The condition of these truck crops as of March 1 shows fairly high average. Cucumbers in Texas and in Florida are 100 (representing normal condition). Lettuce is 100 in California, onions 100 in Mississippi. Potatoes are 100 in one county only, in South Carolina; at all other points the percentage ranges from 65 up to 98, and the average is 83. Strawberries show high average, with 92 and 93 at many points. The high of tomatoes is 98, in Florida, and of watermelons 90 in Southern California, Mississippi and Florida. Canteloupes are 100 in Texas and 90 in Florida, with 83 in Southern California. Cabbage is high, 92 in Southern California, and low 53 in Texas.

The past season has not been propitious for winter wheat. The first government report is due on April 7, and opinions both extremely pessimistic and otherwise, are being advanced. The former is to the effect that the government report will show conditions below those of 1912. The condition last year on April 1 was 88.8, and the year before 95.0. In 1912 conditions at 80.6 were low for the ten years (the average of which was 87.32), but good weather during the rest of the growing period pulled up the yield to near an average.

Quicksilver Prices Now at Lower Levels

Quicksilver price have broken and are now around $150 a flask. It is but a few weeks since $300 was the price. It has been lower for a week or two, but those dealing in it in California of elsewhere were hoping that the lowering of prices was only temporary, and that they would soon be shot up to the old level, the reaching of which was one of the sensational price advances since the great war opened. Now, it is stated, the producers are seeking to make long time contracts at the lower figures in the fear that prices may go even lower and perhaps to what they were before the war.

CANDY MEN ASK RATES.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Five hundred candy companies, including all the principal manufacturers in the United States, today petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for a readjustment of rates to all points west of the Mississippi river. Approximately 760 railroads and steamship companies are made defendants to the proceedings.

Lower and uniform classification and consequent reductions in rates are sought. The manufacturers also petition the commission to direct the railroads to reimburse them for the difference, paid during the several years the higher classification has been in effect, between the present rates and the former rates.

NEW INDUSTRIAL CITY.

Another industrial city will soon come into existence in British Columbia. A company capitalized at $9,500,000, of which $2,000,000 is in 6 per cent preferred shares and $7,500,000 in common stock, with abond issue of $3,000,000, was organized recently to acquire property at Ocean Falls, which includes a modern pulp mill, saw mill, power plant, large tracts of pulpwood and saw-timber land, and a townsite.

RECORD PRICE FOR LAMBS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—The highest price ever paid for spring lambs at the local stockyards was registered today when fifteen head, averaging 40 pounds, sold for $17 per hundred. The previous record price was $15, made in 1915.

TONOPAH COMPANY ISSUING SHARES

Moving Picture Production on Large Scale Is Planned by Southern Organization.

West Tonopah Consolidated Mining company, operating claims in the Tonopah district of Nevada, has been permitted by Commissioner of Corporations H. L. Carnahan to sell 510,000 shares of its capital stock to M. R. Ward, or his assigns, for $50,000 cash, the proceeds to be used in exploring and developing the property. The stockholders of the company recently returned twenty-five per cent of their holdings to the treasury in order to make up the 510,000 shares for which the offer had been received. Ward, the purchaser, is associated with Charles M. Schwab in neighboring properties.

Rutherford Mining company is permitted to issue 2500 shares each to Wm. C. Doak and Howard A. Broughton and 1000 shares to Roscoe Jennings in exchange for a three-year lease on two mining claims of Bella Union Quicksilver company situated in Napa county, and to sell 19,000 shares to Doak and Broughton at seventy-five cents per share, to install additional plant or equipment which is needed. Plant is now in operation and producing.

Daughter of the Don, Inc., Monrovia, Cal., a company formed for the purpose of producing a moving picture of the same title, is permitted to issue 5100 shares of its common stock to Monrovia Feature Film company in exchange for the scenaria, use of studio and certain equipment, and to sell 4897 shares of preferred at par, $10 per share, all subscriptions to be taken contingent upon raising a sufficient amount to carry the project through on or before October 1. Shares are to be sold so as to net the company not less than eighty per cent of the selling price. The project is under the direction of Winfield Hogaboom and Henry Kablersko. It is to be a ten reel production.

Chase Rented Homes company, incorporated, Los Angeles, is permitted to issue 124 shares to Ralph A. Chase, 649 shares to Laura Preston Chase and two shares to Laura Mytton, in exchange for real and personal property.

Joseph Debenedetti Estate company is permitted to issue 99,988 shares to Thercsa S. Debenedetti and other heirs of the estate of the late Joseph Debenedetti, which is being probated in the courts of San Mateo county.

Mission Film company, Los Angeles, is permitted to issue thirty-six shares to William Horsley, W. W. Wheatly and R. F. Taylor at par, $100 per share, net to the company.

Unit System of Heating and Manufacturing Co., Los Angeles, is permitted to sell 23,495 shares at par, $1 per share, to net the company not less than ninety per cent of the selling price, proceeds to be employed for the purchase of property, construction of a factory and installation of machinery for manufacturing a gas furnace. The company is also permitted to issue 1000 shares to J. P. Chandler for legal services and to issue to Charles Atherton, in exchange for his invention, 500 shares upon the transfer of the invention to the company, and thereafter to issue to him one share for each share sold for money.

Oriental Cafe, Inc., Los Angeles, is permitted to issue 49,995 shares to Sing Fat company and others in exchange for the property and assets of the Oriental Cafe.

E. C. Armstrong, Sacramento, is permitted to sell 5000 shares of preferred and 15,000 shares of common at par, $1 per share, to net the company not less than ninety per cent of the selling price.

Gasoline Prices Again Advanced

Gasoline at 19 cents a gallon was a little token of esteem handed out by Standard Oil this morning. The cent advance is at once effective. With the announcement comes the news over the wires that prices have been advanced all over the east.

The advances began in earnest last November and have continued at the rate of nearly a cent a month ever since. That they are likely to continue until a much higher figure than the present has been reached, is reassuring assurance from producers today.

The rise in crude oil took place a week ago and the advance was slower than usual to follow it. It was therefore not unexpected this time. It is the fifth in five months.

About a year ago gasoline could be bought here for 11 cents a gallon. The price has doubled in that time.

Congressional investigations have no effect on the price, which has risen this time in the face of such an inquiry.

California Fruit Popular in Canada

By special order, none but California oranges were served on the dining cars of the Grand Trunk railroad on March 15, in order that the quality of oranges grown in California might be brought to the attention of the public. Large quantities of Pacific coast oranges are imported into the Kingston district, and each year the amount increases.

Importations of vegetables are made largely through commission houses at Toronto. It is possible that a good business might be developed by means of direct sales to merchants in Kingston. Sweet potatoes of hardly more than second quality are retailed on the local market at seven cents a pound. The tariff on sweet potatoes is 10 cents a bushel (60 pounds), plus the war tax of 7½ per cent ad valorem. The express rate from New York City to Kingston is $1.75 per 100 pounds. It is thought that early fruits and vegetables of all kinds will find a market at Kingston.

Australians Coming to Purchase Goods

Representatives of two important mercantile establishments in Melbourne, Australia, are seeking to extend their purchases in American products by personal visits to the United States. Mr. Sydney Myer, proprietor and manager of one of the principal drapery and department stores, as a result of letters of introduction from American Commercial Attache William C. Downs, at Melbourne, will make his headquarters at the district offices of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in the several cities that he will visit. Mr. Felix W. Lloyd, director and general manager of another establishment, a leading department store of Melbourne, dealing in all classes of men's and women's wearing apparel and fancy goods, will visit the United States in April and May, with a similar introduction to the bureau's district offices from Mr. Downs.

Steel Rail Advance Expected May First

NEW YORK, April 6.—An historic event in the steel trade, an advance of price of steel rails, is confidently expected in trade circles to take place shortly. The advance, according to a high trade authority, probably will amount to $5 a ton. The base price of rails has stood at $25 a ton for more than 15 years.

Today Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the corporation, issued a statement saying that the rail-making subsidiaries of the corporation would maintain prices until May 1, but would make no commitments beyond that date.

Japan Increasing Exports to America

According to invoices certified at the American consulates in Japan, excluding those at Taiwan and Dairen, the exports to the United States during 1915 were valued at $108,193,688, compared with $104,056,040 for the preceding year. Those to the Philippine Islands were valued at $4,411,410, against $3,700,832, and to Hawaii, $8,700,104, against $2,649,822. The principal increase was in copper ingots and slabs, the shipments amounting to $8,117,830 for 1915, compared with $1,140,918 for 1914. Other items such as maize, millet, rice, tea, beans and peas show marked increases.

Cotton Acreage Shows Increase

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Commercial has investigated the cotton situation and reports cotton acreage for 1916-17, 34,734,000, an average of $1.10 per cent increase over 1915-16, in states west of the Mississippi. Increase exceeds 11 per cent. Crop preparations are on time over practically all the belt, though Texas farmers have been held somewhat by prolonged drought, which now has been broken, and planting is now in full swing.

STOCK AND BOND EXCHANGE

Pacific Gas and Electric common rallied today from its slump of Wednesday consequent upon the recent Railroad Commission ruling. Opening at a higher price than last night's closing of 59¾, the price went to 6½ during the morning session. First preferred was up a quarter to 91¼.

Associated Oil sold at 68⅜, the fraction representing the gain over the closing price yesterday. Spring Valley Water was also a gainer of a quarter, selling at 62.

The bond market was strong and broad with the gains covering almost every bond issue traded in. S. P. R. R Company first refunding 4s sold at 93, a gain of one and three-quarters; an advance of three-eighths was scored by United Railways 4s to 42, Natomas Company of California 6s were up a half to 67½, and California Gas and Electric unifying 5s gained a quarter to 99½.

OIL AND MINING STOCKS

Belmont and Tonopah Extension, leading silver producers of Tonopah, each gained fifteen points on the San Francisco Stock Exchange this morning, the former on bids and the latter on sales. Other Tonopah stocks were up slightly, Rescue and Great Western both scoring gains.

Argo of the Oatman Arizona list went skyward on reports from the camp and during the morning reached 72 cents, which represents a gain of 22 cents from yesterday. Big Jim also advanced, selling at $1.90, five cents up. Other issues of the district were slightly higher.

The Goldfields held at about the closing prices of yesterday and the Comstocks were slightly stronger, Mexican selling at 20, a gain of two points, and Sierra Nevada two higher at 23. Caledonia, however, made the greatest gain in this list for some time, advancing six points from the close of Wednesday to 43 cents.

French Exchange Increasingly Weak

NEW YORK, April 6.—The increased weakness of exchange between New York and Paris was the cause of much comment in banking circles today. Francs on demand were quoted at 5.99¾ and cables at 5.98½, the weakest since September 1, 1915, when demand bills sold at 6.03 and cables at 6.02.

The normal rate of demand remittances before the war was 5.18½ to ¼.

Bankers professed their inability to account for the further depreciation of French rates, except on the ground that the French government probably is negotiating for further credits in this country.

STRAWBERRIES CHIEF FEATURE

Arrivals of strawberries in the local wholesale produce market this morning were heavier than yet this season and prices were lower. Fresno berries sold at $2.50 to $3; those from Florin $2 to $2.50 a crate and the Los Angeles article from $1 to $1.25 per crate. The general run is of much better quality than any yet received.

New potatoes are coming in freely and are now selling at three to four cents a pound. They are of better quality than in any spring for a long time and a good crop is expected so far as regards quality at least.

There are no changes in quotations on the heavier lines. Some efforts have been made to advance potato prices, but so far without success. These are due for a drop. Prices of citrus fruits also were to have been advanced, but such has not been the case.

Wholesale quotations are:

Veterans Will Appear at Auditorium Tonight in Roles of Historic Characters.

Veterans, in the roles of historic characters, will re-enact famous scenes from history tonight, in the great patriotic pageant at the Municipal Auditorium, to be held under the auspices of the G. A. R. and Spanish War Veterans, to bring the 1917 Encampment of the Grand Army to Oakland.

"Peace and War," an operatic pageant, will set forth the historical features of the nation's growth. There will be fully 300 people in the cast of the affair, and the combined patriotic societies of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda will actively participate in the program.

"The Appomattox Boy's Choir," a quartet of Grand Army veterans, will sing during the affair. Professional and amateur actors will be seen together in the presentation of the pageant, and a number of special features will add to the success of the big affair. Captain W. R. Thomas, William Batten, John Taylor, Peter Lock, S. E. Chapman, General Russel O'Brien, and others are among the leaders in the work of arranging the various features of the evening.

The auditorium will be lavishly decorated with flags and bunting for the occasion, and special scenery will add to the attractiveness of the spectacle. Fred Carlyle is the dramatic coach.

Rebel Forces Possess Chinese City of Swatow

AMOY, China, April 6.—Revolutionists have the city of Swatow in their possession. Business is at a standstill. The native population is reported to be panic stricken, as they fear an attack by government troops from Canton.

The American gunboat Wilmington is protecting foreign interests at Swatow. The commander of the warship and the American consul are preparing to prevent fighting in the foreign property area if an attempt is made by government troops to recapture that city. The rebel forces are well disciplined.

HELD AS EMBEZZLER.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 6.—F. A. Taylor, a furniture merchant and head of a firm bearing his name which recently went into bankruptcy, was convicted in the Circuit court late yesterday of having embezzled funds of the firm. His principal partner testified to having put $48,000 into the business, all of which had been lost.

NEWS OF OAKLAND'S THEATERS

ORPHEUM

Ciccolini, the young Italian singer, who will appear as the prominent attraction of the vaudeville bill at the Orpheum next Sunday, is what might be termed in the vernacular, "a natural born singer."

When he was a youngster his parents made preparations to send him to an engineering school, and even went so far as to enter him at the University Ragioneris in Italy. But somehow the boy had no talent for figures. He liked to sing and he determined upon an artistic career. And as "the architect of his own career," he laid the foundation for his subsequent triumphs in the field of grand opera. He fled from his home and entered the academy of St. Cecilia in Rome, in 1903, where he soon became the favorite pupil of Antonio Castogni. It was but a comparatively short time until he had learned all that the distinguished maestro could teach him and his first appearance in opera in Naples justified the confidence his teacher had reposed in him. The occasion was a signal success.

Thereafter his strides toward supremacy in the European operatic and concert world were rapid. In 1907 his debut in Bologna as Alfred, in "Traviata," caused a sensation. Since that time he has appeared at all of the leading opera houses in the world and so impressed Mme. Melba with his vocal accomplishments that she engaged him for a joint tour of Australia and England in an opera company of her own. He was one of the artists who appeared on the inaugural program at the new National opera house in Havana this year.

Last winter Ciccolini made a hurried trip to Milan, where by special engagement he created the tenor role in Wolfe-Ferrari's new opera, "I Quatro Rustighi." Later he sang the same work in Venice and received warm praise for his artistic creative abilities.

OAKLAND PHOTO

In "The Saleslady," which was presented for the first time at the Oakland Photo Theater yesterday, Hazel Dawn, the celebrated motion picture star, goes through many vicissitudes. She is a young country girl whom poverty has driven to the city in search of work. She goes to a cheap boarding house, but is soon divested of her last penny in the effort to save the life of a consumptive girl in the house.

Helen marries a wealthy young chap who is promptly disinherited by his father for wedding a shop girl. He is injured and Helen is forced to go on the stage in order to earn a living. She is successful after a time and wins high laurels. It is during her stage career that she meets a man whose influence in her later life is all-important.

As the other feature of this exceptional double bill George Eliot's immortal novel, "Silas Marner" is presented. Nearly every one knows the story of the poor English weaver, whose life was blighted early in his youth by a false accusation made against him by a supposed friend. How he was driven from his village by the taunts and jeers of his former companions and rejected by his sweetheart, who believed him guilty, and how he lived as a recluse, caring only for his gold until a child left on his doorstep become the elevating force in his unhappy life, is familiar to all of us.

MACDONOUGH

The engagement of Florence Roberts in "The Eternal Magdalene," at the Macdonough theater will conclude with a matinee and evening performance Saturday evening.

The unanimous endorsement given the play by both the press and the public is ample proof of the far-reaching effects of Robert Laughlin's efforts as a playwright.

Since its first production in New York city early in the fall, "The Eternal Magdalene" has aroused more interest and wider discussion than any other play seen this year.

Robert McLaughlin, the author of "The Eternal Magdalene" is an experienced newspaperman. Much of the material he has used in his play he gathered in the course of his newspaper work. The characters are true to life and the subject of the play, though it is as old as history, is handled from a modern viewpoint, and with its relation to present day conditions constantly in mind.

An excellent company, headed by Miss Roberts, one of America's most talented actresses, has been assembled for its presentation. Among the members are: Edmund Elton, Millard Vincent, Frances Younge, Carrington North, Percy Benton, Arthur Davis, Brian Darley, Taylor Carroll, Georgia La Roe, June Janin, Howard Smith and James B. Smith.

For the week beginning next Sunday afternoon the Macdonough theater will offer as its attraction Eugene Brieux' remarkable photo-drama "Damaged Goods" which created such a sensation on its last visit at the Macdonough.

There will be a continuous performance daily beginning at 1:30 and concluding at 11 p. m.

FRANKLIN

Some day somebody will write a book explaining how Mack Sennett's clever young men and women perform their hazardous stunts in the Keystone comedies. When the book is written it will have to devote a chapter to "The Village Vampire," now playing at the Franklin. One of the things which will be explained is how an automobile, apparently loaded down with Keystone cops, is projected unscathed through a house, knocking it to flinders, while the car goes merrily on its way. Another will set forth the technique back of another scene in this picture, wherein the pursuers drive a locomotive through a freight car, without wrecking the locomotive, but with sad results to the freight car.

Of such hair-raising tricks is this subject made. In fact, the plot gets lost periodically in the maze of stunts. So far as it can be discerned, it deals with the machinations of a band of crooks, headed by a vampire, who invade a rural community for the purpose of laying hands on the village gold mill. Anyhow, there is opportunity for typical Keystone acting by Fred Mace, Anna Luther, Billie Brockwell, and others. "A Village Vampire" is in the front rank of stunt pictures. It is filled with the absurdly comical situations for which Sennett is celebrated, and anybody is dared to find a dull moment in it.

The other feature of the bill, "Bullets and Brown Eyes," is a romantic drama of modern war, with finely conceived comedy relief, the whole being rendered pleasing and effective by good settings, stirring battle scenes and clever acting. In the last named division the chief honors go to Bessie Barriscale, who, as Countess Olga, proves conclusively that bullets are no match for brown eyes. The story is most romantic, dealing with princes and countesses and grand dukes, with daring deeds and treachery and love. It is beautifully produced, the pictures themselves being most attractive, apart from the action and excitement which fills the story.

PANTAGES

Big crowds are flocking to the Pantages this week to see one of the real old variety shows; the kind of show Tony Pastor used to give us in the old days—only better. Pastor believed in "Something for everybody." Pantages goes him one better—his motto is "Everything for Everybody"—and this week's bill at the Pantages proves the success of his motto as well as it illustrates in a striking manner how the vaudeville magnate picks his acts.

The feature of a bill of good features is the offering of Will J. Ward and his Piano Girls, wonderful singing and dancing musicians, who present one of the best acts ever staged on the vaudeville stage.

Maidie De Long, comedienne, is good for a laugh to the second. She has a rapidfire line of fun, chatter and song. Athena, the wonderful Oriental dancer, appeared in some of her greatest European novelties, including her noted "Chair Dance."

Burns and Kisen, in gay comedy, the Cavana Duo, in a striking bit of novelty, and several other notable features are seen. "The Iron Claw," thrilling mystery film play and "The Girl and the Game," are the picture features.

Next week sees a remarkable new show. "The Misery of a Hansom Cab," one of the funniest acts ever devised, will be one of the comic headliners, with Al Fields in his original comic role. Irving Cooper's production "The Boarding School Maids" will be a lavish presentation, with pretty girls galore as the big attraction. Flavilla, "Big Time" star and best known vaudeville stars on the stage, and never before has been seen on the coast save at the highest prices. She comes by special arrangement. Cooke and Rotheret, Fletcher Norton and Earl, Reed and Wood, and other features are on the bill.

HIPPODROME

The new show which the mid-week change of bill brought to the Hippodrome yesterday is full of clean and wholesome laughter, with an agreeably artistic musical number, a wonderful animal novelty and an exceptionally fine bill of moving pictures.

The Water Lions and Diving Nymphs have been retained for the balance of the week, and create the same amount of astonishment they did on their first appearance. It is easily the greatest novelty the local vaudeville stage has ever known.

William H. Lytell, who, by the way, is the father of Bert Lytell, the popular leading man of the Alcazar in San Francisco, has one of the most genuinely funny vaudeville sketches we have ever witnessed. It is called "An All Night Session," and tells of an incident "the morning after" in the lives of two mon; son-in-law and father-in-law, both afflicted with the same trouble—poker, and both resorting to a like excuse—the lodge. It is a scream from start to finish, and Mr. Lytell and his two associates get all the fun possible out of it.

The Allen Trio, two women and a man, have a very pleasing musical offering. All three have good voices that blend nicely, and they offer a well-selected program of popular and classical numbers. Lester Raymond gets the show off to a good start with a novelty juggling act, and Walter Lyons keeps the audience amused with a lot of black-face comedy and some new parodies.

A reel of pictures showing the funeral services of Berkeley's late Fire Chief Kenney is of particular local interest. House Peters in a thrilling five-reel detective story, "The Hand of Peril," and the latest installment of the Pathe Daily News complete the show.

DIVORCE FOR DESERTION.

SAN RAFAEL, April 6.—Josephine Kohler was today granted a decree of divorce from her husband, George W. Kohler, on the ground of desertion. The petition states that they were married in San Francisco in 1907.

SEEK SALE DELAY.

CLEVELAND, O., April 6.—Postponement of the sale of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad will be asked of the United States District court Friday when the road is placed on sale at auction for the seventh time. Notice was received yesterday by Receiver W. M. Duncan that attorneys representing the New York financial interests holding the mortgage bonds would ask for a continuance until May 10.

ATTEND PRIEST'S FUNERAL.

More than a hundred priests participated in the funeral of Rev. John Valentini, late pastor of St. Mary's Star of the Sea church, in Sausalito, which was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's cathedral. Rev. Raphael M. Piperni of Saints Peter and Paul's church was celebrant, assisted by Rev. Patrick E. Mulligan of St. Joseph's and Rev. John Rogers of St. Patrick's.

"Pop" Concert Feature to Be Alice Gentle

The announcement that Miss Alice Gentle, the singer who probably next to Tetrazzini, has the largest following of any songbird ever heard in the west, will be heard again in the "pop" symphony concert, which will be given at the Oakland auditorium next Sunday afternoon, has aroused the keenest interest among the music lovers of the east bay cities and a record attendance is looked for. Miss Gentle is a mezzo-soprano singer of wonderful charm and was applauded in the previous "pop" concert at which she appeared by the largest audience ever to hear a great singer in Oakland, the only audience to compare with it being that to hear Tetrazzini at the Greek Theater three years ago. Miss Gentle was grateful for the great reception she received and at that time promised Conductor Paul Steindorff that she would sing again. This is the first opportunity that she has had to make good her promise.

Miss Gentle will be heard in three great arias from the operas of "Don Carlos" by Verdi and "Le Cid" by Massenet. She will also sing the Ave Maria by Bach-Gounod. The violin obligato for this number will be played by Concert Master Emilio Merlz. In addition six big orchestral numbers will be given, including the paraphrase on Schubert's "Serenade" by Liszt-Horst, and the Slav March by Tschaikowsky.

Painters May Order 5-Day Week of Labor

Following the lead of the plasterers, who some time ago announced a plan for a five-day work week, the painters of Oakland will consider a similar plan at the next meeting of the District Council of Painters. The question to be discussed will be the establishment of a permanent five-day week.

Journeymen plasterers work five days a week during the winter months. It is proposed to make the new schedule operative after October 1.

The plasterers some time ago adopted a five-hour day as a tryout, and several other building trades unions are considering similar schedules.

Telephone Rates in Napa Satisfactory

NAPA, April 6.—At a meeting of the city council yesterday the board adopted a resolution that while citizens had made complaints against the service given here by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, the council had no special objection to make; that the present long distance rates of the company were satisfactory to the people of Napa, but that they should not be increased by the State Railroad Commission. The Railroad Commission is obtaining testimony from all cities in the state as to whether the telephone rates should be kept as at present or not.

SO DECEPTIVE

Many Oakland People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

Backache is so deceptive.

They're especially for weak or disordered kidneys.

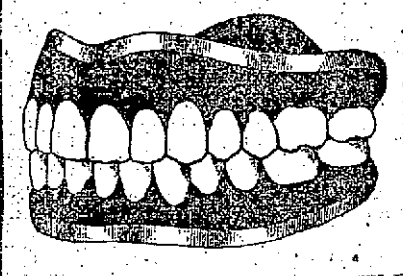

Here's an Oakland case.

Mrs. Frances Hofrichter, 3611 Hageman Ave., Fruitvale, Oakland, says: "Pain, weakness and lameness in my back caused me to suffer a great deal day and night. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused me much annoyance. My limbs swelled and all went to show that my kidneys were in a bad way. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me great relief. I highly recommend them to anyone who has weak kidneys or bladder trouble."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hofrichter had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

A HANDBAG FOR YOUR EASTER OUTFIT

As a rule black, rather than fancy colors, will prevail, so you'll be able to get some good general use out of a bag of the most fashionable type, because black goes well with almost any outfit.

Our prices range from $1.00 up to $25.00, with the greatest variety priced from $1.50 to $5.00.

In fact, at the latter figures we believe we have the finest assortment of handbags around the bay.

DON'T SUFFER WITH HEADACHES

There is no reason why anyone should suffer with occasional headaches, which are generally caused by indigestion. Frequently headaches, of course, indicate some serious trouble, in which case a physician by all means should be consulted. However, when temporary relief is occasionally required the use of our Excelsior Headache Powders will stop the pain in most cases until the real cause of the headache has been removed.

There has been a great deal of suffering from occasional headaches that is needless because people have gone to the extreme in avoiding headache powders, which in many cases are efficacious and will give relief.

Bowman's Rose Spray

SYSTEMATIC KODAKING—START THIS SEASON

Of all seasons, this is the time to take snap shots.

Suppose you commence the season systematically.

It is a generally conceded fact that our method of developing and printing enables the amateur to get clearer, sharper, better results than the average.

In fact, we receive films for development from great distances from people who claim that they cannot get as good work anywhere in the U. S.

In the second place, resolve to keep all of your pictures in an album. These albums are not expensive and are almost indispensable to the systematic preservation of prints.

What would you give for an album of 500 snap shots taken 20 years ago of yourself, your friends and environment?

READ THIS IF YOU ARE CRANKY ABOUT HAIR BRUSHES

Sometimes a dollar brush will answer the purpose as well as a $3 or $4 brush, in which case we willingly show you and recommend the more inexpensive brush.

Clerks are especially cautioned in regard to selling hair brushes. Quality is sometimes deceptive and a mistake in selection is easy for the ordinary purchaser to make. We are desirous that you know all about the real quality of any brush you buy of us, so that you may know what to expect.

In so much as we enjoy a very large patronage in brushes, we naturally carry a large variety, with the result that we can suit the fancy of almost anyone.

Probably the best line, as far as general satisfaction is concerned, is the Kent brushes, which are imported from England.

If you will explain to us your preference in reference to a brush, we should be able to fill the requirement.
